TALK OF THE TOWN

Corset week at Vaughan's. W. J. Upton of Concord, N. H., was among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

Fred Caron returned this morning from Boston, where he has been visiting for the past few weeks.

C. S. George of Clark street left this noon for Monson, Mass., where he will devote his time to farming.

Peter Mutch of Washington street left yesterday on a business trip through the southern part of the state.

Ralph Hayes, who has been spending a few days at his home at Waterbury Center, returned to this city to-day.

L. Dana Bruce of Camp street began work yesterday morning in the Smith & Cummings store on North Main street.

Hidder Habeb left this afternoon on an extended business trip by carriage to Walden and Peacham in the interests of the American Clothing store.

Roderick Cameron of Washington street, who has been employed at Chelsea for the past two weeks, returned to his home in this city last night.

Toney Corey left this afternoon on a protracted absence in the interests of the American Clothing store. He will arrive in Berlin, N. H., before returning home.

Arthur H. Laroche, a student at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, who is passing the summer vacation at his home on Railroad street, began work this morning in D. F. Davis' drug store.

As per schedule, the cold wave reached Vermont this morning and in the wake of a severe electric storm. For the space of half an hour last evening there was a heavy rainfall, accompanied by a falling temperature.

Nicholas G. Mascott of the Barre Candy kitchen left last night for Manchester, N. H., where he will remain for a few days' visit with friends. During his absence his place in the confectionery store will be filled by Joseph Roccazzoli.

Monday's arrivals at the hotel Otis were as follows: E. M. Abbott, St. Johnsbury; G. A. Colburn, Burlington; Charles Jacobsen, Waterford, Conn.; Rollo Enrico, New York; Alexander Smith, New York; John Lavery, Rutland; R. A. Sargent, Claremont, N. H.; George Sargent, Claremont, N. H.; James Johnson, South Barre.

Miss Vera Abbott, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver of Glenwood avenue for the past few days, left this noon for Peacham, where she will visit as the guest of her brother, Rev. Albert Abbott of that place, for a few weeks. Miss Abbott was accompanied by Mrs. Albert Abbott, who has been passing a few days at the home of her parents in this city.

One of the best comedy acts that has been seen recently at the Pavilion was presented last night by Kingsbury and Macdonald, the blackface comedy musical act. This pair kept the audience in convulsions of laughter throughout their entire offering. Their act contains a number of surprise comedy stunts that are sure-fire laugh producers. Their musical numbers are also good, especially the violin numbers and the triple-tongue cornet solo. The horns are fitted with muffling attachments which give the correct effect, a very pleasing effect. The act is bound to please all who like comedy and music.

W. J. Mills, the character-change artist, presents an act that is novel, refined and artistic. His changes are made in full view of the audience. A total of eight characters are portrayed and the act embraces both comedy and dramatic numbers. Mr. Mills is the possessor of a fine bass voice, and all of his changes are accompanied by songs or dialogue. His character, "The Miser," and his rendition of the miser's song and dialogue from "The Chimes of Normandy" was one of his best numbers. Both reels of pictures are excellent. The one entitled "The Turning Point" is well worth seeing. It may be the means of saving thousands of dollars for people who are anxious to invest their earnings in schemes advertised to give big profits from small investments. This picture should teach a lesson to all who see it, and it exposes a fraud that is being practiced almost constantly on people who have a limited amount of capital which they wish to invest.

A shave is a pardonable luxury when received at Miers' sanitary shop.

New line of neckwear just received at F. H. Rogers & company's clothing store.

F. A. Abbott of St. Johnsbury was among the business visitors in the city to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Perry will leave to-night for Detroit, Mich., where they will remain several days. To-morrow night a party of eight or more automobile men and chauffeurs will also leave for the Michigan automobile center and sometime next Friday the entire party will start for Vermont with some eight or ten Ford automobiles. The Perry Automobile company, which represents the Ford firm in this section, has placed twenty machines which cannot be delivered owing to delayed shipments. Believing that the automobiles promised could be secured quicker by bringing them to Barre over the road, the company will send along its chauffeurs to run the runabouts and touring cars over the 793 odd miles between Detroit and Barre.
