

MARKING GRAVES IN HOLLYWOOD

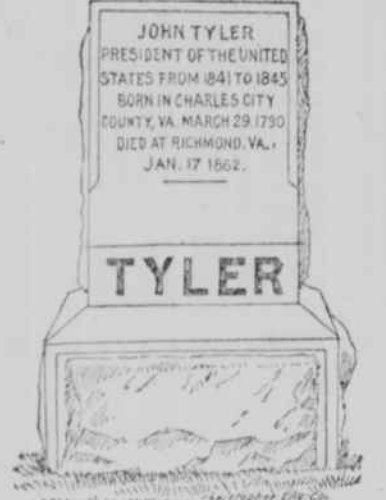

A Monument to the Memory of President Tyler.

THE FIRST GRAVE MADE.

Stone to a Little Child Who Was Interred in 1849—Both Erected by the Hollywood Cemetery Company.

In the course of a few days there will be two events of interest in Hollywood. One will be the placing of a monument over the graves of former President John Tyler, who for more than a quarter of a century has slept beneath an unmarked mound.

Another event will be the erection of a monument to the memory of Frederick

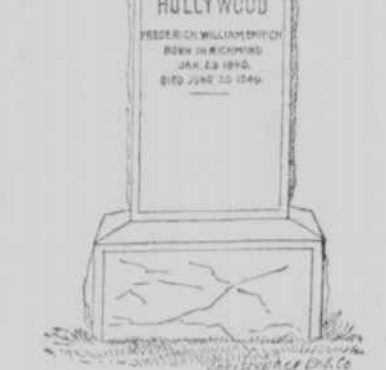

JOHN TYLER'S MEMORY.

William Ehrlich, a babe of five months, who was the first person buried in Hollywood, having been interred July 1, 1849.

The monument to President Tyler is of a beautiful granite. It is not an imposing structure, but well its purpose until one more fitting can be erected by his State or his country.

The stone to the little child is also of granite, though smaller than that of President Tyler.

Both were made by Mr. Andrew J.

Why these work on them is most admirable.

The stones were ordered by the Hollywood Cemetery Company, which has cared for these graves for years.

NO SLEEP FOR THREE MONTHS.

One Cause of Sleeplessness That Can Be Overcome.

Mr. Wm. Handschu, of Forty-sixth street, Cotton Alley, Pittsburg, Pa., expresses himself as follows regarding the new remedy for that common and obstinate disease, piles: "I take pleasure in stating that I was so afflicted with piles that I could not get any sleep, and I became completely prostrated, the doctors did me no good; my brother told me of the new remedy for piles, the Pyramid Pile Cure; I purchased of my druggist three 50-cent boxes and they completely cured me. I am once more at work and but for the excellent remedy I would be on my back. I take great pleasure in writing this letter because so many people are suffering from this trouble who like myself did not know where to look for a permanent, safe, reliable cure.

Experience with the Pyramid Pile Cure for the past three years has demonstrated to the medical profession, as well as to thousands of sufferers from piles, that it is the safest and most effective pile cure ever offered to the public, containing no opiates or poisons of any kind, painless and convenient to handle and being sold by druggists at 50c and $1.00 per box, is within the reach of every sufferer.

Very often two or three boxes have made a complete cure of chronic cases that had not yielded to other remedies for years.

There is scarcely a disease more aggravating and obstinate to cure than the various forms of piles, and it is common practice to use ointments, salves and similar preparations containing dangerous poisons to remove the trouble. The Pyramid has superseded all of these ineffectual remedies and no one suffering with any rectal trouble will make any mistake in giving the Pyramid a trial.

If in doubt as to the nature of your trouble send to the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for a valuable book on piles, describing all forms of the disease and describing the method of cure.

Any druggist can furnish the Pyramid Pile Cure as the best known and most popular remedy for piles, and if you ask him he can doubtless refer you to many people in your own vicinity who have been cured completely by it.

