ONCE books either overcrowded limited shelf space or empty shelves yawning and waited for books. When one bookcase overflowed, a new one was purchased, and its gaping shelves were gradually filled. That was before the Globe Wernicke period in bookcases. Now, books and their shelves come together. The bookcase grows space with the library. This is the modern way of building a library. This is the Globe-Wernicke idea.

WASHINGTON.

Grange Fair Opened Thursday Evening Very Successfully.

The Washington grange fair opened Thursday evening in grange hall and was well attended, the outlook for success appearing more auspicious than any grange entertainment for years. Those in charge of the affair are sparing no pains to have their work rewarded fruitfully. Last night the order of the evening's events included a musical program, following which was an order of dances.

The same routine will be carried out during the week. The hall was very tastefully trimmed in red, white and blue, autumn leaves and ferns. Booths for the exhibit and sale of fancy articles, aprons, candy, ice cream, etc., are installed around the hall. A goose pond is in one corner, which attracts no little attention and adds much to the financial receipts. It is in charge of Mr. D. E. Magon and Mrs. A. Prescott.

The other booths are superintended as follows: ice cream, Mrs. George Bohannon and Mrs. Charles Stanley; fancy table, Mrs. Ora Hutchinson and Mrs. Mary Dickey; apron table, Mrs. Jennie Ordway and Mrs. Turner; candy, Mrs. Albert Bresette. Refreshments are served each evening. The grange orchestra furnishes music for dances. The floor is in charge of M. W. Hyland, Joseph Lawler and William McDonald. The following program has been arranged for this evening, to commence at 8 o'clock sharp: Play, entitled "The Old-Fashioned Husking-Bee," given by the East Barre grangers; instrumental and vocal music. Dancing will continue until 12 o'clock.

First Man Dressmaker. One day in 1730 a beautiful carriage appeared on the boulevard of Paris with an escutcheon in the shape of a pair of corsets and an open pair of scissors painted on the panel of each door. This was the coat of arms of Rhomburg, the first man who made a name as a woman's dressmaker.

Rhomburg, who was the son of a Bavarian peasant from the neighborhood of Munich, owed his rapid success to his genius for concealing and remedying defects of figure. He left an annual income of 50,000 francs to his heirs.

Birds Big Eaters. Baby robins have been observed to eat half their own weight of beef scraps, digest all this within three hours and then be ready for another meal.

A pair of red eyed vireos were noted by a naturalist to feed their offspring over a hundred times in ten hours. Grosbeaks, sworn enemies of the Colorado potato beetle, have been seen to assimilate almost a hundred caterpillars or larvae an hour. Over 3,000 aphids have perished by the bite of the insect loving yellow throats in the same period of time.—Suburban Life Magazine.
