SAVE YOURSELF AND OTHERS

Influenza Causing Heavy Toll of Life is Spread by Secretions From Nose and Mouth—Advice on Its Prevention.

The serious shortage of physicians and trained nurses in Virginia, and the inability of many families to secure medical and nursing care make it imperative that the nature of influenza and the methods of prevention as well as the home care of the sick should be generally understood. The State Board of Health, therefore, is undertaking by every means possible to furnish this important information.

Preventive Measures.
Avoid crowds, common drinking cups and putting into the mouth fingers or other objects recently soiled by the secretions of the mouth. Insist that everybody cover the mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing. Wear a gauze mask over the mouth and nose when attending the sick, or on necessary visits to them. Keep houses and offices freely ventilated, and keep your body resistance at its best by regular meals and abundant rest.

Symptoms of Influenza.
Sudden onset, usually in from 12 to 48 hours after exposure, characterized by chill or chilly sensation, rise of temperature, slight sore throat, stuffiness about the head, aching, and marked weakness.

Care of Sick.
Average cases require little drug treatment. Quiet in bed, a laxative, liquid nourishment and an abundance of water are essentials. Cases showing shortness of breath, painful cough and pinkish sputum should be seen by a physician.

Precautions For Patient.
Use strong drugs only when prescribed by a conscientious physician. Aspirin and other pain relieving drugs are valuable in the early stages, but only to relieve pain. If used promiscuously or too long they are harmful. Deaths are likely to occur from the unwise use of such drugs. Influenza is characterized by marked poisoning which weakens the heart muscle. It is, therefore, of great importance that the patient remain quietly in bed long enough for the heart and other vital organs to have recovered from the effect of this poison. This means from two to six days, according to the severity of the attack. The importance of this precaution cannot be over-emphasized.

The rate of postage on these boxes is fifteen cents for the three lbs. J. W. CHAPMAN, Chairman, Red Cross.

REMAINS OF MRS. R. R. HENRY

The remains of Mrs. R. R. Henry, who died at the home of her son, Randolph Henry, in Roanoke on last Saturday, were brought here for burial Monday afternoon, and were laid to rest in the Jeffersonville cemetery beside that of her husband, who died several years ago.

The remains were accompanied to Tazewell by the sons, Robert, Ashby and Randolph, and daughters, Mrs. Samuel W. Williams, Mrs. Sam C. Peery, Jr., and Mr. Peery. Mrs. Dr. Gillespie, the other daughter, was unable to be present on account of illness.

Mrs. Henry was ill only a short time, and died from a heart affection from which she had been a sufferer for years.

Rev. W. W. Arrowood, the former pastor of the family, was in charge of the service at the grave.

A Tribute to Mrs. Henry.
A noble and good woman was buried in the cemetery at Tazewell yesterday.

Mrs. Henry was born, I believe, in Culpepper County, Virginia,—when, I do not exactly know, but know enough to say that her birth was before the stirring times which transpired in that historic county. It was at Brandy Station, in Culpepper that the greatest battle of modern times between horsemen was fought, with Fitzhugh Lee as commander of the Confederate legion.

Mrs. Henry was an Ashby, a first cousin of General Turner Ashby, that high-souled gallant Ashby, who sleeps in glory's grave. Sometime in the sixties she married Robert R. Henry, and in the early seventies they came to Wise County, Virginia, to seek a living; both she and her husband being left in poverty by the result of the war. There they began their struggle, strangers in a strange land, her husband being a young lawyer, she being charged with the duties of a young wife and mother. They then came to Tazewell in the year 1876, where they continued to live until after the death of her husband.

Strangers they were, both she and her husband, but they rapidly gained the respect of their new neighbors, holding it in the highest esteem to the day of their death.

Mrs. Henry was a noble woman, devoting herself to her husband and children—the soul of hospitality; brave and good.

Intensely religious, a Presbyterian heart and soul,—and that soul needs no dead, cold rocks to commemorate her goodness and her memory. It is by her heroic womanhood that she will be remembered.

A FRIEND.

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, it hath pleased God in His wisdom to remove from our midst one of our beloved and oldest members, who departed this life Saturday, October 19th, 1918, well laden with years;

Be it therefore resolved, 1st, That in the person of Mrs. Robert R. Henry, the Tazewell Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has lost one of its best friends. She was a charter member of this association and as long as health permitted, took an active part in its activities. Her interest never abated, one of her last acts being the renewal of her membership.

