

JOB PRINTING

Don't think you are getting REAL job printing just because you are having your work done at a "printing office." Investigate and learn for yourself that there is a vast difference between real job printing and "just printing." We are prepared to do

REAL PRINTING

Not only because we have the equipment, but because we possess the "know how." Our long experience and knowledge in the printing business enables us to handle job printing on a saving basis. We will share this saving with you and will guarantee every piece of work turned out in our plant. Will you bring that next job to us and have it done right? No long waiting for the finished product. We do things "Now."

Mrs. Robert Barrowman and young daughters, Elizabeth and Martin, left Sunday morning for Norton, where they left over the N. & W. railroad for Peterstown, W. Va., for a visit with their cousin, Mrs. Miles Simpkins and family. Miss Christina Barrowman accompanied them as far as Banner where she spent Sunday with friends.

Talmage Counts, who is now working as telegrapher in Bristol, visited his family here Saturday and Sunday.

Great excitement and joy was experienced among our towns people here when news came of the successes of the American troops in France of recent date.

Mrs. J. P. Hendricks received a message from her sister, Mrs. Roland L. Kite, in Roanoke Friday saying her husband had met with a serious accident in which his leg was badly crushed and was awaiting the decision of the physicians at Lewis-Gale Hospital as to whether amputation would be necessary. Mrs. Kite and young son have visited Mrs. Hendricks here and at Big Stone Gap several times.

Word was received here a few days ago from Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Amburgey and Mrs. Claude Watts, of Norton, parents and sister of Mrs. T. Counts, of this place, telling of their trip to New York city. They were then at the new Strand Hotel and sent photos of the city's most splendid buildings. Among them was the Hippodrome, which is one of New York's largest show houses, and also one of the Hotel McAlpin, quite a magnificent sky scraper. Mr. and Mrs. Amburgey went to New York to visit their son, Clarence, in camp at Long Island.

Mrs. J. P. Hendricks entertained at dinner Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hendricks, of Graham, and Mrs. George Banner, of Lebanon. Mrs. Banner was formerly Miss Anna Kerr Tompkins, of Bristol, and is well known here, having lived with her parents in Appalachia for several years. Mr. Banner is with the colors, having sailed several days ago for France.

Ed Body, of Big Stone Gap, has accepted a position as machinist at the Southern shops here. Mr. Body has gained quite a reputation as a workman in this section.

There was an auction sale of one hundred lots in Blondell addition here last Friday, prices ranging from $100 to $400 per lot.

Two of the steel cells for Appalachia's new jail have arrived and been placed on the concrete foundation. Two more cells are yet to come, after which the building, a fire proof structure, will be completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. B. Hendriks, who have been visiting their son, J. P. Hendricks and family, have returned to their home at Graham.

Woman From Georgia Talks

MRS. COLLIER'S TROUBLES WERE ALMOST UN-BEARABLE

WELL AND STRONG AND GAINED 15 POUNDS

"I Wouldn't Take Anything You Could Offer for the Good Tanlac Did Me."

"I'm well and strong today and fifteen pounds heavier than I was when I began taking Tanlac a few weeks ago," said Mrs. Leha Collier, 1340 Myers St., Augusta, Ga., some time ago. "For two years I had indigestion in the worst form and could eat nothing without suffering dreadfully afterwards. Food would form gas in my stomach and swell me up until I could hardly breathe. The pains it caused in my chest and stomach were almost more than I could bear. No one seemed to know what was the matter with me, and no treatment gave me any relief. "I wouldn't take anything you could offer for the good Tanlac has done me! The improvement it has made in me is wonderful. I can eat anything I want and enjoy it, my stomach is in splendid condition, the pains are all gone from my chest and stomach, and I feel like a new woman out and out!"

The genuine Tanlac is sold in Big Stone Gap by the Mutual Pharmacy, and also by the following agents in nearby towns: Old Dominion Drug Company, Appalachia, and E. C. Blair, Olinger.—Adv.

