Frocks for Little Folks.

FOR SMALL CHILDREN

Summer Fashions Approved of By Little Maids and Masters.

MATERIALS USED WILL BE WASHABLE.

The Best Fabrics and Styles Are Those That Can Stand the Wear and Tear of the Laundry—Sun Bonnets Are to the Fore for Day Use, While Pokes Are Worn on Sunday.

New York, April 23.—New wash clothes for children—rather apparel so called—are both prettier and more sensible than ever this year.

There is little of the wash-tub air about the way in which some of the dressiest of the little costumes are trimmed, but, though of the most flower-like delicacy, the new colors are enduring.

FOR VERY YOUNG PEOPLE.

There are solid piques in sky-blue and apple blossom pink that make smart and useful summer suits for maids from 4 to 10.

White Hamburg embroideries in edging and insertion trim the reefer coats of these appropriately, outlining big turn-back revers and elaborate cape collars, and edging or simulating cuffs for the sleeves.

The plain skirts have usually strapped seams, and for the oldest ages are cut to hang in front with a suggestion of the grown-up box plait.

Pink pique is also used for small gentlemen in the baby stages, and takes the shape of cape coats and mannish little suits consisting of a reefer coat and kilted skirt.

Blue being a girl's color, the sky blue pique is not used for boys. In white pique, duck linen—which may be said to be a universal material this season—there are nay number of neat and inexpensive coat and skirt suits that can be bought ready made for both boys and girls. Russian crash, a stout grayish linen, which has much of the look of kitchen crash, is in high favor for rough summer use for both sexes.

Pink Pique Suit.

CRASH SUITS.

A plain skirt and reefer coat is the model for girls in this material, which appears as well in natty little bloomers and blouses for bicycle use.

For young gentlemen up to ten there are matelot suits in the Russian crash that with their long bell trousers and very low neck blouses have quite a professional sailor air.

Great sailor collars appear on these, the proper caper is to have the shield front perfectly plain, though the shields of other matelot suits show anchors and braids in contrasting colors. Coarse hemp watch chains drawn taut across the breast from two patch pockets on the blouse, are a genuine "salt" finish to these serviceable little suits.

FROCKS OF BATISTE.

But chief among the sensible textures used for girls of almost all ages are the linen batistes and grass linens in every shade of age and brown. These copy in smaller patterns all the designs of the day, the open guipure insertions, crinkled ribbon stripes and embroidered dots and figures.

Trimmings for these little frocks are likewise grown up to a degree. White and unbleached guipure laces edge revers, collars, and bretelles of all sorts and with knots of taffeta or velvet ribbon many a tiny linen gown will show a flower-hued lining of rich silk.

Indeed, color is to be this summer a feature of clothes for even the smallest girls, through many delightful little toilets are still seen in pure white.

PARISIAN MODELS.

The French modes in particular evidence a leaning toward color, and there are Indian dimity and batiste costumes showing Dresden effects that are extremely charming.

Home Spun Suit.

With sheer white textiles, mulls, Swisses, plain batiste and Indian lawns, there are often linings of colored silk with waist and shoulder knots of ribbon to match. A summer cloak of white dotted Swiss lined with pink, rose or blue silk, is a novelty for girls from three to five.

There are also Swisses with pink and blue dots that with dainty decorations of lace and rosettes of baby ribbon appear in gowns and cloaks, shirred sun hats, and poke bonnets.

The dressiest costumes for girls under six are made very short, reaching barely to the knee. In the Paris models the majority of these are high necked and long sleeved with a dashing little bunching of the shaped skirt breadths at the back to give the look of a bustle being worn.

SENSIBLE STYLES.

More practical designs, however, are shown, composed of the full gathered skirt—simply hemmed or with a four-inch hem and three tucks—and low-necked, short sleeves body long in favor.

Elaborate gamps of mull and lace, with long bishop sleeves, are supplied for these.

Then, with this expanse of white, the little colored gown will be further relieved by a bib or bertha fall of the same.

Made in this way there are some delightful little costumes in dimities, organdies and French muslins to be found ready made in the shops. Yellow Valenciennes lace and plain and point d'esprit footing are the edgings most used on the gamps and bodice decorations.

FOR COUNTRY USE.

For every-day summer use there are the usual delicately figured and striped linen lawns, cambrics, and percales that, come weal or woe, appear every year.

As usual, too, these are trimmed with the serviceable Hamburg embroideries, the solid standbys of the laundress. All are made as simply as possible for washing purposes, and, as last season, here and there pale tones will have effective bands of black satin or velvet ribbon slipped through white entre deux.

For country use many mothers are having frocks made for the small fry of the new madras ginghams, which in delicate blue, green and pink stripes, are in weaves of extreme fineness.

A washable material for sailor collars and revers of cheviot, serge and flannel suits is a thick linen canvas that comes in white and color.

A dull red, china blue, and art greens are the tones in this, with wash embroideries often edging the big collars effectively.

A combination of blue serge and grass green linen is a French novelty that embraces a miss's privilege.

A HAPPY SUGGESTION.