2nd, That the Tazewell Chapter wishes to express its keen sense of its loss and to extend to the members of the family its sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

3rd, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Chapter, be sent to the family, and be published in the local papers.

MRS. A. J. TYNES,
MRS. S. C. GRAHAM,
MRS. G. W. ST. CLAIR,

MRS. MUSICK DEAD.

The papers announce the death of Mrs. Sam Jack Musick, at her home in Lynchburg. Mr. Musick is well known here, in his native county, Russell, where he has a host of relatives and friends.

He is proprietor of the Piedmont Business College, Lynchburg, and has been busy, night and day, for years putting his school on a firm footing. His wife was a true helpmeet, indeed, and this affliction is a sore trial and disappointment. He has the sympathy of a host of friends.

VISITOR FROM UTAH.

Mrs. D. H. Peery, of Ogden, Utah, is on a visit to her old home and many relatives in this community. She has her headquarters while here with the family of C. H. Peery and his sons at North Tazewell.

Mrs. Peery was a Miss Higginbotham, daughter of the late Jefferson Higginbotham of this county, and consequently related to a large number of Tazewell people. Her visit here, after some years, is greatly enjoyed, all around.

MORE THAN IS ASKED FOR

As Usual, Tazewell County Over Subscribes Fourth Loan by Hundred Thousand—Fine Work by Committeemen.

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan in Tazewell County resulted in a large over-subscription, believed to be about $130,000. The county's quota was $56,000.

As is usually the case the work of putting the loan over was done in a large measure by the patriotic bankers of the county, who labored long and faithfully to make it a success. The committee from the Jeffersonville banking district, of which W. E. Peery was chairman, did fine work, and made a systematic canvass of every person in the district. Mr. Peery feels very grateful to the committeemen who so faithfully discharged their duties. They were all busy business men, but laid aside their personal affairs and went to work for the Government.

A statement of the Jeffersonville Banking District shows that the district over-subscribed its quota by $108,200.

The district's amount was subscribed through the Bank of Clinch Valley and the Tazewell National Bank as follows:

Mr. Editor:
I want to congratulate you on the excellent "Liberty Loan" edition of your paper, which you issued on October 11th. I believe that you helped many men "come across" more liberally than they otherwise would have.

The bankers—well, they deserve far more gratitude from the people than they get. They were all enthusiastic in the sale of bonds, and were patriotic in helping men to obtain money with which to buy. Without their splendid help the county would not have gone "over the top."

The district chairmen, without a single exception, worked hard, and a small number of men supported them loyally. Their persistent and hard work put our county among the honored counties of the State, and we are all proud that we are citizens of Tazewell.

I am embarrassed for words with which to express to those who, at my earnest request, took part in the sale of bonds. I cannot say "I thank you," for they did not work even for the government, but for the brave boys who are fighting to maintain our liberties, and to give freedom to the oppressed world. I can only congratulate all who took part in the splendid campaign, that they have an approving conscience for service well rendered.

C. R. ROWN,
County Chairman.

LARGE FIGURES.

The amount of money contributed—loaned, during the last eighteen months for war purposes, is not known exactly. The four loans amount to something in the neighborhood of twenty billion dollars.

Here are the figures as near as can be given:

First Loan, ...	$3,035,226,850
Second, ...	4,617,539,300
Third, ...	4,176,516,850
Fourth, approximate, ...	7,000,000,000
Making a total of four loans subscribed, ...	$18,829,283,000.

This amount does not include the amounts contributed to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Thrift Stamps bought, or the loans made to the allies, or private contributions made, of which no account was kept. The whole amount will be nearer 30 than 20 billions. This sum is staggering. The mind fails to grasp it.

FOR RENT OR SALE.

One good, eight-room dwelling with outbuildings, well located, with electric lights, bath, closet, etc. Apply W. E. Peery.

RED CROSS XMAS PACKAGES.

The committee in charge of the Christmas packages for the overseas soldiers from North Tazewell and all places that are nearest that branch of the Red Cross is composed of Miss Lyde McCall, Chairman; and Messrs. C. S. Kitts and H. F. Ireson. Those desiring to send packages should consult this committee at once as all packages must go through the Red Cross. The boxes will be ready for delivery about November 1, and no package can be sent after Nov. 15.

