MURDERER GRAY GETS LIFE TERM

Sentenced Yesterday Afternoon for Murdering Naomi Mitchell—Judge Refused to Put Him in Insane Asylum.

Rangor, Me., Aug. 28.—J. Sherman Gray, who pleaded guilty to the murder of 14-year-old Naomi Mitchell in Carmel, July 24, was sentenced by Justice King yesterday afternoon to life imprisonment.

Following his arraignment in the lower court, Gray signed a confession. Upon the convening of the August term of the supreme court, however, his counsel filed a motion with Justice King asking that Gray be committed to the eastern Maine insane hospital for observation.

In passing sentence, Justice King said: "The respondent has pleaded guilty and the court has no sufficient ground on which to decline to accept this plea. I see no reason why his respondent should not be sentenced for his crime, as the statute provides."

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Aaa B. Maek of Cabot are visiting friends in the city for a few days.

Mrs. John Taylor of Nashua, N. H., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Annie Inglis of 7 Clark street for a week.

Dr. Joe W. Jackson has returned home from Burlington, where he participated in the annual session of the state school for health officers.

The postponed meeting of the Bonaccord football club will be held this (Wednesday) evening after practice. Per order president.

The young man who picked up the pair of tan automobile gloves in front of the Palace garage is known and will oblige the loser by returning the same to the Flaniers bicycle store.

The funeral of Miss Ruby Bartlett, who died at the City hospital Monday night, will be held in Fairfield Sunday at the home of her aunt. The body will be removed to Fairfield Friday night. Mrs. Leavitt, Miss Bartlett's grandmother, and an aunt, Mrs. Fairchild, arrived in the city today.

District Attorney and Mrs. Alex. Dunnett of St. Johnsbury have invited the Scotch people of their vicinity to be their guests at a basket picnic held at their summer cottage, Binkers Mill, on Labor day, and the invitation has been extended to the Scotch people of Barre and vicinity.

Yesterday Mrs. Dunnett was in Barre to invite members of Clan Gordon and the Burns clubs, with their families, to attend. It is also requested that any pipers who attend take along their bagpipes to add to the interest of the occasion.

At last we are to see a real bonafide Broadway musical comedy success, when John C. Fisher presents "The Red Rose" at the opera house to-night. The production, which is the work of Harry B. and Robert B. Smith, comes here from the Globe theatre, New York, with a notable cast, headed by Zoe Barnett.

The production was staged by R. H. Burnside, the noted stage director of the New York approdrome. John C. Fisher, the noted producer of "Florodora," "The Silver Slipper," "San Toy," and many other big musical successes, is in charge of the production. With all these noted people associated with a production, it promises to be a real gem, and judging from the unusually heavy advance sale theatregoers are aware of the fact.

Berlin street witnessed an exciting runaway at high noon to-day, when a farmer's team laden with all manner of vegetables became frightened while standing near Canton bro's, stomped and started up toward the hill at break-neck pace. Samples of the 1912 carrot, cabbage and onion crops were distributed all along the way and the combined efforts of several pedestrians armed with sticks and brooms could not prevent the thrilling spilling affair.

Near the Central Vermont tracks the wagon was overturned but not detached from the horse and the outfit, making the turn, continued up the rails for a distance of several rods before the halt was successfully called by a section man.

The owner of the partially demolished cart was tending his wares at a neighboring house when the horse started and he appeared later to claim the animal and remnants of the wagon. An automobile near P. D. Mulla's store, said to be a Bull Moose car, narrowly escaped being sideswiped when the horse and wagon swept past.

REMEDIES WERE SUGGESTED TO DECREASE TUBERCULOSIS

Stonemasons' Chief Disease Was Discussed at Health Officers' School in Burlington—Addresses By Several.

Burlington, Aug. 28.—At the session of the Vermont health officers' school yesterday, the subject of "Occupational Diseases" was taken up. Prof. George M. Kober, M. D., of Georgetown university spoke with particular reference to the stonemaking occupation. He said in part:

"Health is the chief asset of the workman, and no greater calamity can befall him than when his earning capacity is impaired or arrested by reason of sickness or disability, meaning in many instances, the utter financial ruin of his family. It is doubtless one of the most potent causes of poverty and distress. Many diseases are incident to occupation and environment and industrial efficiency, and earning power can be promoted by appropriate safeguards and adequate protection for men, women and children.

