

PAIGE

"The Standard of Value and Quality"

What So Good As The Glenwood "Four-36" At The Amazing New Price?

YOU know, of course, what the Glenwood is and always has been. You know its acknowledged supremacy in the motor car essentials—quality, service, beauty, distinction and sheer value.

What, then, should you think of the Glenwood NOW—the identical same "Leader of the Fours"—at a price of $200 less than the price at which it originally won its Supreme Position?

That new price is $1075!

We believe that the Paige "Six-46" at $1395 has set new standards of "Six" values. We believe that the Glenwood "Four-36" surpasses in the vital essentials any other and every other four-cylinder car on the market—regardless of price.

Take the essentials of any "Four"—never mind how much more expensive than the Paige, and compare its essentials with the Paige "Four-36." Take the motor; the Paige has the famous Paige-Motor 4x5. Take the wheelbase; the Paige Glenwood has 116 inches, a big, roomy, comfortable five-passenger car. Take the electric system; the Paige Glenwood has the unexcelled Gray & Davis lighting and starting system. Take the ignition; the Paige Glenwood has the famous Bosch magneto. Take the carburetion, the clutch and the lubrication; the Paige Glenwood has the Stewart carburetor, the multiple disc cork-insert clutch and the combination force-feed and constant-level splash lubrication and the silent chain drive. Take the comparative cost of maintenance and operation. The Paige, because of its excellence of mechanical design and construction and materials, has put owner's maintenance and operative costs at the minimum.

What, then, so good, so substantial and so economical as the Glenwood "Four-36" at $1075?

Come and see these two epoch-making cars—the Glenwood and the Paige "Six-46," the latter at $1395.

THEATRICAL

The patrons of the Amazin were presented the last three days of last week with vaudeville, featuring Lew Hamilton in his famous barrel act.

He was exceptionally good both the first and third nights, and very good the second night. The balance of the show was very good the first and third nights, but they put up a rather punk proposition the second night. However, don't blame the manager, who is doing his best to steer off from productions which contain off sets and look upon the real good act of the performance as in the case of this show, the one act in itself was worth the price, but the feature of it was somewhat shadowed by the balance of the show. The musical comedy booked for the last three nights of this week comes highly recommended. It will be given in addition to the regular picture program and should not be missed by anyone who likes an evening of good, wholesome, clean enjoyment. The feature pictures are becoming more interesting each week. The players in both the Million Dollar Mystery and The Perils of Pauline show in a marked degree their mastery of the art of the silent drama. There are many things necessary to the success of a feature picture, and the majority of them will be found in these two. Each is a masterpiece, the supreme of the photoplay manufacturer's art. All over this great country of ours, the interest in both the pleasure and educational value of the motion picture is being heralded from the smallest thinking child on up to our honorable Secretary of State. To quote the great Commissioner in his letter to one of the leading film manufacturers said in regard to a feature picture: "I am a believer in the educational value of the moving picture, and this is the finest sample I have seen, both from the standpoint of the moral impression made."

No more do you see the immoral and obscene pictures on the screens at the motion picture theatres, but pictures which are not only beneficial to young and old from an educational standpoint but also from a standpoint of enjoyment. Besides the above two great features of the motion picture, the press, God-fearing and God-fearing public, clergyman, men of letters and science, men high in public life, authors, writers, thinkers and philosophers join in their praise of the achievement of the motion picture house as a great moral asset, on account of the heavy inroads it is making in the larger cities in the way of bringing together again families who have been long separated by that greatest of barriers, the saloon, and once a thing is found which will make a man leave his life of drunkenness and spend his spare hours with his wife and children the start is made by which the good wife can soon lead him into the straight and narrow path to which it would be impossible to make him turn by sermons or argument, no matter how strong.

Simon A. Slaughter.

From apoplexy, with which he was stricken on the street last Thursday Simon A. Slaughter, for fifty years a merchant tailor in Louisville, died at 11:10 o'clock last night at the residence of his cousin, Mrs. Joseph E. Meyers, 110 East Burnett Avenue. He was unconscious since Saturday.