MRS. WADE H. PEERY,
Chairman North Tazewell Red Cross.

DEATH OF MRS. I. H. HARRY.

The death of this good woman came as a great shock to her friends, as well as a great grief. Her death was sudden. It is stated that she was busily engaged in her domestic duties when the end came, without warning.

She was a quiet, deeply pious devoted wife and mother. Her bereaved family and husband have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends. The burial took place near her home at Falls Mills Friday, in the presence of a concourse of sorrowing friends and broken hearted children.

She wrought well—she sleeps well.

DEATHS NEAR RICHLANDS.

Influenza has been claiming heavy toll at Richlands and vicinity.

Mr. Noah Wilson, brother of Jas. Wilson, died at Richlands Monday from influenza. The remains were interred in the cemetery near Richlands.

Mrs. Frank Ramey died Wednesday morning at her home at Raven.

Mr. Felix Whitehead died at Doran Tuesday afternoon.

Clarence Cordle, a young man, died at Raven Monday afternoon of the influenza.

WAR WORK CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Editor:
Please insert in your paper the following items in respect to the War Work Campaign, which begins Nov. 18th.

I have been appointed chairman of district No. 1, composed of the counties of Tazewell, Russell, Buchanan, Dickenson, Wise Scott and Lee, to conduct the drive for the Y. M. C. A. and six other associated societies doing war work, for the one hundred seventy million dollars to be raised during the week of this drive.

Virginia's apportionment is one and a half million dollars, and district No. 1, is allotted $77,500, of this apportionment.

I have called a meeting of the chairmen of this district to be held at Norton on the 25th inst., at 3 p. m., to outline the plan of campaigning.

In as much as the Y. W. C. A., is designated as one of the seven associations to receive and disburse a certain per cent of this $170,000,000, our women are expected to take greater interest in this campaign than in any preceding drive for war work being led by Miss Lucy Terrell, director of the Woman's Division.

Our colored people will take a conspicuous part in the drive under the leadership of J. H. McGrew, state director of colored division.

President Wilson has endorsed and directed this plan of United War Work. These seven organizations thus working in harmony toward the one great end of ministering to humanity take the sharp corners off the religious prejudices of the home forces as has already been done for our boys "over there!" The fellowship of sacrifice and suffering is the only fellowship that is worth while.

What we give in this great cause will benefit those who receive it, regardless of the motive behind the gift. The giver will be blessed in proportion to the sacrifice made by him.

Yours not only for service, but for sacrifice.

J. N. HARMAN,
Chairman District No. 1
Tazewell, Va., Oct. 23rd, 1918.

GOT "HUFFY."

One of our subscribers got "huffy" because we stopped his paper which was a year behind. He said he had received no bill for the amount due. Now, listen at that! He had received a statement every week for more than a year, on the label of his paper. Fifty two statements ought to be sufficient. He got "huffy," paid up and declined to take the paper longer. Some folks "is curious."

THE TIRE QUESTION.

We urge you to place your orders for tires at once. We do not guarantee to fill any orders but will do the best we can. Place your order NOW, do not delay. We know what we are talking about when we tell you the situation is becoming a serious matter.

SEVEN AGENCIES JOIN IN DRIVE

Protestants, Catholics and Jews Will Campaign Together To Raise Millions For Work in American Army Abroad.

The great drive to raise $170,000,000 for relief work in the American army will be begun on the 11th of next month by the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council of the Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare League, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and the Salvation Army.

The drive will be a new thing under the sun. For the first time Protestants, Catholics and Jews, forgetting all their differences will line up shoulder to shoulder, welding their individual organizations together in their common devotion to the boys in the cantonments and over there. This amalgamation of the seven great agencies engaged in war work is one of the fine developments which have been brought about by the war and under the wise guidance of President Wilson.

Together these seven organizations represent a work that is staggering in its proportions. They have more than 15,000 uniformed workers, standing shoulder to shoulder with the boys every step of the way from home to the front line trenches. They operate more than 3,600 buildings and ship 500 tons of supplies to the boys in France every week. Fifteen miles of film set sail for the other side each week under their direction and the regular weekly attendance of soldiers and sailors at their motion picture shows is more than 2,500,000. The Bibles furnished to the boys since the war broke out would, if piled one on another, make a pile more than twenty miles high.