"In the search for the cause and prevention of diseases the interest of the wage earners have not been neglected, indeed it may be truly said that a special department has been created known as industrial hygiene or social medicine with a most complete and satisfactory literature of its own. As a result of these efforts it is known today that persons habitually engaged in hard work, especially in factories and indoors, present a greater amount of sickness and higher mortality than persons more favorably situated and that the character of the occupation influences to a great extent not only the average expectation of life, but also the incidence of certain diseases.

"It is known that bronchitis, pneumonia and tuberculosis are much more frequent in dust inhaling occupations and that the sharp angular particles of iron and stone dust, and mixed animal and vegetable dust are more liable to produce injury of the respiratory passages than coal, flour, grain and some other occupations. It is also known that workers in lead, mercury, phosphorus and poisonous dyes suffer especially from the injurious effects and that occupations, such as mining, railroad and those which necessitate working with or around moving machinery involve especial danger to life and limb.

"The treatment of occupational disease has been shamefully neglected and it is only within the last two years a few of the states have enacted laws requiring physicians to report on them. Forty-eight states now have laws designed to provide the installation of safety devices for the prevention of industrial accidents from moving machinery.

"Among the occupations usually classed as inimical to health are bleachers, bookbinders, brass founders, compositors, copiers, electricians, stonemasons, gas work employees, white lead workers, potters, match workers, mirror makers and workers in mercury, persons employed in the manufacture of explosives, firemen, rubber factory and textile operatives.

"It has been suggested that it may be of interest to discuss the relation of dusts to consumption. From knowledge of the disease we know that while the tubercle bacilli are not ubiquitous, they are at least widely scattered, the modes of invasion are also numerous, and yet there are a large proportion of those exposed, who do not develop the disease. This shows that in addition to the germ there must also be suitable soil for its growth and development.

"Of all occupations under the head stonemaking is doubtless the most dangerous. Those who have witnessed its various operations realize that in spite of new processes and employment in the open air, the workmen are exposed to a great amount of this irritating dust, especially those who operate the pneumatic tools. A collective injury has been published in 1901, showing that of every 100 deaths among stonemasons, polishers and quarrymen, 86 were due to diseases of the lungs, inclusive of 55 deaths from consumption.

"The state of Vermont has never had an excessive mortality rate from tuberculosis and has shown a most commendable decrease. The death rate has been the greatest in the country of Washington and the lowest in Essex county. The stonemaking industry is greatest in Washington county.

"Some Remedies. "Health officers should see that the work is carried out in proper conditions, should also see that the employees are properly informed and will avail themselves of the safeguards provided by legal regulation. The health officers should also see that the lodging houses and homes of these workmen are generally sanitary. Preference should be given when practicable to the cottage system or two story flats with separate entrance and exits for each family. The state should insist upon hygienic requirements as regards air space, light and ventilation.

"In the whole range of social betterment and sanitation, especially in our efforts to combat tuberculosis, no field affords better opportunity for philanthropic work than in the creation of sanitary homes for wage earners, at reasonable rentals, the encouragement of cooking schools and the establishing of model lodging and eating houses.

"While it is criminal for employers not to provide adequate protection, it is equally culpable on the part of operatives to disregard all such preventive measures. "Lastly, let us insist on the purity of the air in our homes, workshops and towns, and in choosing a vocation for all predisposed subjects, it is important to avoid occupations involving sedentary habits and indoor work, especially in a dusty atmosphere.

Barre Health Officers in Discussion. "The address was followed by discussions by Dr. J. W. Jackson, health officer of Barre City, and E. H. Bailey, health officer of Barre Town. Dr. Jackson spoke of the rapid increase in the death rate from among the stonemasons. He said that some improvements had been made in the conditions of the shops, but that the trust is not taken care of, probably due to neglect and not realizing the importance, rather than intention.

"Dr. Bailey said that among the quarrymen, owing to their working in the open air, consumption was not as noticeable. He considers that the foreign population coming from different conditions and environment have caused a large increase in tuberculosis. He further said that muscular rheumatism is a characteristic disease of the quarrymen."

TAKE A TRIP TO QUARRIES

Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary Had Sight-Seeing Tour

IN MIDST OF CONVENTION.

Spent This Forenoon in This Way and Then Returned to Montpelier to Complete Their Biennial Session, Which Started Yesterday.

Four carloads of delegates and visitors to the eighth biennial convention, Ancient Order of Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary, in session at Montpelier, were brought to Barre this morning for an excursion to the granite quarries. There were about 150 people in the party.

From Barre, drawn by the powerful engine Hercules, the train ascended Millstone hill, leaving shortly after 9 o'clock. The first stop was at the Boutwell station, where they were escorted through the Boutwell, Milne & Varnum quarries and others in that vicinity. Then the train continued to the summit and on to Westerville and East Barre, inspecting the quarries on the way. The weather conditions were ideal for sight-seeing, and the scenery was much enjoyed. The party returned to Barre at about noon.

