ST. JOHNSBURY WAS BADLY OUTCLASSED

Goddard Seminary Won Three-Inning Ball Game By Score of 20 to 5.

The St. Johnsbury Academy baseball team met its Waterloo on the Goddard campus Saturday afternoon when the seminary team ran up a score of 20 to 5 against them in three innings.

St. Johnsbury batted in the first half of the fourth and ran in three more scores, but the umpire called the game as soon as they were retired as they had to take the 8.15 train for home, and the score went back to even innings.

There was a large crowd present hoping to see a good game. Goddard ran in six scores in the first inning, twelve in the second and two in the third.

St. Johnsbury played very loosely and gave ragged support to their pitcher, who did creditable work. They were hopelessly weak at third and right field. Both pitchers were wild. Lewis let six walk and Smythe seven.

Goddard plays her return game with Montpelier Seminary this afternoon and this will be the last game unless there is a tie with Montpelier when a third game will possibly be arranged.

FLAWED UP AGAIN.

Fires on Mt. Hunger Broke out Afresh Last Night.

Waterbury, June 7.—The fire to the north of Mt. Hunger flamed up brightly Sunday night and many people here were out watching it from elevated places. The heavy south wind fanned the blaze over the recently burned territory into activity again.

Fire still rages in the North Duxbury forests and a gang of men in the employ of V. L. Perkins are fighting to save the pulp company's property and incidentally that of others. The company's loss has already been large, some 300 acres of timber and pulp woodland having already burned over. Mr. Perkins has also a gang at work in Fayston to protect the company's property there.

ON MT. MANSFIELD.

Summit House Was Threatened by Forest Fires.

Stowe, June 7.—About 50 men from this place went to the top of the mountain just south of Mt. Mansfield to fight a forest fire which had been started on the Underhill side. The occupants of the Summit House on Mt. Mansfield gave the alarm as such a pall of smoke had settled over the town that it was impossible to see the mountain. The last reports were that the fire had just reached timber land owned by F. E. Smith. If it gets beyond control it will mean an immense loss as this is the largest section of valuable timber in the town.

Explicated His Crime in Death Chair.

Ossining, N. Y., June 8.—Arthur Flanagan, colored, who murdered Hugh McGowan, keeper in the West Side prison, New York, in October, 1901, explicated his crime in the death chair this morning.

POLICE CHIEF IS REMOVED

Mayor Burke of Burlington Stirs up Police.

ASKED FOR RESIGNATION

But Chief Brownell Refused—Mayor Takes Command of the Force.

Burlington, June 6.—Mayor James E. Burke, who has just taken his office, today began an investigation of the police department. His acts at once produced a stir.

He makes the general claim that the department as at present constituted is of no value. He notified Officers Cook and Brothers, that they are suspended pending an inquiry. Then he wrote a letter to Chief of Police Edward F. Brownell to the effect that charges had been preferred against him and giving him an opportunity to hand in his resignation.

The chief replied that he would not resign, but would face all charges. Mayor Burke suspended the chief on receipt of the answer. The latter denied the mayor and tonight still held his office. The chief told the mayor that while he could suspend officers, he did not have the power to suspend the chief.

Mayor Burke announces that Chief Brownell must vacate his office pending the result of the investigation, issued his own orders as acting chief of police and notified Chief Brownell that interference would mean prosecution. The force is obeying the mayor's orders.

Mayor Burke lined up the patrolmen tonight and told them they must be more thorough in their work. He scored them in general terms for alleged non-performance of duty.

The suspended officers are Republicans, and it is said that Mayor Burke claims that they were too active in politics in the recent municipal campaign.

By the rules in force here police officers are forbidden to take part in politics.

RUTLAND ITALIAN STABBED.

Was Nearly Disembowelled by Another Italian He Had Assaulted.

