

For What Did They Fight And Pay?
(Dearborn Independent.)

In the battle of St. Mihiel, 550,000 American soldiers fought, and many of them died. Kindly in civilian life, they proved themselves fierce fighters when after the foe.

An idea of the size of the struggle can be obtained by comparing it with the Battle of Gettysburg, in which 100,000 Northern soldiers fought.

The Meuse-Argonne struggle lasted 47 days, and 1,200,000 American soldiers risked their lives, many of them making the supreme sacrifice.

America had 2,065,000 soldiers in France, of whom 1,390,000 saw battle service, more than 50,000 dying in battle, a total of 122,500 overseas having died.

There were 236,000 American soldiers and sailors wounded on the western front.

No tribute is so great as to do justice to the gallantry shown by the boys who turned the tide of battle and helped our bleeding Allies to a victory, their trench soldiers who died in the struggle having numbered 1,385,000 and the British, 900,000.

The war cost America much more, very much more, than $1,000,000 an hour for two years.

The people have paid and are paying taxes one nearly everything; if not directly, then indirectly, on what they wear and eat and in rent.

The nation's debt as a result of the war is about $22,000,000,000, or about $1,000 for every family, which finally must be paid by the toil of the family, for no matter who pays it directly, in the end it comes to the consumer; and with interest added it will amount to more than $2,000 nearer $3,000 by the time it is paid.

What was the object of all this sacrifice of life and treasure?

What do we owe to the men who went over and risked their all.

What do we owe to the dead on the fields of France?

What do we owe to those who came back maimed for life?

What do we owe to those who gave generously of wealth and time?

What do we owe humanity?

Do we owe them an assured peace for the future or do we owe them endless bickering?

Those who sacrificed over there cry out that such a sacrifice shall never be forced on humanity again.

Those who suffered in the trenches would have themselves, their children and their children's children, spared from such an ordeal again.

They know the fierceness of the death-dealing instruments devised by the enemy, carried on with the knowledge gained in this, would all but wipe out humanity.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

Dr. J. S. Compton
Over the 5 and 10c Store, BLUEFIELD, W. VA.

We all know that before this war we were told that great armaments worked for peace, and we know now that that was not true; that they meant death to mankind.

We have learned that peace can be maintained throughout the world only through an intelligent understanding among the nations.

And the voices of those who have gone and those who remain cry out for such an understanding.

That understanding, written into the League of Nations, is being accepted in Europe.

Our Constitution gives the United States Senators the power to accept or reject the understanding accepted by other nations and before this government for action.

There was no partisanship in the fight on the French front; there was no partisanship in the buying of Liberty bonds or giving to patriotic funds; there should be no partisanship in the contest in the United States Senate, but unfortunately there is.

Not Perfect But Good
(Dearborn Independent.)

Great and good as is the Covenant of the League of Nations, this paper does not attempt to tell its readers that it is going to bring the millennium immediately.

We have had our Declaration of Independence 146 years and our Constitution nearly as long. They are the two greatest documents of human liberty in effect on earth today, any yet we are not entirely satisfied with our government, beyond doubt the best in existence.

We have amended our Constitution many times, strengthening it where we found it weak, making it over where it did not fit into the needs of our advancing civilization.

But always we have had that document as a bed rock for our liberties, as a foundation on which to build our prosperity, as a safeguard for the very last of our citizens.

We are a peace loving nation; we would work our own destiny unmolested and we would grant to other nations the same right.

The object of the League of Nations is to keep the world at peace that each nation may work out its destiny, may use its energies and its resources to advance the comfort and happiness of its people.

The old order of things got us into the most deadly war of history. This document was drawn by the men who brought the hosts of democracy to a righteous victory. They have put into the Covenant the wisdom gained by their experience.

They have paved the way for a better understanding among nations; they have paved the way, too, for such changes in the document as necessary future experience may reveal as necessary.

They gave us a document and they gave us a task, a duty worth performing. We and our successors are not robbed of the fruits gained at so great a cost in the struggle just ended.

Cost of Coal Per Ton.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion For a Few Cents and See For Yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Squeeze through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the lotion, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for many months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and to beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

in England and Scotland, America and Europe, average as follows for the latest periods for which particulars are available: Scotland (including six per cent. increase) 28s. 11d. ($7.04); U. S. A., June 1919, 11s. 2d. ($2.68); France, June 1919, 36s. ($8.64); Belgium, 1917, 18s. ($4.32); Spain, 1917, 39s. ($9.30). The average price of coal at the pit head in the United Kingdom in 1913, the last pre-war year, was 10s. 1 1/2d. ($2.43) per ton. The British production price is therefore practically two and a half times as great as the corresponding price in America, and nearly three times as great as the corresponding price in the United Kingdom before the war.

On making the above comparison of prices, the rate of exchange used was 24 cents to the shilling, or $4.80 to the pound sterling. The American Chamber in London further points out that in 1917, for instance, the American production was 770 tons of coal per worker, while the British equivalent was about 240 tons, and that the British production is still declining and the American production is still advancing.

play a similar part to but more important that that played by the navy in this war.

"In the first place our anti-craft defenses—which ought forthwith to be established as a permanent institution on a far larger scale than the coast defenses under the army—will have to assume the immunity of this country from invasion by air.

"In the second place, our seagoing aircraft will have to protect our trade routes against attack by enemy submarines and surface ships.

"In the third place, our aircraft with the army in the field will have to do all the air work required by the expeditionary force.

"Fourthly, another force of aircraft, bigger than all the other aircraft put together, will have to carry war into the enemy's country. Thus it is easy to see that the task of the flying service in the next war will be far greater than that of any other of the king's armed forces.

"And today it is proposed by our democratic government, not only to cut down our navy (which can be spared, if our air force is built up to proper strength), but to cut down our air force to a size which in the next war will be in pretty well the same proportion to our needs as the historic first four squadrons were to our needs in this war."