Several delegates were unable to make connections with the train at Montpelier, so they came to this city and spent the greater part of the forenoon visiting the granite manufacturing plants. On the return of all to Montpelier this afternoon the sessions of the convention were resumed. The convention will close with a concert and ball this evening at the Montpelier city hall.

The opening session was held yesterday afternoon, Mayor Estee welcoming the visitors in behalf of the city of Montpelier and Dr. P. Mahoney of Poultney responding.

Organization in Excellent Condition. The afternoon session was given over to business and the reports of the various officers showed the organization to be in excellent condition. It has made the largest percentage of gain in Vermont of any state in the union, having increased forty-two per cent. Its financial condition is also the best at the present time of any in its history.

During the year one new organization has been formed, at Arlington. Divisions also exist at Bennington, Rutland, West Rutland, Proctor, Pittsford, Poultney, Barre, Burlington, Montpelier, Graniteville, Ludlow and White River Junction.

A resolution recommended by President Mahoney was adopted by the convention, to the effect that socialism be denounced and that the taking of magazines and literature relating to the Irish cause and Irish history be taken more generally by the members.

The resolution committee recommended that the state board be given power to act regarding the appointment of a state organizer; the auditing committee suggested printing a directory of receipts and expenditures; the press committee suggested that such division name a press committee, that matter be sent the national Hibernian to promote the interests of the state organization, that the organization use its influence to eliminate from the press prejudicial statements regarding the Irish people and that every citizen do all in his power to eliminate the "stage Irishman" the cartoon and other prejudicial published matter.

The meeting adjourned at 6 o'clock until 2:30 to-day, when officers will be elected. The next biennial meeting of the A. O. H. will be held in Rutland, in response to an invitation from that division.

Mrs. Rose Granger of Barre presided over the meeting of the ladies' auxiliary, which was held in the Knights of Columbus hall. The reports showed the division to be in an excellent financial condition and the membership increasing. There are twelve divisions of the auxiliary, two of them, Graniteville and Ludlow, being new ones. The business meeting was adjourned until this afternoon.

Banquet Last Evening. Last evening a banquet, attended by 300, was held at the Court street hall. Dr. Mahoney of Poultney was toastmaster and the following program was carried out: Father Dwyer, Ludlow and W. J. O'Sullivan, Montpelier, addresses; Miss Mary Brayton, Poultney, reading; Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, Montpelier, piano solo; Miss Nellie McNally, Burlington, song; Mrs. O. N. Granger, Barre; D. F. McGovern, Montpelier; James Bennett, Barre, solo; Miss Egan, White River Junction, piano solo; Miss Sarah Murphy, Poultney, vocal solo; Mrs. J. White, White River Junction; Miss Florence Emmons, Montpelier, recitation.

RACES WERE PUT OVER. Wet Track at Morrisville Yesterday—Events to Be Run Friday.

Morrisville, Aug. 28.—The first day of the 30th annual Morrisville county fair was marked by an auspicious opening yesterday although the track events had to be postponed until Friday morning because of the wet track. The floral hall and agricultural displays are unusually good and there is a fine stock exhibit. Mr. Elliott of Toronto acted as judge of the regular stock, assisted by Olin L. Martin, commissioner of agriculture. P. M. Gallagher of Craftsbury was judge of the beef stock.

The exhibit in grade stock is of better quality this year than in many seasons past and the thoroughbred stock showing is above the average. Some of the blue ribbon winners in the regular stock exhibit were as follows: Holsteins, M. M. Powell of Cambridge; Jersey herd, W. G. Baker and C. F. Smith of Morrisville; Guernsey, D. E. Miller of Craftsbury and R. S. Page of Hyde Park. The races for Friday morning include eleven entries in the 2:40 class, eight in the 2:24 class and five in the 2:17 class.

MADE HIT IN WATERBURY.

Candidate Fletcher and Ex-Senator Mason of Illinois Lost Evening.

Waterbury, Aug. 28.—A most enthusiastic Republican rally was held in the village hall last evening. The hall was decorated with flags and a picture of President Taft. Supt. D. D. Grout, chairman of the town committee, introduced Hon. Allen M. Fletcher, nominee for governor, who spoke on state issues. Mr. Fletcher was followed closely by Mr. Fletcher, who spoke on state issues. The second speaker, ex-Senator W. E. Mason of Illinois, immediately captured and held the attention of each person present by his wit and convincing statements. He dealt with national issues, largely the tariff. In his talk of the Progressive party he spoke of many of their platform issues as not being national.

