FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1903.

The Danville Bee admonishes that if you would have the world laugh with you, you would be wise not to confine yourself to your own jokes.

The Milwaukee News says: After all there doesn't seem to be much difference between the Christians of Russia and the heathens of Turkey.

"To combine getting with giving is to bring heaven and earth together, to get without giving is to invite Satan to laugh in his sleeve."

"Better pound the anvil and make good horse shoes than pound the pupil and make poor sermons."

Mr. Bryan has a female hog with a litter of little ones about her, whose name is B to I, and was given to her by his girl baby.

The United States weather Bureau employs 1,400 trained observers at 150 stations. No wonder, then, that reports are so often mixed.

Two citizens of Mathews county, have been arrested and are to be tried on a criminal charge for refusing to sell whiskey. How is that for "wet?"

"Mary had a little lamb, to Wall Street he did go; Poor Mary does her own work now—The cause you doubtless know."

As the summer advances and the winter approaches, there are rumors of another strike in the anthracite region. Strike while the sun is hot and then let the people shiver when the weather is cold.

Rev. Dr. Hills, successor to Henry Ward Beecher, and preacher of most everything except the Gospel, says that "$50,000 a year here means h—l hereafter." He may add that the preacher who prostitutes the pulpit here will be in danger of the same fate.

"What's the use running the devil out of town, when he takes lodgment in another?" asks an exchange.

Plenty. "If they keep de ole feller a-gwine, p'raps dey'll git him ter de deep sea, after a while, er drown him," says Brother Williams.—Atlanta Constitution.

Notwithstanding the fact that Spain has been booted and spurred out of Cuba, she still controls the shoe trade of that gem of the Seas. What's the Yankee brothers going to do about it?

The Associated Press reported Mr. Roosevelt as saying that the colored brother is entitled to a "square deal." Evidently he has been misquoted for he must have said, "square meal."

Poe's manuscript of "The Bells" sold for $2,100 in Philadelphia. Poe himself would willingly have sold it for one-tenth of that price.—New York World.

Talmage was right. "An ounce of taffy is worth a pound of epiphany."

And now some one recklessly suggests that the outcome of the Campbell investigation would play a part in future politics of the State.

Hardly outside Amherst.

Those Democratic (?) mayors, who in the rush of the moment of receiving Mr. Roosevelt promised their support at the polls made monumental fools of themselves.

The Old Virginia barbecue cooking is the ne plus ultra of all cooking, and we have in Bedford the experts who know how to do it.—Bedford Democrat.

Our brother of the Democrat, said that to the Elks, and he was strictly right. He might have added, only Farmville cooks can beat ours.

Old Ben Butler said, "The Lord is making more people every day, but He isn't making any more land." Therefore let us trust to the land a little more than has been our custom. It remains though death comes.

Wellington the "Iron Duke" apologized to his footman on one occasion for some wrong done him and to a little girl who heard him, he said: "always own you are in the wrong." Some very small men would do well to go and do likewise. But very small men rarely measure to such height in human conduct.

Andrew Carnegie told this very true and sensible thing to an audience in London.

"In America more than anywhere else it is 'three generations from shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves.' There is no single hereditary fortune in America which is not being split up. Aristocracy cannot exist without primogeniture, and that, and our laws know nothing."

From shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves. Keep an eye on what you have or the other fellow will get it.

Treasury officials report that the per capita wealth of the country is greater than ever before. And yet there are thousands upon thousands of captives all over the land that haven't a red cent.—Richmond News Leader.

And the trouble comes in when we remember that Republican policies promote this condition and that all aiders and abettors are just as criminal as are the principals.

You could never call the man a good bookkeeper, who does not return the one you loan him.—Newport News Times-Herald.

But you may designate that one who fails to return your umbrella as a good lifter.—Farmville Herald.

And isn't it curious that there are artisans who will recover your old umbrella before the lifter gets it?—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

And isn't it a lamentable fact that even the most skilled of artisans can't make it lifter's?

It does look as tho John Wilkes B-oth was not born to die.

FALLING INTO LINE.

Some time since the Herald flung its Presidential banner to the breeze, and the boys are gathering about it the country over.

"German and Gordon are the names with which to unify the party and arouse the people to a degree of enthusiasm that will daily increase as the campaign progresses, and ultimate in a greater victory than democracy ever won."

It is the winning ticket, and after the victory it will be Democratic to the core.

Life in the country, after all, is life at its best. Where could it be better than in old Virginia, and in Virginia where cleaner and happier than in the Valley of the Shenandoah—Rockingham Register.

Nowhere on earth, except up here in our unsurpassed Rappahannock Valley.—Salem Times-Register.

Mistaken, brother. Southside Virginia is "God's Country," where health conditions are better, water purer, waffles browner, biscuit hotter, neighbors more neighborly, girls prettier, milk and butter better, flowers fairer, skies bluer, sun brighter and Heaven nearer.

"DANIEL BY PROCLAMATION." As no Democrat aspires to Senator Daniel's Senatorial shoes, he will continue to wear them. They fit easy and he easily fits them.

John Boyle O'Reilly wrote down his troubles every day, and when in after years he read them over he did it with smiles rather than tears. Not all of them, we imagine, but a majority of them we are quite sure.

Florida's Flagler divorce law was a blot on the State which will be right hard to wipe out, though the people have done all they could to cleanse the record by relegating the legislators who enacted it to the walks of private life and instructing their successors to repeat it.

MUSINGS OF A MILLIONAIRE. I spent three-fourths of my life making a million dollars. The other fourth will be devoted in trying to get an appetite to enjoy it.