Rutland, June 7.—James Braza, an Italian, was stabbed by another Italian in a row near the Columbian Marble Co.'s plant in this city about 5.20 o'clock tonight and is in a serious condition at the hospital. Braza and a party of friends were coming up the railroad track from Center Rutland to this city when they met another party of Italians. Braza got into a row with one of the latter. An Italian who goes by the name of "John" stepped in between the two to separate them. It is alleged that Braza picked up a rock and hit "John" on the head, whereupon the peace-maker pulled out a knife and struck Braza in the stomach, cutting a horrible gash which allowed part of the contents to escape. Braza also received another slash in the hip which struck a bone.

Braza walked to a neighboring house, where a doctor was summoned. His wounds were bound up and he was taken to the City hospital, where his stomach was taken out, cleaned and put back and the wounds sewed up.

The doctors say tonight that Braza has a chance to recover.

VERMONT CONGREGATIONALISTS.

One Hundred and Eighth Meeting at Burlington this Week.

Burlington, June 8.—The 108th meeting of the Congregational convention of Vermont will be held in the College street church, this city, the 9th, 10th and 11th. It is expected that this meeting will be highly influential in giving direction to the doctrinal thought of the denomination in its more practical aspects, and an excellent program along this line has been prepared. The general theme of the convention will be the work of Christian evangelism by the Congregational churches of Vermont. The presiding officer will be Rev. Dr. C. H. Merrill of St. Johnsbury, secretary of the Vermont Domestic Missionary society.

ELECTRIC CAR CHASED DEER.

Doe Ran Half a Mile Ahead of It at Springfield at High Speed.

Springfield, June 6.—Passengers in an electric car had a rare experience last night, in having participated in a race between the car and a deer, which appeared in the highway about three miles from the city. The animal, a doe, was frightened by the car, but started along the road ahead of it.

The motorist put on speed and for half a mile the race continued. The deer finally ended the chase by leaping into a field, and she soon disappeared in the woods.

USE OF WATER CURTAILED.

Montpelier Takes Measures to Protect Its Supply.

Montpelier, June 6.—The city council has curtailed the use of city water. Reelin pond is falling at the rate of half an inch daily.

The supply for elevator motors has been shut off and the use of water for sprinkling lawns has been limited to one-half hour each day.

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL

The Order Honored Its Dead Yesterday.

SERMON BY REV. KINZIE

Members of Hiawatha Lodge and Bright Star Rebekah Lodge Attended Baptist Church.

It was Memorial day among the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of this city yesterday, and in the evening the members of the Hiawatha Lodge, No. 20, I. O. O. F., and Bright Star Rebekah Lodge, No. 18, attended the services at the Baptist church, where they were addressed by Rev. W. A. Kinzie, who is a member of the order.

There was a large attendance, the whole inner tier of seats being reserved and occupied by members of the two lodges, who marched to the Odd Fellows hall and gathered to the church.

Rev. Mr. Kinzie gave a very interesting address and paid a handsome tribute to the memory of those who have died. He assured the members present that it gave him great pleasure in behalf of the church, to extend a hearty welcome, because the church recognizes a kindred interest in the great principles of the order and those of the church. The two have much in common. Fraternity, friendship and truth are common to each.

"I am not unmindful that this is the memorial day of your order, when you call to mind the memory of those who have departed. In so far as they have born any part in the noble work of the order, we honor them, and we offer you who are now engaged in the same work, a Godspeed. We are glad to extend from this desk a word of sympathy for those who have gone, and may the examples of their lives lead you to nobler living and to a larger fraternity."

Rev. Mr. Kinzie's sermon was from 2 Corinthians, fourth chapter and seventh and eighth verses. Before the sermon W. D. Kidder sang a solo in an acceptable manner.

WANT SALE OF FIREWORKS PROHIBITED

City Council Requests Merchants to Bar Them Because of Extreme Danger of Fire.

A special meeting of the city council was held Saturday evening, the special matters for consideration being the sale of fireworks and fireworks on the 4th and the city water supply. There is no immediate danger of a shortage of water, but it was deemed best to urge moderation in the use of water for lawn purposes.

A permit was granted A. F. Dodge to dig up street on Maple avenue.

The monthly report of Chief of Police Brown was read and placed on file.

The report of the board of health for May gives the number of deaths as 20.

