MAIN POINTS SETTLED UPON

What Constitutes the Hardwick Settlement

FOR THE NEXT FOUR YEARS

No Surface Cutters Will Be Allowed to 'Blow Off Their Stones With Air Machine or Hose—One Apprentice to Six Cutters.

The main features of the four years settlement between the Hardwick granite manufacturers and their men are as follows:
That eight hours shall constitute a day's work.
That the hours of labor shall be from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. From May 1 to October 31, Saturday afternoon 3 to constitute a half holiday. Hours in winter to be changed to suit daylight.
All overtime to be paid time and one-half, double time to be paid for Sundays and the following holidays: Decoration Day, 4th of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.
No overtime to be worked without the approval of the branch, and only in case where a stone is spotted, delayed in quarrying, or required to finish out a set, shall any application for work to be done outside our ordinary working day be considered.
No journeyman granite cutter to receive less than $3.20 per day of eight hours for building work and $3.10 for monumental work.
That the sheds be heated from October 15 to April 15, to a point to be decided upon by the committees.
That we receive our pay once a week, and not over two days kept back.
That we receive our pay in working hours, and in cash.
That pay day shall be on Saturday.
Whenever a workman is discharged he shall carry his tools and receive his pay at once in cash. When a workman leaves of his own accord he shall carry in his tools and notify the employer, or the foreman in charge at once, after which he shall receive his pay in check. If, however, the workman fails to notify the foreman as above he shall be held responsible for his sharpening at the rate of 27 cents per day until such time as he does serve notice. In case a workman leaves the shop in working hours, he must notify the foreman before leaving. If he fails to do so he shall forfeit his pay for time actually worked during the half day in which he actually left the works.
All men working out of doors shall receive 25 cents per day above their indoor rate, unless they have proper covering. They must also be put in the shed when it storms.
No surface cutters allowed in the shed when men are working, and cutters are not allowed to blow off their stones with the air machine or hose.
That firms furnish tool boys to carry and grind their necessary tools, but in case a firm is not large enough to furnish a tool boy, or in case cutters get out of tools when tool boys are furnished, said cutters shall be required to carry and grind their own tools.
One apprentice to every six journeymen granite cutters; apprentices to serve three years.
All stone cutting machine workers shall be members of Hardwick branch

RECIPE FOR BOILS, PIMPLES AND SORES.

Shake well in a bottle the following and take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime, viz.: fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce; compound syrup sarsaparilla, three ounces. These ingredients are harmless and can be obtained from any good pharmacy here at nominal cost.
This mixture is said to be a splendid spring tonic and blood cleanser, because of its gentle, though prompt, action in forcing the kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and cast out in the urine all acids, waste and micro-organisms which cause pimples, boils and eruptions and which often ruin a good complexion.
Now is the time to take it.

BRILLIANT OPENING

Tenney's Men Downed Brooklyn 1 to 0 Yesterday

IN A GRAND GOOD GAME

Young "Cy" Young Pitched in Mid-season Form, Letting Trolley-doggers Down With Three Hits—New Men Show Up Well.

Boston, April 13.—Tenney's men opened their season by making splendid use of nothing victory over Brooklyn yesterday afternoon. Young "Cy" Young was in the box for the home team, and pitched mid-season ball, allowing the visitors but three scattered hits. Stricker was touched up for six hits, which were also well scattered.
But it was Stricker's generosity that resulted in the only score of the game, and that came in the first inning. Bates, the first man up for Boston, was given a free pass, and went to second and third respectively on Tenney's and Beaumont's outs: Howard was the man with the goods and he came to the bat and sent out a clean single, bringing in little Bates. Bridwell was the third out by way of the pitcher.
It looked like more scores for the locals in the second inning, when Alperman fumbled Richey's grounder and Brain placed one between Casey and Lewis. On the hit Richey went to third and after Needham had popped out and Young was saving away at the air, Brain stole second. Bates couldn't bring them in, however, going out on a grounder to Casey.
Brooklyn's best chance to score came in the first inning after Young had passed Maloney. Casey sacrificed and Lumley's out sent Maloney to third. Jordan was next up, but he couldn't help matters, dying in his try to Richey. After that Brooklyn never got beyond second. Besides holding them with his pitching, Young also fielded his position magnificently. One particularly good play was the way he nabbed a sizzling grounder from Jordan's bat in the fourth inning and cut off Lumley at second, after the latter had made the 1st hit for his side, and Bridwell completed the double by hurling to Tenney in time. The crowd cheered frantically.
The other two hits of Young were a single by Jordan in the seventh and a double by Alperman in the eighth. The latter was run down between second and third immediately afterwards on Butler's grounder to Brain.
(All other games called off because of rain or snow.)