"Morale," said Napoleon, "is as other factors in war as three to one." By which he meant that one man who is kept contented and happy is better than three men who are discouraged and homesick. It is the business of these seven great agencies to help maintain morale. They are keeping up the fine fighting edge of our boys, and by their ministrations, helping to put added power into our army and navy and so to hasten the hour of victory when they will bring our boys home again.

WHAT THE Y. W. C. A. DOES.

Never before in warfare have women played so active a part in reinforcing the fighting men and in relieving men from other work that they might fight. Thus, the field of the Young Women's Christian Association in war work has been a great one. In America the association's most striking welfare project has been the establishment of hostess houses in the camps where the men may receive visiting relatives. Army officers have asserted that these houses do much to elevate the plane of a training camp and to dispel the homesickness which causes desertions and lowers morale.

In the war zone the Y. W. C. A. provides social workers, recreation leaders, physical directors and cafeteria managers for the thousands of American women nurses, Signal Corps girls, telephone operators, and other English-speaking women employed with the American forces. The association also does welfare work for the girls employed in many of the French munition plants. The Y. W. C. A. maintains centers and restaurants for these American women engaged in work in support of the Government.

Our Hello Girls Reign as Queens on French Lines.

Ninety-nine are in France. Additional units are on the way. Those already there are pretty well scattered though there are two or three large units. The happiest unit—at least the girls claim they are happiest unit—is stationed in the City of Discontent, so called because it is far behind the battle lines and practically every one there is anxious to get to the front.

The girls are the honored guests at all entertainments and many theatre parties are given them. Besides, they have an athletic field of their own provided by the Y. W. C. A. All the telephone girls in this town are quartered at the Signal Girls' Club, a French hotel taken over by the Y. W. C. A. especially for their use.

POUNDING MILL NEWS.

Pounding Mill, Oct. 23.—Mrs. W. B. Steele and son, John B. Gillespie, and Dr. Rex Steele, went to Graton yesterday to attend the funeral of their cousin, Miss Jean Bourne.

Mr. Robert Conley's remains were brought from the coal fields yesterday and interred in the Floyd McGuire cemetery on Pounding Mill Branch. He was accidentally killed by a motor in the mines. He was a brother of Mrs. Charles McGuire, of Pounding Mill Branch and formerly resided here. His friends were grieved to hear of his death. Leaves a family.

Two new cases of influenza—Mrs. Garland Holbrook and little sister-in-law.

Mr. Alvah Compton's oldest son, Arthur, is still quite ill of influenza. The other ten members of the family are recovering, one son, Wesley, died as was mentioned last week. Mr. Henry Kinder and child, of near Gillespie, were buried Monday in one casket in the Rathoff burying ground here. His other child died last week, all of influenza. Much sympathy is felt for the young wife, who is left alone. She is a daughter of Mr. Israel White, of Cedar Bluff. Mrs. Mary Christian and son, Henry, are recovering, as is also John Robinett's family, all of whom had the influenza.

Mrs. J. Sanders Gillespie was down last week from Gillespie to visit Mrs. R. K. Gillespie, who has just recovered.

Messrs. John and Wilmer Avenue, of Paint Lick, were here today. They brought a car of nice Ohio cattle.

Several cars of fat cattle were shipped from here last week by the Hurts, Gillespies, Whites, Wards and others.

Mrs. Julia Williams was up from Richlands one day last week shaking hands with friends. She and the children have had the "flu."

Miss Marie Maxwell arrived today from the Business College at Roanoke to spend a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Martha Sparks.

Mrs. Henry Christian, who was visiting relatives at Piedmont Business College in Lynchburg, was called home on account of her husband's illness. He had the "flu" while she was away. She reports the death of Mrs. Sam Jack Musick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Altizer and daughter, Miss Lena and Mrs. Alex Beavers were shopping in Tazewell one day last week.

Miss Jean Bourne Dead.

Miss Jean Evelyn Bourne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bourne, of Graton, died at the girls' bungalow at Gary, W. Va., on Sunday at 6:45 p. m., of pneumonia and spinal meningitis, following the Spanish influenza. She began feeling ill on Saturday afternoon a week before her death, but kept going until Monday afternoon. She was working in the drug department for the United States Company who paid all the expenses for nurse, doctor, embalming, casket, rome, sending the body home, etc., ad her salary.