Dr. Parkhurst says the society of charities and corrections was organized primarily for the purpose of "getting the people that are in the rear as near as possible to the front row, minimizing inequalities, encouraging the man that is lame in leg, brain, or natural opportunity, and that is hypocritically juggling on behind."

Big job, Doctor, but our good wishes go with you in your effort to accomplish it.

"8 to 7" was bad enough, but that happened in a political body. "5 to 4" is constantly bobbing up in the highest court of the land and that's too bad.

Rev. Dr. Kerr, late of Richmond, has gone to Baltimore. While in Virginia his name was pronounced as though written "Care," but since getting to Baltimore, he tells the reporter to pronounce it as the "err in dague-rootype or as the first syllable in terra cotta." Which leaves the whole matter in profound doubt.

THE PRESIDENT AT HOME AGAIN. President Roosevelt returned to Washington on last Friday, after an absence of 65 days, having travelled 14,000 miles by rail, besides hundreds of miles on stage and horse back, during which time he delivered 265 speeches and made votes. We are glad that no harm came to him, either from accident or assassin, and our hope is that he will live through his term, and then be succeeded by some stalwart Democrat. The Herald has already named the man.

Congressman Flood is reported as saying that Senator Martin, like Senator Daniel will have a "walk over."

On the contrary it's going to be as lively a race as even the old-time Virginian witnessed at Broad Rock. Montague and Braxton thoroughbred and no man can beat them in a walk.

If the University of Virginia must have a president let's find him in Virginia. If this craze of going North for money and men continues we will lower into a condition of dependence altogether lamentable and regrettable. We are self sustaining if we would think so.

Young Mr. Vanderbilt has packed his automobile and left his country because the "roads are bad and the laws against speed simply horrid."

His grandpa found a smooth road to fortune and no laws against get-rich-quick schemes.

Daughters of some of our rich men tired of the dull routine of society life are looking to the stage for diversion. Poor things! Why don't they try work?

Polizer, S. C., a town of 7000 inhabitants, excludes from its limits all lawyers, editors, actresses and negroes, not allowing those classes of citizens to establish a domicile. A town without an Editor!

Hamlet and no Hamlet!

King Edward has asked for an increase of $150,000 a year in his salary, making it $2,500,000. And yet we are told he is hopelessly in debt.

We can't see into the future, but we can see a little into the past, and reviewing we say that Mr. Cleveland has "deserted" twice and Mr. Bryan "nary" time. As a Democrat, the latter has the "innings."

The editor of the Norfolk Ledger has seen a man with "his future behind him." Evidently he hadn't adopted as his motto, "nulla est dies sine rectorum."

The waters are still doing great damage in many portions of the country, the city of St. Louis being a recent victim. There the loss to property is immense and some lives are reported lost.

If Richmond does go "dry" something must be done to clear that James river beverage.

Roosevelt and Rab! Rab!

Shoot the man on the spot who wrote of the "raw days in June."

Earn Your Living.

Editor Herald:—I heartily endorse a suggestion made in your paper not long since, to the effect that unless an able bodied man works neither should he eat. No man has the right to feed on a community who does not earn his bread.

There are a number of strong men in and around Farmville who do feed and yet who do not contribute one thing to the common good. Put all such to work or let them go elsewhere.

There is no room for loafers here, and they ought to find the same true in the civilized world over. We don't believe in all work and no play, but all play is abominable.

Cares For the Chickens. We have often wondered as we have seen a weak mother holding the big, fat, chubby baby while the strong father sat by holding his hands.

We were glad to call the attention of all such to the motherly qualities of a diminutive bantam rooster in our town who helps to feed the ten little bantams and when sleeping time comes to the children of the bantam family gathers full one half of the brood under his outstretched wings and keeps them warm and snug. Let the stalwart husbands "catch on."

The low lands of this section are being given over to weed and willow in large part. Corn enough could be made for our uses and some for our neighbors. Mr. H. A. Stokes would no more think of abandoning his low grounds than he would of giving up his hills, and the result is that he has "corn to sell." The same is true of scores of others. It ought to be true of all owners of low grounds. As it is they are getting to be "low grounds of sorrow."

Squirrel Scarcity. Editor Herald:—Are there as many birds singing in the tree tops as there were when you and I were boys? I think not. Often I ride for miles through the woods without hearing a note, and then the squirrels are scarce too.

In years gone by, we rarely drove a mile out into the country without seeing the little animals flying on the road side or crossing it just in front of you, and now the sight is a rare one. They haven't been shot out of the country, for nobody has a "squirrel stew" now-a-days and a broiler for breakfast is still rare. We ought to encourage the return of the birds, the squirrels and "old Mollie Cotton Tails," too.

Thanks for a bounteous strawberry crop. Now for the raspberries, dew and black berries. This is a glorious old earth, notwithstanding misunderstandings and protests.

We would still be glad to have the auto introduced into Farmville, as we are quite sure that we have those among us who have sense enough to manage it without harm to themselves or others.

TEMPER TESTED. No wonder some Farmville people are Amoyed.

Very little rest night after night. Very little comfort day after day. The constant itching of Piles or Hemorrhoids.

Any itchiness of the skin is a temper tester. Doan's Ointment is a never-failing cure.

Is endorsed by Farmville citizens for all itching skin diseases.

Mrs. M. M. Cralle, widow, who lives on High street, says: "A small spot of eczema on my hand appeared and the itching was very annoying giving me considerable trouble. The first application of Doan's Ointment, procured at H. C. Crute's drug store, stopped the itching. I continued the treatment and the cure was the result in a very short time. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Ointment."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.
