ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

EDWARD ELLIOTT.

FAIRFAX ST., OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE.

THE KINGS, or our countrymen, have paid but little attention to the dangers of the times. The men of all parties have been too busy, or too much engaged in personal concerns, to consider the necessity of a prompt and vigorous action. The President, in his message last winter, has adverted to the danger of the situation, and has called upon the people to be watchful and active. The Secretary of the Treasury, in his regular report, has stated the financial condition of the country, and has pointed out the necessity of immediate measures to meet the exigencies of the case. The Secretary of War, in his report, has given an account of the military operations of the past year, and has called attention to the deficiencies of the army. The Secretary of the Interior, in his report, has described the progress of the public works, and has recommended the measures necessary to complete them. The Secretary of the Navy, in his report, has stated the condition of the navy, and has called attention to the want of vessels. The Secretary of State, in his report, has given an account of the foreign relations of the country, and has called attention to the necessity of a friendly and just policy.

ONE DAY LETTER FROM ENGLAND.

BRIGHAM, Captain, and General Commanding the Army of the United States, has been appointed by the King of the Royal Council of the United States.

FROM THE WEST INDIES.

The French Government has been adopted by the House of Assembly of this island, and the British Newspaper, in which it is stated that the same was proposed by the majority of the citizens, and that it is the wish of the people to be united to the French Republic.

The President of the United States, in his message to Congress, has stated the condition of the country, and has called attention to the necessity of immediate measures to meet the exigencies of the case. The President has recommended the measures necessary to complete the public works, and to meet the deficiencies of the army.

The Secretary of War, in his report, has stated the condition of the army, and has called attention to the want of vessels. The Secretary of the Interior, in his report, has described the progress of the public works, and has recommended the measures necessary to complete them.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in his regular report, has stated the financial condition of the country, and has pointed out the necessity of immediate measures to meet the exigencies of the case.

The Secretary of State, in his report, has given an account of the foreign relations of the country, and has called attention to the necessity of a friendly and just policy.

The Secretary of the Navy, in his report, has stated the condition of the navy, and has called attention to the want of vessels.

The Secretary of the Interior, in his report, has described the progress of the public works, and has recommended the measures necessary to complete them.

MEXICO.

The President of the United States, in his message to Congress, has stated the condition of the country, and has called attention to the necessity of immediate measures to meet the exigencies of the case. The President has recommended the measures necessary to complete the public works, and to meet the deficiencies of the army.

The Secretary of War, in his report, has stated the condition of the army, and has called attention to the want of vessels. The Secretary of the Interior, in his report, has described the progress of the public works, and has recommended the measures necessary to complete them.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in his regular report, has stated the financial condition of the country, and has pointed out the necessity of immediate measures to meet the exigencies of the case.

The Secretary of State, in his report, has given an account of the foreign relations of the country, and has called attention to the necessity of a friendly and just policy.

The Secretary of the Navy, in his report, has stated the condition of the navy, and has called attention to the want of vessels.

The Secretary of the Interior, in his report, has described the progress of the public works, and has recommended the measures necessary to complete them.