The hall was packed, it being estimated that fully 900 people listened to these addresses. Seated on the platform with the speakers and Supt. Grout, was W. J. Boyce, representative in the last legislature. The Waterbury Citizens' band furnished excellent music and added much to the enthusiasm of the evening.

SWEEP OFF CAR.

Italian Workman at Jones Bros. Was Hit by a Pole.

An Italian named Ghellar was injured about the head last night while returning on the workmen's car from his place of employment at Jones Bros' granite plant. Ghellar was standing on the running board of the car on the side lined with poles. At a point about opposite South Hill, Ghellar was leaning outward from the car, was struck by a pole in the back of the head from one of these poles. He fell from the car and was picked up in a semi-conscious condition. He was carried to the office of Dr. F. X. Z. Archambault on Merchant street, where he remained for fully an hour before regaining consciousness.

On examination, Dr. Archambault found that the back of Ghellar's head was badly bruised, but as yet he has been unable to determine if the skull has been cracked. To-day the patient has had a fever, and unless a change for the better comes over him Dr. Archambault intends to hold a consultation and decide if an operation will be necessary.

Ghellar is married and has a family at Hardwick, having been employed in this city for the past few weeks. His Ghellar was called to the city, arriving last night.

Granite Cutters Vote for Delegate. The balloting for delegates to be sent from the Granite Cutters' International association to the national American Federation of Labor convention, to be held at Rochester, N. Y., this fall, was held by Barre branch between the hours of 4 and 8 yesterday afternoon. There were 200 delegates present, and the ballots for choice and about 200 cutters voted on the same. The results of the balloting were forwarded to the secretary-treasurer at Quincy, Mass. This balloting was conducted in every branch in the country. From this list the 10 receiving the highest vote are to be sent out of the branches to select the two chosen to be sent to the convention.

MANN RAPS THE DEMOCRATS. Calls the House Majority Stingy, Silly and Boastful.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Denouncing the Democratic House managers as "inefficient, inactive, unprogressive and disorganized," Minority Leader Mann yesterday issued a statement criticizing the legislative record of certain appropriations refused to make 30 certain appropriations he branded as "stingy and silly."

"The Democrats were forced to agree to a parcels post and are entitled to no credit for it," said Representative Mann. "They have appropriated money in many places where it was extravagant. Their main work has been a constant boasting of what they were going to do at the next election."

Mann said that practically every important bill passed by the House had previously been introduced by the Republicans or was prepared by some member of the Taft administration. He said the reformation of the House rules was a "farce."

RETIRE BONDS, ADD TO RESERVE

City Wipes Out $5,000 of School Bonds, Due Yearly

$10,993.40 IN SINKING FUND

Among Other Affairs Transacted by Aldermen Last Evening Was Payment of $5,500 for Auto Fire Truck—City Treasurer Prepared Financial Statement.

City Treasurer Mackay reported to the aldermen last night that of the $203,985.11 appropriated for the year 1912, the sum of $182,935.51 has been drawn already in warrants, and one department, that of assessing taxes, has been overdrawn by $20,700, leaving the net balance of the appropriations $70,049.60, to run the city during the remainder of the year. Copies of the report, with the departments itemized, were placed in the hands of each of the aldermen for reference.

During the course of the meeting, the board passed to a second reading a resolution setting aside appropriations for a few departments which had used up the amounts in their departments.

Several other financial details of the municipality were also taken up. For instance, the sum of $10,993.40 was voted to be placed on deposit for the sinking fund; $5,000 was paid to retire $5,000 of the $40,000 issue of school bonds, due August 31; $800 was paid to the Barre Savings bank for interest on school bonds; $340.50 was turned into the library fund, the amount being the receipts from the 1912 dog license tax; $121.42 was paid to meet water rebates; and $5,500 was ordered paid to the American-LaFrance company for the city's new auto fire truck, the bill of the same carrying the date of the city's order as April 29, 1912.

Besides those amounts, the usual weekly warrants were ordered paid, as follows: Streets $382.10, water $99.88, fire $76.37, police $74.42, city hall janitor $14, J. P. Thompson 50 cents, Wood & Greigware for mason work $108.24, and J. C. Dodge $45 for balance of painting contract on the old town hall.

A few minor building permits were given out, as follows: Harrison Granite Co. to build addition to coal shed; Mrs. J. Daniel Webster, a board, Frank Gaudier, John A. Rogers, L. O'Kelley, Valentine Hutchins, B. E. Waterman, Alex. W. Ross.

