MIDWINTER BANQUET DISCUSSED.
The question of holding a midwinter banquet was informally discussed but no definite action was taken. It was decided that it is necessary for the good of the league to bring the members together and that a banquet is what will do it. On the other hand it was questioned whether it would be advisable to hold a banquet in January and another in connection with the annual meeting next fall. It was voted that the secretary send out communications to the members of the league to ascertain whether they are in favor of holding a banquet at some date after the middle of the coming January.

On motion, it was voted that the president appoint a legislative committee for the next year to number, to look after the interests of the league at the session of 1906. President Fish will make announcement of this committee later.

COURT HAS ADJOURNED.

Many Cases Ready and Waiting for Trial but Judge Could Not Remain.

The September term of Chittenden county court took its adjournment on Wednesday, November 23. Although there were a large number of cases ready and waiting for trial, it was necessary for Judge Haseltin to hold court elsewhere and the Chittenden county session had to be adjourned.
In the case of Carter Berry & Co. vs. C. V. Richardson, judgment was entered for the plaintiff to recover damages of $1,113 and costs of $214.
In the case of Christie Peters vs. G. W. Kelley and J. B. Rowley, judgment was entered for the defendants, such a verdict having been rendered by a jury early in the term. A motion was made in this case to have the verdict set aside on the ground that Mr. Kelley had treated two of the jurors after the case was completed but the motion was later withdrawn.
The entire morning was occupied in calling the docket and a great many cases were continued.

In the case of Henry Clark, administrator vs. Stevens & Terry, G. S. Fisher was appointed special master.

In the case of George L. Jarvis vs. the Singer Manufacturing Co. the plaintiff as appellant was ordered to furnish bail in the sum of $50 at least 30 days before the opening of the next term of court.

A decree for the orator was entered in the chancery case of Henry Conlin vs. O. S. Dadds.

There was a hearing on a motion to remove the attorney in the divorce case of Margaret Kennedy vs. William Reeves, possession of the premises sued for was left with the court.

Goulding, Post 41, of Willington, the former special aide, to this office.

WIFE BEATER IN COURT.

Adelore Hamlin Found Guilty of Intoxication and Beating of the Peace.

Because his family will need all the money he can contribute to their support, Adelore Hamlin received only a nominal fine in city court Saturday for beating his wife and for getting drunk. Hamlin was arrested Friday morning at two o'clock by the police after he had driven his wife and children from the house. Throwing whiskey had permeated Hamlin's system and when he returned home at night he concluded that his wife and two small children would be better off out in the cold than beside the fire and he accordingly made them go. He then started to throw his furniture about but was stopped by the police.
Judge Hamlin pleaded not guilty to charges of breach of the peace and intoxication. Officer Moran testified for the State and Hamlin was found guilty. For a second offense of intoxication he was fined $5 and costs of $11.4. The alternate sentence being 11 days in the House of Correction. For breach of the peace he was fined $5 and costs of $9.39, the alternate sentence being 8 days in jail. In the branch of the peace case he was fined $5 and in the intoxication case at $10, which Hamlin will furnish.
In finding Hamlin, Judge Mower said he had no sympathy for a wife-beater but that because of circumstances in Hamlin's family which would demand all the support he could give he would for the time in the branch of the peace case a nominal one. He warned Hamlin, however, that if he got into court again he might expect no mercy.

FALARDEAU'S CAPACITY.

Alleged Ability to Drink a Quart of Whiskey Not Proven.

Although he admitted having drunk one pint of whiskey and part of another, Louis Falardeau, when arraigned before Justice F. G. Webster Nov. 23 denied that he was drunk and gave expression to the idea that he could drink a quart of whiskey any time and not get full. He was found in front of the Carnegie library building flat on the ground but he explained that by saying he had the shakes, resulting from an attack of acute, contracted in New York. The officers were of the opinion that Falardeau had the shakes but that they were caused by liquor and he was convicted and fined $5 and costs of $12.30. He will serve the alternate sentence of ten days in jail.
The former brothers, Harvey and Victor, were arrested Nov. 25 by the police upon a complaint that they were making a disturbance in their rented rooms on College street, opposite the Carnegie library building. They pleaded guilty before Justice Webster and each was fined $5 and costs. They will serve the alternate sentences of ten days in jail.

CONGRESS OPENS.

Great Crowd of Spectators Gather to Witness the Routine Proceedings.

CANNON ELECTED SPEAKER.

Received 245 Votes and Williams 128— Both Houses Adjourn in Honor of Dead Members—Many Bills and Joint Resolutions of Wide Variety Introduced.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The assembling to-day of the members of the Fifty-Ninth Congress for their first session, was marked by no unusual incidents but it attracted to the capitol crowds of spectators who took a lively interest in the proceedings. Society was out in force and filled the reserved galleries, while visitors, unable to find seats, fanned the corridors to catch glimpses of public men. In the Senate the proceedings were brief.

The House was in session for more than three hours and while the proceedings followed the programme that has marked the opening of Congress for many years, there was enough of interest to hold a large audience during the entire time.
One noticeable feature was the absence of flowers, which heretofore have been common to both chambers, due to a resolution adopted unanimously by the Senate and to an order of the speaker of the House.

