Golf Tournament.

The golf tournament for 1915, which had been on for several weeks, was finished last week. The members played a qualifying round some weeks ago to determine who would be put in the first and second flights, respectively. The following won for the first flight, namely, J. F. Bullitt, R. D. Baker, Paul Horne, Dr. Karl Stoehr, H. E. Fox, E. Drennon, M. H. Graber, and Jas. W. Gaut.

The following won for the second flight, namely, H. L. Cummings, H. L. Miller, Jr., C. L. Wade, R. L. Parks, G. L. Taylor, A. L. Holton, B. E. Rhoads, Jno. W. Chalkley. In the first flight H. E. Fox and J. F. Bullitt finally won out for the finals, and George L. Taylor and R. L. Parks won out for the finals in the second flight. In the finals Fox beat Bullitt and Taylor beat Parks.

The finals between Fox and Bullitt were very close and exciting, and ended with quite a spectacular finish. The rules provided for a game of thirty-six holes. On the first eighteen holes they were tied. In the last round of eighteen Bullitt led all the way by from one to three strokes until near the end, but they crossed the river, the thirty-fourth hole, even. On the thirty-fifth hole Fox made a fluke and drove into the pond and Bullitt won, making him one up. On the thirty-sixth and last hole Bullitt made a fluke on his second, and Fox won by a four to five, again tying the score. On the thirty-seventh hole Bullitt on his drive was stymied behind a large electric light pole. He tried to play over with his masher but failed, and his ball landed a few feet from and immediately behind the telegraph pole. Fox made a beautiful second and landed on the green about six feet from the hole. Bullitt on his third made a cut shot around the telegraph pole and landed within about twenty-five feet from the hole. By all the chances of the game, Fox was now regarded as a sure winner, but Bullitt put for the hole, and as luck would have it, went in. It was then up to Fox. If he went in, he was winner. If not, they would again be tied and would have to go on to the next hole. There was quite a crowd of fans following, and the excitement was intense. Fox, however, seemed to be the coolest of the bunch, and from the result he must have been, though his wife says he has been a nervous wreck ever since. He put, and his ball after hesitating on the lip of the cup finally rolled in. He was congratulated on all sides as winner of one of the hardest played games ever witnessed on this course.

Play for the championship cup was commenced in 1911. In 1912 it was won by Bullitt, but in all the other years, 1911, 1913, 1914 and 1915, Fox has been the winner. He and Bullitt are the oldest men in the Club. What is the matter with the boys? And who of them will now dare contend that men of sixty ought to be Oelzerized!

Senior Class Entertained. Miss Lillian Head entertained the Senior Class of the High School, of which she is a member, Saturday night from 8:30 to 12 o'clock with a Halloween party.

The house was tastefully decorated suggestive of Halloween. A number of Halloween games were played, after which chicken salad, sandwiches, olives, grape punch, cake, apples, chestnuts and candy were also passed during the evening.

The favors for the class were little Halloween symbols. The members of the class are: Misses Mary Gilly, Matt Nickels, Gladys Lile, Enla Tackett, Myra Cawood, Janie Thompson, Dorothy Tackett, Nety Willis, Eunice Darnell, Lillian Head, Amanda Read, Hattie Johnson, Alma Flanary, Luana Marrs, Musses, Lester Jesse, Bill Baker, Peter Wolfe, Morgan Burchette, Sidney Mullins, Oliver Swan, Paul Wolfe, John Graham.

Mrs. D. L. Jesse and J. E. Jesse, of Dryden, spent Sunday in the Gap.

'Cured' Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: 'For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me.' TAKE Cardui The Woman's Tonic. Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women, - why not you? Try Cardui. E-71

Miss Eleanor Cowan, of Bristol, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Lettwell. Mrs. Sidney Miller left Saturday morning for Bristol, after a week's visit to Mrs. E. L. Colver.

On Tuesday evening Miss McManis, of Keyser, W. Va., gave 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Caberger Patch' at the school building. Only a small crowd present, but they enjoyed a rare treat.

On Friday afternoon Patrons Day Exercises in connection with the Civic League were held at the school auditorium. The program was interesting and the children's work was good. Interesting and instructive papers were read by Miss Burgen, Mrs. Mouser and Prof. Sulfridge.

Miss Payne, of Stonoga, spent Saturday with Miss Carrier. Miss Henderson was called to her home, Dry Fork, Va., Saturday morning by the death of her uncle.

R. W. Dillon, of Castlewood, spent the week-end with J. W. Brimberton. Friday evening in the school auditorium 'Tom Thumb Wedding' gotten up by Miss Matthews for the benefit of the Methodist Church, was given by sixty children. A good crowd was present, and the little folks did well.

Miss Grady Lee Johnson entertained a number of her friends Saturday evening at a Halloween party.

Miss Margaret Carnes Entertains. Miss Margaret Carnes entertained very delightfully Halloween at her home in honor of her cousin, Mrs. M. H. Musser, of Abingdon.