AFTER SHE BOWED.

Why, yes, good reasons I can bring I think, that she's a horrid thing.
I know quite well we won't agree, But she's as mean as she can be.
I'll hold my tongue, if you prefer, But still I have no use for her.
That girl,—but I'll not say a word, I'm prejudiced! Now that's absurd.
A treacherous, tame pussy cat! What can men see in girls like that?
I don't abuse her, no indeed! There really isn't any need.
There's nothing that I need to say—The creature gives herself away.
She can't deceive a woman's eyes; They penetrate through her disguise.
But men don't show such evidence That they possess a lick of sense.
I don't believe she'll turn her head, But if she dares, I'll cut her dead.
I'll not deuse her—not worth while, I simply say she's not my style.
She bowed! Look there! I think, don't you, She's stylish! And so lovely, too.

SPRING ON THE GREAT LAKES.

Lake Ontario is comparatively free from ice, and there are no ice fields in sight of the principal ports of Lake Erie, except on Buffalo, toward which part of all the floating ice drifts on its way to Niagara river. All the Lake Huron reports are to the effect that the ice has disappeared from its shores. Miscellaneous island reports as follows, under date of the 13 inst.: "No ice visible on Lake Huron or north channel. In the south channel the ice is solid. Heavy fields of broken ice extended from Graham shoals to St Helena and Waquoit concerning conditions at the Lake Michigan end of the straits is very promising. The straits are said to be full of heavy, rough ice which has been frozen hard by a spell of wintry weather. The other Lake Michigan reports are all favorable, including those from Green Bay and Sturgeon bay. The ice on Lake Superior is badly broken up in places, and at other points is still intact, but becoming honeycombed.
Two steamers upward bound for Lake Superior ports have been brought to a halt above Pipe Island, near Detroit, where the ice is still 12 inches thick. Other steamers will soon join them, and there will be upward and downward-bound craft in the ice of the straits within a few days, if the weather continues favorable for preparatory work. The vessel men are eager to get their craft out, as a prompt start may figure in the season's work to the extent of a full trip.—From the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

BROTHERS' QUEER REUNION AFTER THIRTY-SIX YEARS.

Relationship Prev'd After One Had Other Arrested as Impostor.
Seattle, Wash., April 13.—After having been separated for thirty-six years, two brothers were united in a novel and romantic manner here yesterday. One of them, Johann Weber, a resident of Pennsylvania, after complying with requests made by Yost Weber, a longshoreman at Seattle, for money, came west to see if the Seattle man was really his kin. When the man was pointed out the Pennsylvanian declared he was not his brother and had him arrested as an impostor.
After returning to Pennsylvania he was again called west as a witness in the case. Notwithstanding Johann's denial of the relationship, Yost maintained he was a long-lost brother whom he had not seen since leaving Germany for a seafaring life thirty-six years ago.
United States Commissioner Kiefer, before whom the case was tried, hit upon a plan of having the brothers separately write down their cousin's names. Both did this, and the lists tallied.
Other tests were made, including a recital of the longshoreman's class at confinement. When it became plain to both that they were brothers there was an affecting scene.

MEASURE WOULD KILL HYPOTHETICAL QUESTION

Moreland Thinks Experts Favor Side Which Employs Them.
Albany, N. Y., April 13.—A bill aimed against the abuse of expert testimony in murder trials where insanity is pleaded as a defense was introduced in the Assembly yesterday by majority leader Moreland.
The bill would prevent hypothetical questions being asked in any criminal case where insanity is a defense.
Mr. Moreland says the idea is to do away with the experts, who, he said, usually receive large fees for professional opinions favoring the side which retains them.

NO LIFE INSURANCE FOR MURDERERS, SAYS COURT.

Beneficiary of Person Executed for a Crime Cannot Collect.
Chicago, April 13.—The appellate court declared yesterday that public policy forbids the recovery of insurance on a person executed for murder. Robert Kilpatrick, who was executed in Pennsylvania for murdering his housekeeper, Elizabeth Bearmore, at Chester, Pa., Feb. 14, 1902, insured his life before committing the murder. Following his execution the Metropolitan Life Insurance company was asked to make payment on the policy. Suit was subsequently brought in Chicago to recover. The lower court here decided adversely, and this decision has been affirmed.