Ward 5—Rocco Polidoro, W. H. Buchanan, William Martin, Leo Bertrand, Henry Budro, Charles Wilford, Vittorio Baggio, Charles Leslie, Pietro Bonitto, Severino Morandi, John A. Frontini, Samuel Jenette, Angelo Paregoni.

Ward 6—Daniel Webster, Edward Blanchard, Fred Smith, George Chandler, Archie Simonds, Leslie Badger, Alfred Verner, Henry Besley, Carroll Whitecomb, F. W. Holt.

FUNERAL OF C. S. WALLACE.

Held From the Congregational Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Deacon Charles S. Wallace, whose death occurred Saturday at his home on Terrace avenue after a long illness, was held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after the pastor, Rev. J. W. Barrett, conducted a short prayer service at the house. The services at the church were largely attended and among those who thus paid their last respects to the deceased were several members of the Retail Clerks' union, who went as a delegation from the Barre local, which Mr. Wallace helped to establish. There were a large number of floral tributes that included pieces from a number of organizations as well as many individuals. The bearers were as follows: John McDonald, Elton E. Barrett, Walter Boutwell, C. S. Andrews, Deacon C. M. Howe and H. G. Woodruff. The burial took place in Hope cemetery.

LABOR SUNDAY IN BARRRE.

Special Invitation Has Been Extended For Next Sunday.

Secretary James Mutch of the Central Labor union has received the following communication and takes this method of presenting it to the workers of the city:

"Dear Sir: On the evening of Labor Sunday, September 1, 1912, as is customary throughout our country, the churches of Barre will hold services fitting to the day in the several churches. The different ministers will choose themes of interest to the laboring man. As the membership of Labor is affiliated with various churches, we cordially extend to you the invitation to attend the church of your choice, either singly or in delegation. In this way you will be represented in each church.

"Respectfully yours, "George H. Holt, "In behalf of the churches of Barre, Vt."

GIBB—MACKIE.

Pretty Wedding Last Evening at Home of the Bride.

The marriage of Miss Helen Nichol Mackie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Black, to John Gibb, Jr., took place at the home of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock last evening. Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, performed the ceremony, using the simple ring service. The decorations of the room were masses of cut flowers and palms.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine and carried bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Gertrude Mackie, who wore a gown of silk and cord. Robert Knox was best man.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Gibb avoided the vigilance of their friends by taking an auto for Plainfield, where they caught the Green Mountain express for a wedding trip to Boston, Fitchburg, Worcester and vicinity. They will reside at 42 Eastern avenue.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibb, Sr., and has been employed at Jones Bros' granite plant as draughtsman for five years. The bride was employed in the laboratory of Dr. Frank M. Lynde for some time.

Democrats Found Chance to Applaud. A portion of Mr. Bonaparte's remarks was fraught with more than ordinary significance, since it seemed to evoke in one section of the house some noisy applause that was not apparently intended for the third-term candidate. Mr. Bonaparte conceded that the Democrats in convention at Baltimore had nominated a man who is not looked upon with favor by the interests. By their selection of Wilson, he said, they are entitled to the credit of nominating a man of good character, who has shown himself familiar with the fundamentals of good government. This remark brought the applause. But the speaker added that he did not invite a continuance of the applause.

Metzger Tells Why He Is in the Party. A. W. Allen, a prominent local Progressive member of the state committee, acted as chairman of the rally. Candidate Metzger spoke substantially as follows: "I have learned a good deal about politics in the last few weeks. A good many flaws have been discovered in me during the present campaign, and naturally I have been quick to discover the tendency of other candidates to throw mud. To me it is the best evidence yet offered to show they are being licked. Personally, I am pleased. For my own part I have no time to waste in throwing mud. Other than for public service, I could never find any reason for public office. If the Progressive party has other reasons, it is certainly outstripped by the Republican party, which has shown the good government in the highest bidder.

"We hear of a great many issues in the campaign, but allow me to state my belief that the only issue is that of principle. Our slogan is 'Let the people rule,' and if we are to retain our government to-day in its position at the fore, we must profit by the experiences of history. Our slogan is not a catchword or an appeal to passive sentiment. It simply embodies the lesson which we should have learned from history. Have the people ruled? Look at my native state of New York. It is some years since I have resided in the Empire state, and yet I am familiar with its evil growth. Its politics may be spelled in one word—Barnes. And down through the minor expressions of political thought, so far as the Republican party is concerned, it still has for its paramount influence that same Barnes. The situation is true of many other great states.
