An open mind is a stepping stone to an open heart, but not always to an open pocketbook.

Family jars may not be so bad after all. They keep neighboring minds from becoming stagnant.

Don't get the mistaken idea that you know it all. You never know what your neighbor really thinks of you.

These are the days when we hear very little about self made men. Most of them prefer to keep their early obscurity under cover.

If this unemployment keeps up in the big cities it will have at least one notable effect. We won't have to do so much editorial howling over the scarcity of farm labor.

If the federal treasury has hundreds of millions of dollars available for lending to pauperized European governments it would seem that this same money should be available for the construction of good roads in this country.

Miss Georgia Satterfield Weds in Norton

Miss Georgia Satterfield of Abingdon, who has been making her home in the Gap near Blue Springs with her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Smith, for a few months was quietly married at Norton at the Methodist parsonage Monday afternoon to Mr. Adolphus P. Lipford of Richlands, Va., in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

The bride is well known in the Gap and has a large circle of friends. She is a graduate of Martha Washington College at Abingdon and taught in the public schools a number of sessions. She taught at Richlands one year where the romance which culminated in their marriage was begun.

accessories and carried a large shower bouquet of bride's roses. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lipford left on the N. & W. for an extensive bridal trip after which they will return to Richlands where they will make their home.

Fined for Shooting on Highway

A shot fired from an automobile parked by the roadside on top of Powell's Mountain barely missed the car of W. L. Jones, of Big Stone Gap, who together with his wife and her aunt, Miss Nannie Hamilton were returning to the Gap from a drive to Norton on Sunday afternoon. The license number of this car and another parked nearby were taken by Mr. Jones and he hurried to town and notified Chief Belcher of the occurrence. The numbers were phoned to the police at Norton and Appalachia and in a few hours a car was stopped at Appalachia corresponding with the number from which the shot was fired, and owner, Mack Stapleton, was placed under arrest. Stapleton said he did not shoot but someone in the back seat of his car did.

All occupants of the car were apprehended and brought to Big Stone Gap Monday morning for a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. N. Breeding. Clarence Campbell, of Roda, confessed to the charge of shooting but stated he did not know another car was passing. Campbell was fined $50 and given thirty days in jail.

Harmon-Collier.

Paul L. Harmon, a former electrician for the Old Dominion Tannery, and Miss Mary Lee Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Collier, were married at the home of Mrs. L. V. Stacy on Tuesday afternoon, February 22nd, Rev. J. M. Smith officiating. They left on the afternoon train over the Southern for a visit with the groom's parents in Old Fort, N. C.

Theatrical.

Tod Browning's original drama of the underworld, "Outside the Law," comes to the Amuzu Theatre Thursday with Priscilla Dean in the stellar role. Lon Chaney, Wheeler Oakman, E. A. Warren, Ralph Lewis, Melbourne MacDowell, Wilton Taylor and a new child actor, Stanley Goethals are in the cast.

Browning produced his story as a Universal Jewel feature at a cost running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, and the completed picture is said to give ample evidence of the expenditure, by the beauty and lavishness of its production. The locale is San Francisco, and several blocks of the Bay City's underworld were reproduced at Universal City at a cost of $90,000. An apartment house on Knob Hill, the modern palace of a banker, and the splendid oriental intricacies of the rear and second floor of a bazaar are some of the more extensive settings.

The story of "Outside the Law" concerns the struggles of a little group of crooks to free themselves from the shackles of crime and live the life they desire. In this they are thwarted and double crossed by an evil and revengeful figure of the half world, who resents the respectability. In the background, and yet the dominant personality of this drama is an old heathen philosopher, whose ideas of right and wrong are based on no political statutes, and who metes out an unsentimented justice "outside the law."

Priscilla Dean is said to be at her dramatic best in this, her first picture since "The Virgin of Stamboul," while Lon Chaney has a dual role which outshines anything in his career of distinctive and difficult screen impersonations.—adv.