Hold Your Liberty Bonds

To successfully finance the war it is necessary that owners of Liberty bonds hold their bonds if possible. Where for any good reason it is necessary for them to turn their bonds into cash they should seek the advice of their bankers.

Liberty loan bonds are very desirable investments, and crafty individuals are using various means to secure them from owners not familiar with stock values and like matters. One method is to offer to exchange for Liberty bonds stocks and bonds of doubtful organizations represented as returning a much higher income than the bonds.

There are various other methods used and likely to be used, some of the gold brick variety and others less crude and probably within the limits of the law. All offers for Liberty bonds except for money and at market value should be scrutinized carefully. The bonds are the safest of investments and have nontaxable and other valuable features.

To hold your Liberty loan bonds, if possible, is patriotic. To consult your bankers before selling them is wise.

ALL CAN HELP TO FREE ALL PEOPLE

Each Virginian, Rich and Poor, Must Realize That Former Can Do More, While Every Mite from Latter Assists Army To Victory.

A year has gone by and the change in the United States from a peace loving nation to a mighty war machine is not yet complete. Although the country has done much, a great amount remains to be accomplished and the glory of it all is that everybody can help bring freedom and democracy to the entire world.

People must not make the mistake of thinking that their mites will not help. The rich must not think that they have done their share; they must do more. The poor must not think that their pounds will not help; they will. All Virginians, it is now believed certain, realize that each and everyone must do their share and bear their part of the burden, just as must every true American, if the United States is to do her part and help the Allies to victory over the autocratic Prussian.

A little pleasure denied, and the money saved loaned to the Government, which pays 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly, will help make millions of others free, allowing them and their children for centuries to come to enjoy the Liberty which has been the privilege of every American. You can share in the glory if you will invest your savings in War Savings Stamps.

—W. S. S.—

A Word From Baker.

New enterprises which are not fundamental to the efficient operation of the country's activities should not be undertaken. This will not result adversely upon business or conditions of employment because every man and every resource will be needed during the war. All effort should be centered to help with the war.

NEWTON D. BAKER,

Secretary of War.

—W. S. S.—

Let Uncle Sam do the spending now; you spend later. Buy War Savings Stamps and save.

—W. S. S.—

The ability of the Americans to save is a measure of their patriotism and the ability to win the war. Save and buy War Savings Stamps.

—W. S. S.—

Every dollar loaned the Government helps save the lives of your boys at the front. Buy War Savings Stamps.

—W. S. S.—

One War Savings Stamp will feed a soldier or a sailor for a week or buy gas for an hour's flight in an aeroplane.

—W. S. S.—

Instead of squandering your money in foolish non-essentials, send it "over the top" with Fraying. Buy War Savings Stamps.

—W. S. S.—

This world a prison house would be, And not "safe for democracy." If the Kaiser's rule prevailed.

The ocean full of wrecks would be, And private kings would rule the sea, If the submarine still sails.

The so-called culture of the Hun, Surpasses all the Devil's doings, And his very nature vile.

Our race of men and women fair, Would live as vassals in despair, If the fight for freedom fails.

God sent His Son to make us free, That mankind virtuous might be, And His strong arm prevail.

Awake, Freeman! Awake, Awake! And make the German nation quake, Until their glory pales.

Buy largely of War Savings Stamps, And store them with the Kaiser's camps, To help our boys in battle.

—W. S. S.—

During the three-pounds-per-month-per-person sugar limitation, do not complain if your coffee is not sweet enough. The French are allowed but thirteen pounds of sugar per year per person, the Italians only nine pounds,—if they can get it. The price of sugar in France is twenty-five cents, in Italy sixty cents a pound.

RESULTS OF ONE YEAR'S CONSERVATION AND NECESSITY OF CONTINUING OUR PROGRAM.