Mr. Slaughter was a native of Germany and sixty-four years old. He settled in Louisville when fourteen years old. During his residence here he lived at the home of his cousin and Mr. Meyers. He engaged in the tailoring business almost immediately after arriving in the city. His establishment, the S. A. Slaughter & Company, is at 130 South Fourth Street. As a Mason Mr. Slaughter was prominent. He belonged to St. George Lodge and held all offices in it, retiring as a past master several years ago. He retained the office of treasurer of the lodge for many years and continued to serve in that post until his death. For several years he was on the board of directors of Temple Adath Israel and always took an active interest in the affairs of the congregation. He was a member of B'nai B'rith Lodge.

No immediate relatives in the United States were left by Mr. Slaughter, his closest kin here being cousins. A brother or uncle sister in Germany survive him. Funeral services will be conducted by the Masons and burial will be in Adath Israel cemetery—Louisville Post.

Miss Mabel Johnson Entertains.

On last Saturday evening Miss Mabel Johnson entertained a number of friends in honor of Miss Ethel Wampler, of Crochet, Va. The features of the evening were some splendid stories by Mr. Johnson, a number of songs by Misses Wampler and Johnson and instrumental selections by Prof. Wampler and John E. Ponce. And last but not least was a course of the most delightful "outs" consisting of dainty sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad with whipped cream, cake, candies and lucious apples. Miss Mabel knows how to make her friends happy, and in doing so is happy herself.—Wise Virginian.

Miss Mabel is well known in the Gap where she has frequently visited her cousin, Mrs. Robt. D. Morrison.

HEALTH ALMANAC READY.

Annual Digest of Rules of Good Health Can be Had by Public upon Request.

Richmond, Va., March 5.—The Virginia Health Almanac, the State's annual digest of the rules of good health, has been received from the printer and is being distributed.

In addition to the usual astronomical data, sun rise and sun set, calendar and phases of the moon, the almanac contains warnings for the protection of health for each month, with special directions on many important points.

A new feature of this year's almanac is a summary of "first aid" maxims in case of injury. These explain what can and should be done before the arrival of a physician, how the patient can be made comfortable, how bleeding can be stopped, etc. Directions for the care of infants in summer are also published.

The Virginia Health almanac, which was the first of its kind published in the United States now has its rivals in North Carolina, Kansas, Mississippi, Texas and New York and is regarded by health authorities as one of the most useful publications issued by the State.

Owing to the expense of the issue, only 45,000 copies of the Almanac have been printed, bound in substantial colored covers and supplied with strings so that they may be hung in the chimney-corner, the sanctuary of the old-fashioned almanac. Copies will be sent to persons requesting them as long as the edition suffices.

For Mrs. Shelton.

The Norfolk (Va.) Ledger Dispatch says: Mr. Harry O. Nichols will be host at a well arranged dinner this evening at the Country Club, in honor of Mrs. H. H. Shelton, of Bristol, Tenn., who is the guest of his mother, Mrs. R. D. Nichols, at her home on West Raleigh avenue. The table will be prettily decorated with a centerpiece of red carnations and the candles will be shaded in red. Covers will be laid for eight, and Mrs. Nichols' guests will include: Mrs.

Nervous?

Mrs. Walter Vincent, of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers I suffered from nervousness, dreadful pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entirely. I feel like another person, now."

TAKE Cardui The Woman's Tonic

For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping to relieve women's unnecessary pains and building weak women up to health and strength. It will do the same for you, if given a fair trial. So, don't wait, but begin taking Cardui today, for its use cannot harm you, and should surely do you good. E-72

H. H. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Garland P. Peed, Misses Helen Goran, Helen Nichols, Herman Furr and Vincent Parker.

Mr. Nichols is a brother of Mrs. L. B. Montague, who lives here in the Gap. Both Mrs. Shelton and one of the guests, Miss Helen Nichols, are known to a large number of people here. Miss Nichols having spent several weeks here visiting her sister, Mrs. Montague, last summer.