The decorations were very appropriate and suggestive of the occasion. A very enjoyable contest was engaged in, after which came the bobbing for the apple, which was suspended on a string from the ceiling. Rueben Banks was the only successful one in biting the apple, which he won. Later in the evening delicious salmon salad, potato chips, pickles, olives, stuffed dates, confection sandwiches, hot chocolate and white cake, followed by pumpkin pie, grapes, apples and bananas, was served.

Those who were present were: Misses Gladys, Myrtle, Grace and Lillian Wolfe, Thelma and Mary Baker, Nettie Willis, Mary Skeen, Edna Catron, Corrie Long, Hannah McConall, Matt and Kate Brown, Mary and Margaret Carnes, Mrs. Ed Taylor and Mrs. M. H. Musser, Messrs. Robert Ingie, James Johnston, Earl Willis, Will Wolfe, W. D. Fuller, Pearl Smith, Martin and Hugh Carnes, Simon and Rueben Banks.

Taffy Pulling.

A number of young girls met at the home of Miss Nina Johnson, Saturday night, where they had a very enjoyable taffy stew.

Those in the party were: Misses Nolle Marrs, Edith Ballard, Margaret Barron, Frances Long, Elizabeth Sprinkle and Nina Johnson.

Halloween Party For Miss Adelaide Pettit.

Miss Jule Bullitt was the lovely hostess of a beautifully planned Masquerade Halloween Party for the younger boys and girls at her home on Poplar Hill in honor of Miss Adelaide Pettit, Saturday night at eight o'clock.

The whole lower floor of the home was a miniature forest, the floor being covered with autumn leaves, under which were hidden chestnuts. In one corner of the hall, shining behind the trees, was a big autumn moon, which made a very attractive setting for the young people.

Each guest was masked and represented different characters. The honoree, Miss Adelaide Pettit, represented Queen Elizabeth. Miss Eleanor Baker guessed correctly the masked guests and won the prize, a box of candy.

A ghost, which was Miss Jess McCormick, ushered the guests to the Hall of Mystery, where, at the end in a regular den, was a witch, who told their fortunes.

After many other interesting games they were invited into the dining room, which was beautifully decorated in the Halloween Colors of orange and black, the centerpiece of the table being a large bowl of fruit. Attractive place cards assigned the guests to their places at the table where Pumpkin Pie, Orange Sherbet and Cake were served.

Those who were invited to attend this very delightful affair were: Misses Adelaide Pettit and Kate Lewis Pettit, Helen McCormick, Bruce Skoon, Dorothy Owens, Betty Reader, Eleanor Baker, Nita Goodloe, Mary Elizabeth Kelly, Clara McCormick, Louise Horsely, Roland Wells, Juliet Knight, Margaret Barron, William Gordon, Edward, Tom and George Goodloe, Isaac Martin, Junior McCormick, Clifford and Reginald Smith, William Beverly, Frank Parks, Rufus Pettit.

A BARGAIN.

County Election

The election for county of fices was held in Wise County on Tuesday, and so far as we have been able to learn everything passed off quietly, though the various candidates and their friends did their very best to land the coveted positions. It was about four o'clock this morning before the final count was completed at some of the precincts, owing to the length of the ballot to be counted. With only two or three small precincts to hear from, which will not materially change the result, the following candidates were elected by the following majorities:

W. B. Addington, for sheriff, by a majority of 949. R. W. Holly, for treasurer, by a majority of 335. C. R. McCormick, for commonwealth's attorney, by a majority of 441.

W. C. Stewart, for commissioner of the revenue for the Western District, by a majority of 893. Chas. E. Bevins, for commissioner of the revenue for the Eastern District, by a majority of 626.

W. H. Roberts, for representative, by a majority of 689. E. J. Prescott, for supervisor for the Richmond Magisterial District, by a majority of 44. This was the closest contest in the county.

Dr. Culbertson was elected supervisor in the Robinson District, C. E. Kilgore in the Lips District, and H. E. Hyatt in the Gladeville District.

John M. Goodloe, candidate for state senator, will carry Wise county by a majority of about 1078, Lee county by a majority of about 250 and Scott county by a majority of about 300.

We have received very little news from Lee County up to the time of going to press, in regard to the various county officers, except that the race between Mr. Kincaid and Mr. Goldiron, for representative, is very close, and that the winner will probably not have a majority exceeding 50.

Mrs. J. W. Kelly and little daughter Margaret spent last Wednesday with relatives at Wise.

Miss Elizabeth Boechering is spending a few days in town this week at the home of Capt. J. F. Bullitt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. VanGorder and daughters, Misses Nell, Edith and Ethel, motored to Middleboro Friday afternoon and spent a few days with relatives.

Henry McCormick and Creed Kelly, who are attending school at Washington and Lee University, came home Tuesday to cast their vote in the election.

J. W. Rush spent a few days in the Gap this week enroute to Raleigh, N. C., where he will make headquarters for two months.

Henderson Horsely, who is attending school at V. P. L., spent a few days with home folks in the Gap this week.

Miss Irene Hunt, of Appalachia, spent Sunday in the Gap, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Carnes.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubala says: 'I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for my children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it.'

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarse-ness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.
