The article from the Staunton Spectator and General Advertiser, dated Tuesday, July 3, 1866, contains various topics including political news, personal property for sale, and announcements. The content includes articles on the lives of men such as Mr. Samuel Jeffrey, Mr. Samuel Jeffrey Jr., and Mr. Benjamin Logan. It also mentions the death of Mr. T. T. Martin and the election of Mr. W. E. Davis. The newspaper also contains advertisements for new drug firms, personal property for sale, and political news. The text is a reflection of the political climate of the time, with mentions of the Whig and Democratic parties and references to the slavery debate.