MOTOR VEHICLES.

An automobile club is to be formed in Philadelphia.

Boston is using an automobile in its public buildings department.

Steam wagons are to be employed in hauling borax in Oregon.

It is expected that an automobile fete will be held at Pau, France, next February.

The official records of Kansas show that there are 61 counties in that state where there is not a bicycle in use.

In fashionable Newport automobiles are called "mobes," which still leaves something to be desired in the way of a name that will stick.

The French electric wagon Jeantaud recently made a trip of 85 miles in seven and a quarter hours, without recharging the battery.

A service of motor vehicles has been started between Rosas and Figueras, in Spain, a distance of 12 miles. The vehicles are of eight horse power and have a seating accommodation for nine passengers.

Two automobiles recently beat the Paris-St. Malo express in a race between those cities, a distance of 226 miles, making the best time ever recorded for an automobile, covering the distance in 7:35. The time of the train was 7:40.

According to the Motor Car Journal, the Austrian ministry of commerce is reported to be contemplating the introduction of motor cars for the conveyance of mail bags to and from the railway stations as well as for the delivery of parcel post packages and the collection of letters from the pillar boxes.

In a memorandum recently brought to light it is recorded that Vaucanson was honored in 1748 by a visit from Louis XV., for the purpose of inspecting a marvelous carriage that ran without the aid of a horse or any visible means of propulsion. Two persons took their seats in the vehicle, which seems to have been as gorgeous as a sheriff's carriage, and were driven round the courtyard to the satisfaction of his majesty, and of the Duc de Mortemart, M. de Lauzun, M. d'Avezac and other members of his suite.

HERE AND THERE.

China and Japan furnish more than one-half of the world's supply of silk.

In 1898 Russia had a mercantile marine of 2,578 vessels, of which 694 were propelled by steam.

Japan has established at Yokohama an imperial museum, modeled after the one in Philadelphia.

A seedy scholar roams the streets of Paris and makes small bets that he can promptly and correctly answer any question regarding the history of France. Nearly all the bets he wins. That is the way he earns his money.

A complete electric light plant has been installed at the Glucknuf salt mine, at Sonderhausen, Germany. The power is supplied by a current from the central station to all the mines and works. A current of 500 volts is used for driving steam winches and fans, and transformers reduce it to 220 volts for rock drills and electric lighting. The motors vary from 1¼ horse power to 105 horse power.

The greatest musical instrument, or rather musical box, ever constructed will be exhibited for the first time at the Paris exhibition in 1900. Its inventor and builder, Antonio Zilbordi, an Italian, devoted 15 years of his life to construct it. He has bestowed upon his masterpiece the imposing name of "Autocleitrophylophon." In it are concealed 80,000 pieces of musical apparatus, which required an outlay of 60,000 francs.

SOME FEEDING TESTS.

Breed More Than Feed Determines the Character and the Composition of Milk.

Bulletin No. 39 of the Massachusetts experiment station says: Feed has very little effect upon the quality of milk. By quality we refer to the per cent. or amount of total solid matter in the milk. It is a well-recognized fact that some feeds affect the flavor and to some extent the color of milk. Feeds rich in protein have a tendency to slightly increase the percentage of fat in some cows; the same can be said of feeds rich in fat. This increase is probably only temporary, however, the milk gradually coming back to its normal composition. The milk-producing function is to a large extent under the control of the nervous system. Any influence that disturbs the quiet or normal condition of the animal—be it rough usage, extremes of temperature, etc.—will have its effect upon the quality of the milk. On the other hand plenty of good feed increases the quantity of milk until the animal reaches her maximum of production. Prof. Patrick, of the Iowa station, conducted an experiment in which a number of cows were fed "sugar meal," a refuse of our glucose factory. In the first experiment it was thought that cows fed this feed gave a decided increase in butter fat, but the experiment not being satisfactory, a second trial was given, and in this experiment it was found that cows fed "sugar meal" gave no increase in butter. A similar experiment was made in one of our eastern stations in which beef tallow was fed, beginning with a ration of two ounces and increasing to two pounds per day, and at the close of this experiment it was found that the cow was still giving her one pound of butter daily, her previous record.

These references and experiments are given to show that it is the breed, more than the feed given, that is to determine the character and composition of milk. Were it only the feed given, what would be the use of our choice dairy breeds, when a Texas cow could be made by feeding to produce as many pounds of butter as the Jersey. We should then feed the cow a sufficient quantity of rich, wholesome food, with plenty of pure water constantly on hand.—Farmers' Voice.

PIG-PEN POINTERS.

After a pig attains 75 pounds it is ready to lay on a pound or more flesh per day, if well fed.

The male pigs when not altered should be separated from the rest when about three months old.

Have the fall pigs come as early as possible so that they can get a start before cold weather sets in.

Wheat middlings is one of our best pig foods, and fed in connection with skim milk will make excellent growth.

It is often necessary to draw the milk from the udder if it becomes distended. This may be done by hand, or the sow returned to the litter for a few minutes. If this is not done it may cost you the udder of a choice sow.

We must avoid getting the pigs too fat, as a fat pig makes poor growth. Better keep them in a leaner, growing condition. This is accomplished by giving exercise and avoiding fattening foods, such as corn, buckwheat and rye.

Wean the pigs at about eight to ten weeks old. If left later the heavy milking dam will become pulled down, and perhaps her growth and development seriously checked, if young. There is danger of a sow's constitution and physical vitality being impaired by such treatment. — Colman's Rural World.
