For Governor—WESTMORELAND DAVIS
OF LOUDOUN COUNTY

Recently an appeal to the people of Virginia was made by the neighbors and fellow countrymen of Westmoreland Davis to make him the nominee for Governor of Virginia in the Democratic primary, August 1917. This splendid tribute is as unique in political life as it is strong and convincing.

Hear What His Neighbors Say:

"We, the undersigned, residents and voters of Loudoun county, Virginia, hereby signify our desire to become members of a political club to be known as the Westmoreland Davis Club, with branches in various localities in this county, and if deemed advisable throughout the State."
"We recognize that an advanced agriculture is the concomitant of an advanced civilization; that the State of Virginia has its agriculture the basis of its greatest future development; that the main next step is for our Chief Executive should be a farmer."
"The purpose of this Club is to present to the people of Virginia, Westmoreland Davis, as our candidate for Governor of Virginia at the Democratic primary, to be held in August 1917."
"Westmoreland Davis is a practical farmer; he has given largely of his time and means to the advancement, as well as defense of the interests of his fellow farmers; he is a public spirited citizen of high character and attainments; he has large experience in business and agricultural matters; he is close to the people, and his earnest and never failing loyalty to the Democratic party is well known to us all."

"We are persuaded that his administration of the affairs of the State will be characterized by honesty of purpose and high ideals, and that under his leadership and inspiration, Virginia will enter upon a period of progress and prosperity in which both city and country will alike participate."
"We submit that northern Virginia is in all respects entitled to the next Democratic nomination for Governorship of Virginia. The claims of her distinguished citizens to the honor have been too long overlooked."
"As neighbors and fellow countrymen, we commend Westmoreland Davis to the people of Virginia, and bespeak for him their support in his candidacy for the next Democratic gubernatorial nomination."