Superintendent Fox was agreeable to the closing of the schools on two days instead of one, as was originally intended, and after a conference the Board reached the conclusion mentioned.

The bottle of wine which the Shubrick will be christened is on exhibition in the windows of the Nowlan Co. at 221 east Main street.

The vessel is covered with silver work of a most beautiful design, and will make a fitting instrument to accomplish the task for which it is designed.

General White's strategy and the execution of his movements were warmly commended, and it is said that the General Sir Robert White will be a first prize in the British Army, and those who have served in India have always maintained that the commander there had a more important post than the command of the British Army.

Regarding European intervention, Great Britain's plans to meet such an emergency, the Journal de Geneve publishes a despatch from Constantinople, saying that Russia intends sending the Corps d'Armee to the Balkans, and the opening of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles. Unless Great Britain is a party to such a demand, Russia's army will undoubtedly stir up a hornet's nest, compared with which the Balkan question will be insignificant.

Such reports have a depressing effect on the stock market, and the London stock market is in a state of considerable uneasiness on the stock exchange regarding the future action of Russia and France, and the African continent is no longer referred to as "Kaffirs." They are now called "British" while South Africa is optimistically described as a mineralized Egypt.

These of the Virginia board of directors who had expected to go to Danville, Va., to visit first P. on account of a letter from some of the members of that Board have postponed their visit until the middle of November.

MANY OFFICERS BEING KILLED

They Refuse to Take Cover When Under Fire.

ANCIENT CUSTOM WITH BRITISH

'Tommy Atkins' Needs More Leading Than Any Man in the World.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The large number of British officers killed in the battles which have already taken place in Natal has brought out strenuous protests from many quarters against the ancient custom of British officers in refusing to take cover when under fire.

Among the enlisted men at Glencoe the proportion of killed to wounded was 20 to 15, while 19 officers were killed to 22 officers wounded. The difference in the percentage leads to the conclusion that many of the officers were hit more than once and kept on leading their men after one of them.

Emperor William's recent criticism of the British officers' refusal to take cover is now frequently quoted. The feeling in the army itself is that though the regulations do not say the officers must not lead them it is such an established principle that it would be like a brave man to inaugurate a change, and the adage of the British soldier, "whoever whistles for an officer" is held still to be intensely true.

General White's strategy and the execution of his movements were warmly commended, and it is said that the General Sir Robert White will be a first prize in the British Army, and those who have served in India have always maintained that the commander there had a more important post than the command of the British Army.

(LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 46,970)

"I had female complaints so bad that it caused me to have hysterical fits; have had as many as nine in one day.

"Five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and it has been a year since I had an attack.

Mrs. Edna Jackson, Pearl, La.

If Mrs. Pinkham's Compound will cure such severe cases as this surely it must be a great medicine—is there any sufferer foolish enough not to give it a trial?

"IT WORKS," SAYS MR. VANDERBILT

The Neat Invention Patented by the Young Millionaire and the Task It Will Perform.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—I had the pleasure to-day of a talk with an inventor who, if he were so inclined, could hire the services of all the inventors living, for life.

A section of the house of Vanderbilt who is not ashamed to do the plebeian blue jaspers and who finds more genuine pleasure in working around the round houses and machine shops of a great railroad system than in dancing attendance upon the belles of society at opera or ball would appeal to the average person as somewhat of an anomaly.

When a young man who has a mechanical turn of mind has his own way to make in the world it is perfectly natural that he should turn his attention to this important end of a railroad but it is certainly a trifle odd of the ordinary to find the eldest son of one of the richest men in the country clad in jacket and overalls, working side by side with men whose daily bread depends upon the few dollars a day that they receive for their labor.

Such a man is Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., who while his course may seem strange to those who look upon general idleness as the height of mortal ambition, to him manual labor is the most natural thing in the world.

It was his desire to learn the business from the bottom to the top instead of trying to study the intricacies of railroading from the top to the bottom.
