RUSSIA NONCOMMITTAL

Declares That Manchurian Affairs Are Still Casseled.

St. Petersburg, July 20.—The foreign office states that the Manchurian question has not yet reached a stage justifying a formal statement at this time. It points out that the pourparlers are continuing; that the ports to be opened have not been selected nor the details arranged.

Nothing has yet appeared in any Russian paper on either of these questions.

At first glance the above dispatch appears to contradict the official announcement made in Washington of the receipt of China's "promise" to open several ports in Manchuria to the world's trade and Russia's "formal assurance" of her assent. This, however, is not the case. The Washington dispatch did not say that the negotiations had been concluded or that the ports had been specified. "It is gathered," said the dispatch, "from the communications received (at Washington) that they (the ports to be opened) are Mukden and Tatunggao."

German Ships For Chinese Waters.

Berlin, July 20.—The Tageblatt's correspondent at Kiel says the German east Asiatic squadron will in the course of the year be strengthened by three vessels, the cruiser Sperber, the river gunboat Tsingtau and the war vessel presented to the government by German fleet societies abroad. Other additions will give the station six new vessels, of which three will be detailed for service on the Yangtsekiang.

Another View of Russia's Intentions.

Shanghai, July 20.—A reliable mining engineer, who has returned from his third visit to Manchuria, where he traveled with General Kuropatkin, the Russian minister of war, declares that Russia will never evacuate Manchuria owing to the enormous sums she has spent in buildings, fortresses and barracks. She is now ready to fight if the demand for withdrawal is pressed upon her.

Chief Arthur's Successor III.

Mendville, Pa., July 20.—A. B. Youngson, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who succeeds the late P. M. Arthur as grand chief of the organization, is seriously ill in the Mendville City hospital, the result of a dangerous carbuncle on his neck.