Senators Allison and Morgan were appointed by Vice-President Fairbanks as a committee to notify the President that Congress was ready to receive any communication he desired to make. The Senate was in session only 20 minutes. Senators Aldrich of Rhode Island, Knox of Pennsylvania, Warner of Missouri and Frazier of Tennessee, took the oath of office and an adjournment was taken as a mark of respect to the late Senator Platt of Connecticut.

Steps preliminary to organization were taken by the House. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was re-elected speaker, the members of the House took the oath of office; the officers and floor employees of the body were re-elected; the rules of the last Congress were adopted and members drew for seats, all of which was enlivened by the presence of the crowds in the galleries; the animation of the reunion of veteran members and the interest of new ones.

In a brief speech against the adoption of the rules, the minority leader, Mr. Williams of Mississippi, touched on the interest of the day in tariff legislation and told of the new republican "idlers" which were being wafted to Washington on breezes from every part of the country. These, he said, might be properly legislated for should the "minority of the majority" stand with the democratic members in opposing the adoption of the old rules.
A committee was appointed to act with the Senate committee in notifying President Roosevelt that Congress was ready to transact business, the rules committee and the committee on mileage were appointed, the House adjourned after a session which lasted three and a half hours in compliance with resolutions announcing the death of Senator Platt of Connecticut and Representative Marsh of Illinois.

SELECTION OF SPEAKER.

Speaker Cannon was placed in nomination for speaker by Mr. Hepburn of Iowa and the first applause of the session followed. Mr. Williams of Mississippi was nominated on behalf of the minority by Mr. Henry of Texas, provoking democratic applause. The roll call for the election of speaker at once proceeded.
Cannon received 245 votes and Williams 128. Cannon accepted the position saying: "I thank you for the honor you have conferred on me, particularly as I may be able to consider your action as an endorsement of my services as speaker during the last Congress. The House is powerless without a quorum. Therefore I ask of you not only charity for and patience with my short coming as presiding officer, but also prompt attendance and diligence on your part, which alone can make our coming session advantageous to the country."

Henry Limoge Fined for Illegal Possession of an Overcoat.

Accused of stealing and of receiving stolen goods Henry Limoge was in city court Saturday and after a hearing was acquitted on the count charging him with stealing but was found guilty of receiving stolen goods. INVESTIGATIONS WANTED.

Representative Robinson of Arkansas introduced three joint resolutions providing for the investigation of campaign funds, expenditures on the Panama canal and insurance companies having an interest in the canal. The campaign fund resolutions provides for a special commission of fifteen members of the House and five senators and stipulates that campaign funds be investigated for the years 1892, 1896, 1900 and 1904. The Panama canal expenditures resolution provides for a special committee of four senators and seven members of the House and the insurance resolution provides for a committee of five senators and nine members of the House. This resolution suggests that the committee conduct its investigation with a view to reporting on the feasibility of federal control of interstate insurance.

Representative William Allen Smith of Michigan introduced a resolution asking that the secretary of the navy investigate the treaties between Great Britain and the United States which prevent the United States from having more than one warship on the great lakes at one time. The resolution states that this provision makes it impossible for American ships to engage in the building of warships on the great lakes.

Representative Hearst of New York introduced a bill to increase the powers of the interstate commerce commission and to expedite the final decision of cases arising under the act to regulate commerce by creating an interstate commerce court. This bill was introduced by Mr. Hearst in the last Congress. He also introduced a measure providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people and to enable the United States of America to acquire, maintain and operate electric telegraphs and to pay therefor by sale of bonds redeemable out of the net earnings.

CANAL BILL INTRODUCED.

CHANGE IN CUSTOMS DISTRICT.

Headquarters Special Agency to Be at House's Point.

(Cor. of the N. Y. Evening Post.)

Washington, Dec. 4.—An important change in the customs districts about Lake Champlain has been promulgated by the treasury department. For several months Assistant Secretary Reynolds has been investigating the customs work throughout New England with a view to the rearrangement of districts. This work has now been completed, and the customs districts of Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., have been attached to the third special agency district, the headquarters of which has been transferred from Ogdensburg to Rouses Point, N. Y. The object of altering the district lines is to place the whole of Lake Champlain in one district. Heretofore the western side was under one official and the eastern side under another. Bringing Vermont and northern New York into one district consolidates under a single official all the customs work on the commercial gateway to Canada, comprising the ports of Ogdensburg, Rouses Point, and Malone, N. Y., and Richford and Newport.

Five great trunk lines of railroad cross the border within the limits of the new district, and the special agency business of the lot can be handled more efficiently under the direction of one official at Rouses Point, instead of the business on the western side of Lake Champlain being transacted through Ogdensburg and that of the eastern side through Portland, Me. In order that the addition of Vermont to eastern New York may not make the third special agency district unwieldy, the district of Vergennes has been split off and attached to the fourth district, with headquarters at Buffalo. New England itself has been divided so that Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts will be handled from Boston, and Maine and New Hampshire from Portland.

The former assistant secretary of the navy, Judge Darling, who is the new collector of customs at Burlington, Vt., will not be affected, of course, by this order.
