W. POWERS; superintendent of Little Light

Beaters, Mrs. R. H. Crockett.

The funeral of William A. Stone was held from his late home Tuesday, the Rev. A. M. Smith officiating. The bearers were John, William and Louis Devolde and J. Guyette. Mr. Stone died Saturday under peculiar circumstances. He was employed by B. E. Demeritt as a farm hand. He went to the barn Wednesday evening to milk. He was not seen again till Thursday morning, when Mr. Demeritt went to the barn to milk and found him lying on the floor behind the cows. He was alive but unconscious. He was taken into the house and medical aid was called. He remained unconscious till the end came, Saturday morning. Death was due to heart disease. Mr. Stone was 32 years of age and had been twice married, his first wife dying a short time ago. Beside the wife, Mr. Stone is survived by one child, Mrs. William Devolde, of this place. Mr. Stone was employed as a farmer at the State hospital for some time.

Daniel W. Tracy died Monday noon at his home on Little river, at the age of 76 years. He was born at Chazy, N. Y., September 29, 1829. Death was the result of a four years' illness with a complication of troubles. He leaves four children, Mrs. Davis of this place, a daughter outside the State, and Israel, a member of a lumber company at Bolton, and Henry, who is employed in a mill at North Fayston. The funeral was held on Wednesday at two o'clock, from the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Gage of Worcester, Mass., were recent visitors at C. C. Cutler's.

MONTEPIER.

The habeas corpus case, brought by Assad Corey of Barre to compel Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simons of this city to surrender to Corey his minor daughter, and which was heard on Thursday by Judge John H. Watson as chancellor, was decided Friday by the court against the father and the girl will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Simons, who have cared for her from infancy.

The case of W. N. Theriault, trustee, against Mark H. Rice and several banks, which has been on the docket of Washington county court since 1902, has been settled and discontinued. It grew out of bankruptcy proceedings instituted by Mr. Rice, who at one time kept a book and periodical store in Montpelier. Certain money on deposit in the Montpelier National, Montpelier Capital and Northfield Savings banks was trusted and Mr. Rice left the State after he was discharged from bankruptcy, and the case has been continued from time to time until Friday, when the plaintiff accepted a small sum in settlement.

The Board of civil authority will hold a meeting Monday evening, September 17, to hear appeals from the quadrennial appraisals made by the listers. Fourteen appeals have already been made.

The circular letter Mr. Smith is sending out to representatives-elect is accompanied by a photograph of the candidate.

R. P. Benjamin, a former resident of this city, died on Sunday at the city hospital in Boston, where he was employed. Mr. Benjamin was 60 years old and was a native of Worcester. The body was brought to Montpelier and funeral services were held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home of Ransom Perkins on Sabin street.

C. G. Downing is planning to close out his hivery business and go to southern California to reside.

The interior and platform at the Central Vermont station, which have been in the hands of carpenters and painters for two weeks, shine in their biennial splendor, and the improvements are appreciated by Montpelier people and the traveling public, irrespective of the Legislature. Superintendent C. F. Soule was in town Tuesday inspecting the work. He stated that the White Mountain express, running daily between Burlington and Fayston was discontinued on Saturday, September 29, but that this train, minus the Pullman parlor car, will be kept on between Burlington and Montpelier during the session of the Legislature. It will arrive at Montpelier at 12:15, as now, but will leave for Burlington one hour later, or about five o'clock. When the new time table goes into effect October 8, the evening local door, hall and refreshments were appointed, train south bound between St. Albans and Barre. As previously announced the convention will open with a high mass at St. Augustine's church. The business session will be held in the afternoon, the banquet at eight o'clock in the evening to be followed by a dance. Several national officers are expected and delegates to the national convention will be elected. About 100 delegates are expected. Mrs. Frank McCann is chairman of the ladies' committee on banquet.
