

United States Pensioners.
BANK OF BURLINGTON,
Oct. 14, 1836.
THE following circular having been received by me, from the Treasury Department, it will be necessary that a strict conformity with the rules should be observed by all classes of pensioners, who may apply either by attorney or in person.
E. T. ENGLESEY,
President and Pension Agent.

CIRCULAR.
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Second Comptroller's Office,
September 29, 1836.

The agent for paying pensions at Burlington, Vermont.
Six—In order to guard more effectually against a repetition of frauds, as heretofore practiced by the production of forged papers, the first three following additional rules will be observed by the accounting officers of the Treasury.

1. In every case where the pensioner employs an attorney to receive his pension, the execution of the power must be in the presence of at least one witness other than the magistrate before whom it is acknowledged. No payment to an attorney will be allowed unless supported by a voucher thus executed.

2. In all cases where the signature of the pensioner or his attorney is required, such pensioner or attorney will write his name at length, if capable of so doing; otherwise his signature may be by mark or cross, in which case the execution must be in the presence of at least one competent witness, other than the justice or notary who acts officially in the case.

3. No payments will in future be made to any pensioner, either in person or by attorney, who has not applied for his pension for more than one year, without the production of evidence of his identity, as prescribed in the instructions from this office of June 10, 1833, chapter 1, section 2, and form B; nor until such evidence has been transmitted to the Commissioner of pensions and a special direction authorizing the payment has been given.

4. In cases where a certificate has been issued by the commissioner of pensions to the widow or children of an officer or soldier under the act of June 7, 1832, or under the act of May 15, 1828, no proof of the relationship of the applicant to the deceased officer or soldier is to be required by the pension agent, that proof having been necessarily filed in the office of the commissioner of pensions prior to the issuing of such certificate.

Respectfully, sir, your obt. servant,
ALBION K. PARRIS,
Comptroller.

Fur Factory.
THE subscribers acquaint their friends and the public that they have entered into copartnership, and have opened a shop near the corner of Church and King streets, where they will dress and dye all kinds of Furs, at reasonable prices. They also intend to keep for sale most kinds of DRESSED and DYED FURS, and will buy all kinds of raw furs. Persons wishing to have furs dressed or dyed are invited to call and examine specimens of our work at the factory, which it is confidently believed will prove satisfactory.
BIERDEMANN & VOLK,
Burlington, Oct. 12, 1836.

IMPROVED STEAM DREDGE.—The subscriber offers to build on the most reasonable terms, at I. & J. Townsend's furnace, Albany, his newly invented Steam Dredge. Having built a number of Machines for Lyons & Howard, for the U. States, Hudson river improvement, and Canada, and also one for the U. States at Chicago, and one for a Troy company, flatters himself that his Dredge is superior to any now in use.

Persons wishing to build or contract for Steam Dredges of any size or form, either in part or the whole iron and wood work complete, will do well to call on the subscriber before they contract.

All persons are cautioned not to infringe on the rights of the subscriber, either by using or vending the same under the penalty of the law.

IMPROVED ROTARY STOVE.
THE Subscriber would just say to the public, that he has received a large quantity of the Improved Rotary Stove, of different sizes and will keep them constantly on hand at his Store, North side of Court House Square.
Also, Parlor, Box and other cook Stoves, of different Patterns.
Also, second hand Stoves to sell or Rent, cheap—also Pipe, stove trimmings, &c.
I would here remark that in consequence of the rapid sales that attended the Improved Rotary Stove the last season, it was impossible to manufacture them so as to supply by one half of the calls; but the public may be under no apprehension on that point this season, as I have over four times the amount now manufactured, that I had last season at this time, so that people from a distance may come without fear of disappointment. I here omit a long list of Recommendations, believing that the Improved Rotary Stove has been sufficiently tested, to recommend itself in this vicinity.
The improvements that we have made upon the Stove for the last season are valuable; we now make the fire Plate nearly three times the weight of those last year and turn the friction Rollers on which the cap rests, and various other improvements not necessary to mention.
The Stoves are Cast at the foundry of John D. Ward, and from the best Scotch and Monkton Pig, and are not surpassed, if equalled, for smoothness and beauty of finish, in this section of the country.
N. B. I have recently seen a few stoves in this vicinity called Improved Rotary Stoves, that have no friction rollers under the cap, but turn upon a pivot in the same manner that I first fixed mine; but after using mine in that shape one year, I found that it did not answer my expectation. I discovered that heating the stove caused it to turn very hard, especially when the stove was loaded—when there was a kettle or boiler of water upon the top it was almost impossible to turn it without spilling the water. I did not at first understand the reason, as it would turn easy when cold, but finally ascertained that by heating the stove it softened the iron, and as the boiler would rest upon one side, it caused so much friction that it was impossible to use them with safety or convenience, and in order to get rid of this friction I have placed under the outer edge of the cap friction rollers, and have them turned so as to be perfectly true and smooth. The few stoves above referred to are not made at Ward's Foundry, neither are they made from pig or remelted iron, but from the raw ore, and the plates consequently are more porous and stoggy; and the back fire plate is not more than half the thickness of mine. Any person can very easily tell my stove, or those made at Ward's, by the friction rollers, as we make no others.

New Goods—Sept. 8.
COMPOUND Chlorine Tooth Wash. the discovery of the chloride of Soda & its uses by Labarraque of Paris, was an addition to the resources of medicine of the utmost importance as a neutralizing agent. To counteract at once the principle of decay, which commencing imperceptibly, slowly gathers strength, and finally destroys, is the important service which can be derived from the use of chloride of soda, when administered with skill and care; the diseases of the teeth being, in the great majority of cases, the result of neglect, and a gradual accumulation of the principle above alluded to, it became obvious, from the earliest experiment, that the chloride was the proper remedy, and preferable to powders, dentrifices, &c. of whatever kind or pretension. By a chemical analysis it will be found that the greater part of the chloride compounds so extensively in use, do not contain a particle of the chloride of soda, on the agency of which their efficacy must necessarily depend. The article here advertised is confidently offered to the examination of the public, as possessing in an eminent degree, the virtue of neutralizing all that is offensive in the mouth and breath, removing soreness and sponginess of the gums, destroying the taint of tobacco, or any other effluvia from whatever cause.—In short, this preparation will be found to justify the various commendatory notices and recommendations it has received, where ever it has been introduced. Just received and for sale at the Variety Shop.