The Blow which Knocked out Corbett

was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knockout blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Frazier has brought the science of the great vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach is utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and supple by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other disorders of the organs of digestion and assimilation.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and while using the "Discovery" use a constitutional remedy. Why? The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine, and a large quantity of common sense Medical Advice will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 81 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

SAW OYSTERS GROWING ON TREES.

Fed L. Page Tells of Novel Sight in Florida.
Captiva Island, Gulf of Mexico, April 1, 1907.
Editor Barre Daily Times: Dear Sir—Thinking some of the Vermont friends have never seen oysters growing on trees, I will give, through your columns, a description as I have seen them.
I was invited to join a party and we made the run from Alva down the Calabashatic and across to the island Saturday—a distance of sixty-five miles—in a five-horse power gasoline launch, in nine hours, including a stop of an hour on the way.
We could hardly discern as we left the broad mouth of the river (over two miles wide at this point) and entered the gulf, only by the color of the water, which began to show a deeper and deeper shade of blue as we left the mainland. Passing along by Sambil to its southern extremity, we enter "Blind Pass," swing around Buck Key and enter a little cove on the east coast of Captiva, and tie up at a small landing among the mangroves.
Passing up the landing through the mangroves we come out on a sloping shore, covered with a dense growth of scrubby semi-tropical vegetation, of which I would like to give a description, but will limit this to one or two which interested me very much. The mango, or mangrove, seems to be the dividing line between the sea and the land and continually, like Oliver Twist, searching out for more.
I crushed, twisted and wormed my way down through the dense mass of growth to the very water's edge for some fine specimens, where the branches overhanging the water dropped down tendons or roots until they touched the water, until one could not tell the original tree from the scores and hundreds of others connected with it, some with the root up five or six feet branching out in every direction like a huge spider. At low tide, from where I stood, could be seen tons and hundreds of tons of oysters, the fibre of the roots growing in and around the shell and the shell clinging to the wood and all one solid, inseparable mass. I succeeded in getting some fine specimens of the roots and the shell inseparable.
Another (to me) interesting tree the natives called the gum tree, a species of rubber. As I stuck my knife blade into the bark a fluid white as milk and as sticky as glue would drip like sap from a tree, and about as thick as syrup.
The island is about half a mile wide at this point and composed entirely of shell, washed up by the action of the waves or some storm. After supper we crossed over to the gulf side and took our first plunge into the deep, blue, briny gulf, and coming back and to our bunk to sleep like infants, or, as one remarked the next morning, some of slept like a log with the saw running through it.
Will soon be homeward bound.
Fred L. Page.

THE PRIZE WINNERS IN CANdle PIN LEAGUE.

High Average Was Made by Brown and High Three-string Total by Gabeloni—Carvers Were Far in the Lead.
The prize winners of the various teams and members of the Rock-candle candle pin league, whose series closed Wednesday evening, are given as follows:
No bowler can take more than one of the regular prizes, but he can take all the special prizes, if he wins them.
A bowler has to roll two-thirds of the scheduled games before he is entitled to a prize.
High average, Brown, 90 25-60, gold medal.
Second high average, Alexander, 89 44-52, silver medal.
High three strings, Gabeloni, 351, gold medal.
Second high three strings, Brown, 301, but Rossi, 298, gets silver medal.
High single string, Gabeloni, 144, but Hepburn, 130, gets the gold medal.
Second high single string, Hepburn, 120, Brown, 117, Gilley, 115 (Gilley rolled 89 strings, which is one string short of two-thirds of the scheduled games), Jack Fraser, 114; Bianchi, 114, gets the silver medal.
Averages of the bowlers who have rolled two-thirds of the games or more: Brown, Lumpers, 90 25-60; Alexander, Rushers, 89 44-53; Gabeloni, Carvers, 89 7-54; Rossi, Carvers, 88 37-60; Nute, Rushers, 88 1-43; Bianchi, Carvers, 86 15-41; Capit, Carvers, 84 38-43; E. Smith, 84 66-48; Nicori, Nippers, 83 35-43; Carwell, Rushers, 83 10-43; Mariani, Nippers, 82 29-13; Scampini, Carvers, 82 48-48; Jones, Lumpers, 81 54-67; D. W. Smith, Rushers, 81 23-48; Russell, Doughers, 81 3-42; Hepburn, Rushers, 80 47-48; Giose, Nippers, 80 22-42.
