"Snowflake" Bread

100 PER CENT PURE

Cake and Pastry at Eastman Bros. Baked by the Vermont Baking Co.

THE ONLY BREAD WRAPPING MACHINE IN NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND

The Ovens: From the steam room the bread is wheeled on racks to the three ovens, each holding 275 loaves, making 825 loaves being baked at one time. After it is baked it is placed on galvanized iron racks and wheeled into the —

Wrapping Room: Here the large, clean racks of hot bread stand and cool to the right degree. Then they are placed on the Wrapping Machine, where they are wrapped in wax paper to protect them from all outside impurities. This machine seals the ends and no human hand touches the loaf again until it reaches your home. We are the only bakers in Northern New England that wrap their bread by machinery.

When the bread leaves the Wrapping Machine, it is carried on a moving belt to the shippers. Here it is placed in baskets to be sent to the leading grocers in Vermont and New Hampshire.

All goods reduced in the sale at the Vaughan Store. Miss Binona Jones of Camp street left to-day for Waterbury, where she will pass a few days as the guest of Miss Katherine LeBarron.

BURIAL AT CHELSEA.

George Andrus' Remains Were Brought from Waterbury.

Chelsea, July 21.—The remains of George Andrus, a former resident of this town, were brought here last week from Waterbury, where he died in the insane asylum, where he had been for nearly twenty years. The funeral was held from the Congregational church, Rev. J. A. Lawrence officiating, and interment was in Highland cemetery, the bearers being E. D. Barnes, G. M. Medcalf, W. A. Hood and E. E. Wallace. The deceased is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Bayard C. Dean of Concord, N. H., and one sister, Mrs. Mary E. Bradbury of Claremont, N. H.

HELD RESPONSIBLE, RESIGNS.

John O. Battershill Was Superintendent of Public Property in Lawrence.

Lawrence, Mass., July 21.—John O. Battershill tendered his resignation as superintendent of public property yesterday afternoon to Alderman Bradbury, commissioner of public property.

The resignation, which takes effect at once, is the result of the inquest finding of Judge Mahoney, who placed the blame for the drowning of eleven boys at one of the city bathhouses June 30 primarily on Supt. Battershill. The finding of Judge Mahoney was given on Saturday. Mr. Battershill refused to make any statement regarding his resignation. He was appointed superintendent of public property by Alderman Bradbury in January, and had charge of the repairs of the bathhouses prior to the accident.

Mr. Battershill has held public office during several administrations. He had previously been superintendent of public property and at one time was superintendent of streets.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Hamburgs marked down at Knight's. Our July clearance sale now in progress at Vaughan's.

An interesting program of feature pictures at the Bijou to-day.—Adv. Miss Gladys Cutler of Keene, N. H., is visiting in the city for a few weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Glynson of Perry street.

Mrs. John A. Olson of Worcester, Mass., is making a two weeks' visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Judson Hughes of West street. After leaving Barre she will go to Montreal for a visit before returning to her home.

Miss Cassie Yett, cashier at the Yett clothing store, is taking a two weeks' vacation from her duties. She has gone to Rutland and Burlington for a ten days' visit. During her absence, her sister, Miss Rosa Yett, of Montpelier, is taking her place.

Dean T. Bassett, a rural delivery mail carrier, met with an accident on Berlin street Saturday afternoon while on his daily route that resulted nearly in demolition of his wagon, and slightly injuring the horse attached. Bassett was going down Berlin street when a backstrap broke, causing the harness to drop on the horse's rear legs. This startled the animal, which soon struck a fast pace down the street. One of the express teams of the People's Lighting, Heating & Power Co. was stationed at a point near the steel bridge that spans the Stevens branch. The Bassett horse attempted to worm its way between the Gas company team and an adjacent telephone pole. One shaft of the delivery team sailed directly between the fore legs of the other horse. When the other shaft crashed into the telephone pole the frightened steed freed itself from the wagon and continued flight. Carrier Bassett was thrown from his precarious position to the ground, but escaped serious injuries. The wagon was badly shattered so that the government attache was compelled to complete his trip with an automobile. The mare owned by the Gas company escaped with but minor scratches about the forelegs.

Eugene McCann, a former big league player, has been named as manager of the New London team in the Eastern association. He displaced Jack Burns, who has been manager all season.