When the United States Food Administration undertook the work of conserving and mobilizing America's food resources, three methods of approach to the problem were possible. The methods of control were: Rationing, high prices and voluntary effort. The introduction of rationing into this country would have resulted in an inevitable reaction. On the basis of the rationing system adopted by European countries for certain staple foods, it would demand $4,500,000,000 a year for the printing of the necessary ration cards; it would take one official for every 1,000 families to take care of distribution under this system. In fact, on the European basis, about $45,000,000 a year would be required to administer the rationing system in this country. Control of consumption by high prices was too unfair to merit consideration in such a country as ours, meaning, as it would, conservation for the rich at the expense of the poor. The voluntary system based upon education and publicity was selected because of the moderate expense involved and the opportunity it offered to use the great desire of loyal Americans to serve their country.

The results of the voluntary control of food have been enormous. The surplus of the 1917-18 wheat crop based on normal consumption would have been 20,000,000 bushels. If the present rate of saving by the American people continues, we shall be able to deliver to our Allies from this crop possibly 170,000,000 bushels of wheat, 150,000,000 bushels of which will represent the voluntary saving of the American people. This delivery of wheat has enabled the Allies to meet the more immediate and pressing bread needs of their people and to keep up the bread ration of their soldiers.

As to our exports of meat, the results of conservation are even more remarkable. The analysis of figures in regard to hogs indicates that we were 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 hogs short when the conservation campaign was started. Before the war, the average monthly export of hog products was about 50,000,000 pounds. In March, 1918, we exported 300,000,000 pounds and can see why we were clear with the present saving and production, to go forward at this rate for an indefinite period. Before 1914 we were exporting from 1,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of beef per month. After the European war began there was an increase to about 23,000,000 pounds per month. Now we are exporting at the rate of 130,000,000 pounds of beef per month and, with the continuation of conservation of production, there is no reason to anticipate a material reduction in these figures.

The winning of the war depends upon the development of great offensive strength on the part of the United States. This offensive must include ships, men, supplies and food. With the increase in the size of our Army, there is a necessary decrease in our productive capacity. Harvests are bound to vary with seasonal conditions. The only safe procedure for us and for the Allies is to provide enormous reserve stocks of staple foods, both here and in Europe, to meet any emergency which may arise in a later period of the war, to have to step in a critical phase of it in order to put unusual emphasis upon agricultural production, might be fatal to our final success. There must be no letdown in the program of conservation until the new harvest.

CONSUMPTION OF PERISHABLE FOODS.

The Food Administration urges the greatest possible use of fresh perishable food products. Consumers must not forget that the use of these foods liberates for use more concentrated foods.

Home gardens will cause surpluses in many sections and the desirability and healthfulness of vegetables and fruits as food, should stimulate consumption and insure these perishable products from spoilage. It is held to be absolutely unwarranted to use canned goods when fresh products are available. Enormous stocks of canned goods must be stored up for our soldiers and Allies, and every one using perishables will help to conserve these goods.

DEHYDRATION OF POTATOES IN GERMANY.

Before the war, Germany was drying over 800,000,000 bushels of potatoes. That is double the average production of the United States. Some of this product was fed to live stock, but large quantities of it were ground into flour for human consumption. Prior to the war, Germany had about 450 drying plants for fruits and vegetables, while on June 30, 1917, she was reported to have 3,670 dehydration plants.

W. S. S. Sales.

Receipts of $16,431,933, July 9, from war savings and thrift stamp sales were the largest of any single day since these securities were offered to the public. Sales during the first nine days of July totaled $46,552,529.

If the world would have absolute proof of the deep duplicity of the German nation it can be found in the statement from high German authority, that that nation instead of numbering sixty millions of people, as given out at the opening of the war, in reality numbered ninety millions. There can be no doubt that for years past, Germany's census returns have been deliberately falsified. There could have been but one object in this—deceiving the world as to her true strength. The allied world knows now, however, that it is fighting a monster of gigantic proportions, and is making its preparations accordingly.

President Wilson says: "The practice of individual thrift is a patriotic duty and a necessity."

Women!
