The Alteration Sale Is Nearing Its End--The Carpenters Are At Work In Our Store

Meanwhile we are busy reducing our stocks, so that there will be less to move and re-adjust. And meanwhile we are offering some of the biggest bargains of our career. So if you want to practice economy in the right way, you'll do well to come here and buy goods for both present and future needs. About once in a lifetime an opportunity like this occurs; for this is the result of years of accumulated business. And now that success has thrust it upon us, we are going to make the occasion one to be remembered and appreciated. Throughout the entire store you will find cut prices that will more than repay you for your visit--and enough of them to make choosing easy. We have cut the prices of winter goods with a determination of moving them out, and we have not considered cost or desirability. So we advise you not to miss this sale. In practically every line you are likely to need---you will find splendid values. On this page we wish to tell you about some of the many bargains to be found in the ready-to-wear department. Every article in our ready-to-wear section has been reduced to the lowest possible price, and in many instances are offered at a mere fraction of the former price. We are publishing the notice of the end of this wonderfully successful alteration sale now, so that tardy buyers may have ample time to participate in these rare offerings. The last days of the sale will see values even greater than those which caused so much comment during the past week. If you have any intention of purchasing for your own sake, be prompt; prices tell why