The misses' toilet pictured shows a combination of this sort, and it will be found in smart and useful models for all ages between 12 and 17.

The plain skirt and belted blouse are of the serge, the wrinkled sleeves, gamp and bretelles of the linon.

Sunbonnets for small girls are more than ever plentiful this season, as are also dainty frilled and lace trimmed aprons in all degrees of dressiness.

A "split" sunbonnet is made of striped and checked ginghams and is delightfully quaint over round serious little faces.

The poke revival is shown in others in plain chambrays, and these, as well as the sun hats in the same materials, are shirred over cords and have often rosettes of lace and bows of ribbon.

Poke bonnets for dressy use run much to rough straw crowns and frilled gauze fronts with plain trimmings of old maid roses and white ostrich feathers.

Last but not least leather belts will be worn by both boys and girls. Then, since French children are wearing socks, black and white socks are to be the things for maids up to 6, as well as for their baby brothers. NINA FITCH.

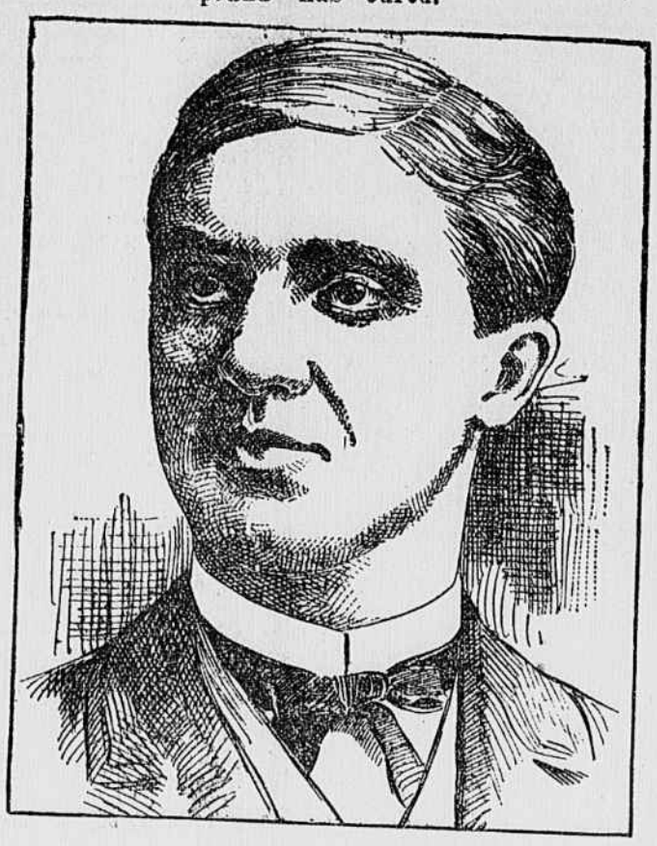
MAYOR OF ST. CHARLES.

One of the Thousands Whom Paine's Celery Compound Has Cured.



The following long and explicit letter from Hon. A. A. Bennett tells its own story:

Read it:

Mayor's Office,
City of St. Charles, Ill., March 4, 1896.

Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.:

Gentlemen: I take much pleasure in being able to add my mite to the great mass of testimony in praise of Paine's celery compound.

In last November I found myself much run down by overwork. For several weeks I had been obliged to work 18 hours daily out of the 24, and was in consequence in a state of physical and nervous exhaustion. At the suggestion of a friend I commenced the use of Paine's celery compound, with the result that my strength has steadily improved, and I find myself in far better health than I have known for years.

I believe also that it has enabled me to escape my periodical attack of rheumatism, as every season since that time, with the advent of the cold, damp weather, I have suffered severely from that disease in a chronic form. So far this winter I have escaped without a single twinge of my old enemy. I very cheerfully recommend it to any one in similar need, in the full belief that it will be helpful in every case. Very sincerely yours, A. A. BENNETT.

If we all led out-of-door lives, went to bed at sundown, and had no consuming cares nor hard work to bring down the health, there might not be the urgent necessity that now exists for taking this best of spring remedies—Paine's celery compound.

But as the great majority of lives are ordered—with too much work, too much anxiety, too little sleep, by the time winter is over the drain on the nervous energy has become excessive, the nerves are in sad need of being strengthened, and the blood of being purified.

Paine's celery compound absolutely meets this great modern necessity.

Paine's celery compound will bring back nerve strength and replace poor thin, pale blood with a ruddy, health-making stream.

It is the one great practical remedy advocated by all physicians.

It drives away that feeling of utter exhaustion that is so common in the spring, but no less dangerously significant because it is so common. It makes people well. It is a thousand times superior to all the ordinary sarsaparillas, nervines and tonics ever made.

Paine's celery compound is the one real spring remedy known to-day that never fails to benefit. Get Paine's celery compound, and only Paine's celery compound, if you wish to be well.

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED--COULD HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT--ONE NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeking his couch, glad for the night's coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS.

Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.

Gents: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering, palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily.

I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night.

I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles. I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally.

Yours respectfully,
A. M. RAMSEY.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—County of Comanche.—Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true.

A. M. RAMSEY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this, August 4th, 1891.