The street committee reported in favor of a sidewalk on Foster street. Accepted and adopted. The same committee reported in favor of repairing South Main street at Jockey Hollow, if there were sufficient funds so to do.

It was voted the office hours of the water superintendent be from 8 to 12 in the forenoon and from 1.30 to 5 p. m. and 6.30 to 8 p. m. Mondays and Saturdays, excepting October and April, these months shall include every week day evenings in the said months.

The question was raised as to the amount of the city's water supply. It was stated by Supt. Campbell that the Bolster reservoir was still flowing over the stand pipe and the mayor stated that the Orange brook supply was two feet below the top of the dam.

It was voted that the council make a formal request through the press that the merchants refrain from selling fire crackers and fireworks on the 4th, owing to the extreme dryness of the season and danger of fire, unless heavy rains should fall before that date.

The town of Plainfield inquired if the city wishes to sell its old fire tub. Referred to the fire committee and chief engineer.

Several city warrants were read and ordered paid.

It was voted the finance committee report on the city finances at the next regular meeting.

The matter of dumping rubbish in the river and brooks of the city was referred to the city attorney for action.

It was voted that a hydrant be placed on Blackwell street at its intersection with Johns street.

WATERMAN STILL MISSING.

Search for Waterbury Man Was Unsuccessful.

Waterbury, June 7.—A searching party of 30 or 40 men were out all day Sunday scouring the woods for F. M. Waterman, who disappeared more than a week ago. The theory of Mr. Waterman's friends is that he went away in a temporary aberration of mind and has perhaps died in the woods. This theory, however, is not generally accepted. The party thoroughly searched the woods and hills on the east side of the Winooski, between here and Middlesex without any results.

F. O. McCARTNEY IS HONORED IN BARRE

Memorial Services to the Prominent Socialist Under Auspices of Barre Local.

FOR LICENSING SALOONS.

Pastor of Hedding M.E. Church Makes a Vigorous Attack on the License Law.

A memorial for the late Rev. Frederic O. MacCartney of Rockland, Mass., who was probably the foremost Socialist of that state and also a worker for the cause of the laboring man, was held in Tool Sharpener's hall in this city yesterday forenoon. There was a small attendance. The principal speaker was Phillip J. Halvosa who paid an eloquent tribute to the Rev. Mr. MacCartney. Remarks were also made by several others.

The gathering was called to order by John Anderson, who spoke briefly, expressing regret that there were not more people present. He explained the call for the memorial, that at the last meeting of Barre Local of Socialists it was voted to have the memorial and that the unions of the city were invited to attend. He then called upon James Cruickshank, president of the G. C. N. U. Mr. Cruickshank spoke briefly saying that not until recently had he known much of Mr. MacCartney. "Every step he took was in the right direction."

Ben F. Healey, president of the Central Labor Union and Timothy Ivers of the quartermen's union responded briefly on the worth of the man, and then the chairman read an editorial from the Evening Telegram of Saturday calling attention to the memorial meeting and eulogizing the Rev. Mr. MacCartney.

The last speaker, Mr. Halvosa, spoke for about half an hour, his remarks being frequently applauded. He gave a review of his life, of his theological training, of his leaving the ministry in the Universalist church, but not leaving as a "black-leg," of his work in the legislature of Massachusetts and of his untiring devotion to the cause of the laboring man. It was fitting that Barre, one of the strongest union towns in the country, should pay this tribute to him, but his regret was that more were not present. The opera house should have been filled to overflowing, instead of the number that assembled in Tool Sharpener's hall.

"We Socialists have lost a friend, a comrade, a brother; the laboring men have lost a pure-minded man, an unrepentable man, a man above corruption and above suspicion. Although he is dead may his life be an inspiration to all of us."

Following Mr. Halvosa's address, a motion was adopted that resolutions of sympathy be drawn up, that they be inserted in the papers of the city and that a copy of the resolutions be sent to the father of the Rev. F. O. MacCartney. The following committee was elected to draw up the resolutions, being composed of Socialists and trade-unionists: James Cruickshank, John Morris, Phillip J. Halvosa, Ben F. Healey and William Murray.