She joined the Southern Methodist church four years ago. Her funeral was preached at Mt. Olivet church near her home at 4 p. m., by her pastor, Rev. W. C. Thompson, of Tazewell. She was a kind, obedient and loving daughter and sister. Many beautiful flowers covered her casket and grave. Her girl friends were her flower bearers.

The deceased had only been gone from home about one month. She would have been 19 years old on the 21st of November. Her sister, Miss Mabel, who was clerking for the same company, was with her during her illness. She having had the influenza first. Her father was also with them most of the time. Her death came as a shock, as she was thought to be much better.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three sisters, Misses Mabel, Grace and Gose, and one brother, Ralph Bourne, 14 years old. May God comfort them in their bereavement. May they all meet her in that better land, where suffering, parting and tears are unknown.

MORE THAN TWO MILLION AMERICANS EMBARKED.

Washington Oct. 23.—At the same time that the president's reply to Germany was made public, the White House gave out correspondence between Secretary Baker and President Wilson showing that more than two million American soldiers have embarked to participate in the war overseas.

The embarkations or the four months as given in Secretary Baker's letter to the president are:

July	306,185
August	290,818
September	261,415
October 1 to 21	131,998
Total	989,816
Embarked to July 1, 1918	1,019,115
Grand Total	2,008,931

GERMAN PLEA IS PASSED ON

Begging Huns Will Have to Tell Their Troubles to the Allies on the Western Front, President Wilson Says.

President Wilson has informed the German government that he has transmitted its correspondence to him seeking an armistice and peace to the allies, with the suggestion that if those governments are disposed to effect peace upon the terms and the principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States be asked to submit the necessary terms of such an armistice as will fully protect the interests of the peoples involved. He says that should such terms of armistice be suggested, acceptance by Germany will afford the best evidence of her unequivocal acceptance of the terms and principles of peace.

The president's reply to the last German note was made public Wednesday night in Washington, and was transmitted to Berlin through the Swiss legation immediately.

It says that having received the solemn and explicit assurance of the German government that it unreservedly accepts the terms of peace and principles enunciated by him and that the desire to discuss the details of the application emanated not from those who hitherto dictated the German policy, but from ministers who speak for the overwhelming majority of the German people, and having received explicit promise that the humane rules of civilized warfare will be observed by the German armed forces, the president feels he cannot decline to take up the question of an armistice with the allies.

The president says that significant and important as the constitutional aspects seem to be which are spoken of by the German foreign secretary, it does not appear that the principle of a government responsible to the German people has yet been fully or permanently worked out. He reiterates that the nations of the world do not and cannot trust the word of those who hitherto been the masters of German policy and gives warning that if the United States must deal with the military masters and the monarchical autocrats of Germany now or later, it must demand not peace negotiations but surrender.

HELP FOR STARVING CHILDREN.

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan that went so far "over the top" it made a big rift in the cloud of war, is finished. Our boys "over there" will be furnished with the necessities for comfort and the means to "carry on" to victory. We are glad, but let us not let the sounds of rejoicing dull our ears to other cries. We still have much to do.

In France that lonesome serpent, the Hun, has left in his slimy trail hundreds of fatherless and, in many cases motherless children. Who will feed them if we do not? Who will clothe them if we do not? It will be impossible for impoverished, devastated France to care for all of them. Their little pale, pinched faces are turned to us in utter helplessness and piteous appeal. Will we allow them to suffer for the bare necessities of life while the rosy, happy children of our lands are sheltered and safe with a security that was partly the price of these French children's fathers paid by giving up their lives.

Suppose the Kaiser had begun his program for world-conquest with an attack on America, your children might now be hungry, half clothed orphans. There is a rule called "Golden"; apply it here.

This orphan relief work is in the charge of Marshal Joffre, which fact speaks for its importance in the eyes of those in authority. A list of the names and addresses of a number of these orphans has been sent, to the local chairman of the fund. Thirty-six and one half dollars will support one of these children for a year. A larger sum is spent on many children of America for toys and candy. Several of our soldiers, from privates up, have "adopted" and supporting French orphans. If you cannot support one you can do something to help feed and clothe these little ones.

Send or bring your contribution to MISS JESSIE O'KEEFE, Local Chairman.

Now that the big drive is over suppose we give some attention to the newspaper subscription account. This paper needs a little help, too. If you owe us pay us. Consult the date on your label.
