Richmond, Va., Dec ember 6,
—The evidence in the above case, pending before the State Corporation Commission was finished today, and thereupon the question arose as to time to be allowed for earl argument and, also, as to whether counsed desired to file briefs, and after some discussion it was finally agreed to submit the case to the commission without either argument or briefs, and the commission without either about twenty minutes returned, and Judge Frentiss, chairman of the commission, delivered an oral opinion deciding all the points in the case for the Interstate Railroad company, holding in brief that an essential public convenience required that the Interstate should build its depot on the south side of Park avenue, near the depot of the Norfolk & Western, and should likewise extend its railroad through the town to a connection with the Wise Terninal, and that the property which it is seeking to take from the Norfolk & Western Railway Company for these purposes was not essential to the purposes of the Norfolk & Western Railway Company or the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Counsel for the defendants asked that the execution of the order be suspended for sixty days, in order that they might have time to appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals, and this was done. If the case is taken to the Court of Appeals, and this was done. If the case is taken to the Court of Appeals it will not be finally decided fintil next June or later. This will, of course, necessarily delay the work of building the depot, etc., as nothing can be done until after a final decision.