Rev. Mr. MacCartney lectured in this city last winter.

CITY OF BARRE IS CONDEMNED

Says Rev. R. F. Lowe, in Sunday Sermon.

FOR LICENSING SALOONS.

Pastor of Hedding M.E. Church Makes a Vigorous Attack on the License Law.

In a sermon on temperance at the Hedding M. E. church yesterday morning, Rev. R. F. Lowe, pastor of the church, declared that "the city of Barre is condemned of God" for having allowed the licensed saloons to be opened on its streets.

There was a very large attendance, the body of the house being well filled.

Rev. Mr. Lowe took for his theme "What should be the attitude of temperance people toward these new conditions in Vermont?" and said in part: "This new law came upon the temperance people unexpectedly. They had been asleep, thinking that they could depend upon the prohibition law, which had stood for fifty years, to always stand, and they were caught. In one sense I can almost say that it is a good thing in disguise, as it will serve to awaken them."

Now that the license people have got the law, it is up to them to enforce it, though I think we should stand by all the restrictions of the law. I do not think that this state is going to be satisfied with the law and we must put our efforts into the coming legislature.

I cannot at this early date make an impartial estimate of this license law. A city official told me that there has been more drunkenness in the past month in this city than there ever was before in its history.

The merchants are complaining of the general loss in the productivity of the city, and I believe that the city will not make one dollar this year out of extra license money, when the cost of extra police, the increase in the poor appropriation and the loss in the productivity of the city is reckoned up.

This city has gone into the debauchery of its young manhood. It has allowed the elegant, lighted saloon to be the best entertainment for its young men, and the city is condemned of God for allowing such things to be done.

It must be lamentably short sighted if it cannot see a better way of managing the liquor traffic. This city should make control attractions. There should be a Y. M. C. A. building, a gymnasium or any similar places for its young people to go into to take up their spare time. And these things should engage the attention of every good citizen of Barre."

BARRE BURNS CLUB AT CALEDONIA PARK

Annual Picnic Saturday Afternoon Was Well Attended—A Pleasant Occasion.

The Barre Burns Club opened the season for picnics at Caledonia park this summer when nearly the full membership of the club and their wives congregated there Saturday afternoon.

The weather was all that could be asked for and the picnic was up to the standard of past years in the way of success and pleasure. The ladies carried big baskets of lunches which were eaten with all the zest that an afternoon out doors gives to the appetite. An orchestra of four pieces led by George Ingalls made music for dancing which was freely indulged in.

The first game to be played was base ball and the game was a lively one from start to finish. The players were William Scott, captain, Smith, Campbell, Russell Booth, Gordon, McPhee, Stewart, McKenzie, Mackie, captain, J. Anderson, Morrison, Anderson, McPhee, Paterson, Milne, Lamont, Mann. Only three innings were played and Captain Scott's team won 17 to 11. One of the many features of the game was Paterson's three base hit.

Next came the girls' race, the winners being Alice Smith 1st, Florence Ingalls 2d, Bessie Morrison 3d, followed by two small boys' races, the winner being Geo. Milton 1st, Leslie Morrison 2d, Johnnie McDonald 3d, John Mortimer 4th; second race, William Milton 1st, Edmund Rae-side 2d, Alex Laing 3d, Willis Anderson 4th.

Last but not least came the foot ball game and it is safe to say that never was there a more furious and lively game witnessed on those grounds. Mackie and Scott as captains chose their teams, Mackie choosing Robert Ingalls for his goal keeper and Charles McMillan was Scott's goal keeper. It was thought for a while that time would be called without either side scoring so well did the goal keepers block their goals, but at last Mackie's side drove the ball past McMillan and won the game, as time was called soon after the next kickoff.

This ended the sports and the picnic soon broke up. A seven o'clock special on the Wells River brought the people home.

The committee to whom the credit for the success of the picnic is due was as follows: J. S. Spence, H. Christie, R. Ingalls, James Elrick, James Lamont, Alex Smith, Geo. Stewart, Alex Cruickshank.
