FLAGMAN TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

Pleads Guilty to Manslaughter in Bar Harbor Train Wreck Last September.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 22.—Charles H. Murray of Holyoke, Mass., flagman of the ill-fated Bar Harbor express on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, which was wrecked at North Haven last September, exacting a toll of 21 lives, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the superior court late yesterday afternoon. Judge Milton A. Shumway deferred sentence until a later date.

In the early hours of morning, Sept. 2, 1913, the Bar Harbor express, carrying many passengers returning from summer vacations spent in New England, came to a stop in North Haven in a heavy fog. Following close behind the train was the fast White Mountain express. Murray was sent back to set signals to protect his train. It was alleged that he failed to take the usual precautions with the result that the White Mountain train ploughed through the standing express.

Murray, conductor Bruce D. Adams of the Bar Harbor train and Engineer A. B. Miller of the White Mountain were all arrested later, charged with manslaughter. Bonds of $5,000 each were fixed.

Two weeks ago Murray's bondsman, Daniel Colwell of this city, surrendered his bond. Since that time Murray has been in the county jail. After Murray had entered his plea State's Attorney A. A. Alling asked the court to defer sentence, on the grounds that it should first hear the evidence. The court agreed and it is thought presentation of the facts may be made to-day by the state's attorney and Murray's counsel.

The entire issue was purchased by a syndicate composed of Kuhn Loeb & Co. and W. A. Read & Co. of New York, whose bid of $106,077 was among the highest of the 467 received. A few bids for small allotments exceeded the price offered by the Kuhn Loeb-Read syndicate. However, the bid of the latter, made on "all or none" basis showed a net premium far in excess of what could have been obtained by any combination of other bids. The only other offer for the entire issue was presented by a New York syndicate headed by Harris, Forbes & Co. Their bid was $105,537.

CLEMENT'S SIDE OF CASE.

In Suit Which Woman Has Brought For Alleged Services.

Rutland, Jan. 22.—Percival W. Clement of this city yesterday gave the press a statement relative to the two suits brought against him in the New York supreme court by Mrs. Marion Egbert of New York, who has begun an action to recover a diamond ring valued at $2,000, and by Mrs. Marion Egbert of New York, who claims Mr. Clement holds the other case to recover about $12,000 alleged to be due for wages in looking up the Clement genealogy.

Mr. Clement said that he considered that there really were no suits, because a resident of New York state cannot sue a Vermont in New York. Concerning the ring he said: "Mrs. Egbert boarded at the Hotel Woodstock in 1906 (Mr. Clement owns the hotel) and ran up a board bill of some $150 which she could not pay. Her trunks were held and later she returned with a ring, which had been in pawn for $300, and W. H. Valquette, the proprietor, took it, wearing it until last summer, when he sold it. I never saw the ring."

Mr. Clement said that Mrs. Egbert was at one time on his payroll to copy some genealogical records and that she did satisfactory work. He declared that if suits were brought in proper form he would be prepared to answer them.

Stafford are endeavoring to prove that some person is to blame for the accidental death of William Hubbard of this city, aged 60 years, whose body was found in the road on Woodstock avenue Friday night. The first theory was that he fell in the road and was run over by a vehicle of some sort. Police yesterday took to the county jail for safe keeping, Thomas Corcoran, aged 25 years, who is said to have been driving about town recklessly. As yet no charge except intoxication has been preferred against him. He has engaged Thomas H. Browne and J. Dyer Spellman as counsel.

JANUARY TERM ENDS.

Supreme Court Will Convene Again on Feb. 3.

The January term of supreme court closed yesterday and the February term will begin Feb. 3. The Franklin county case of Marcus M. Bartlett vs. Lyford O. Nye, Jerry M. Wombly and C. E. Britch, trustee, assumptit, was settled and discontinued. In the Windham county case of Charles L. Davis vs. Hugh Randall, appellat, judgment was affirmed by agreement. In the Washington county case of Marion B. Thorworth vs. A. N. Blanchard, judgment was also affirmed. The Chittenden county cases of Maurice D. Sullivan vs. George Sullivan, administrator of the estate of P. Sullivan, an appeal from probate court and the town of St. George vs. H. H. Tilley, assumptit, were continued pending the settlement of a motion to dismiss.

The Windsor county cases of Elsworth C. Irvine, as receiver in the case of F. M. Macriotti, consolidated plaintiffs, vs. Susan McV. Hemenway and Myles Hemenway, bill, and the case of Frank S. Hale, Lyman F. Cabot and Edward R. Buck vs. the Windsor Savings Bank & Windsor County Trust Co., bill, and the Windham county cases of Carl S. Hopkins, trustee, appellat, vs. the estate of John P. Sargent, Walter Sylvester, executor, an appeal from the commission, and the case of Rosa B. Stockwell vs. Thomas E. Stockwell, petition for the support of a minor child, were stipulated for trial at Brattleboro.

A new rule was made by the judges yesterday, to the effect that hereafter cases once set for trial will remain on the trial calendar until disposed of, instead of being set from term to term, as heretofore. This will make the calendar for February as large as had been expected, with 40 cases, instead of 20. Of the 47 cases on the January docket, 22 have been heard and are with the court, 16 cases have been continued, four stipulated for Brattleboro; judgment affirmed in two; two continued with a motion to dismiss filed, and one settled and discontinued.

The Chittenden county case of State vs. Louis Albert, for receiving stolen goods, was concluded yesterday. This was an information on six counts for receiving goods which had been stolen from the Rutland Railroad company, and the chief witnesses for the state were the persons alleged to have stolen the goods. The second, fourth and fifth counts were corroborated by evidence as to the shipment of goods claimed to have been wrongfully received by the respondent, after the respondent had denied the purchase of any of the property except a part of that covered by the fifth count, which was found in his store at Winooski, and which he said he bought of his brother in good faith, he was acquitted as to the first, third and sixth counts, but convicted as to the second, fourth and fifth, in lower court.

The case called to the supreme court last week, in county court Louis Albert was fined $500 and sentenced to from two to three years in the house of correction, Sam Albert, his brother, was given the same sentence, but was pardoned after serving two months and on the payment of fine and costs.

Attorney Shaw for the state claimed that previous to the Albert episode, the burglar went to the Rossburg store and sold him silver, and that this was material evidence that he went to see if they could sell him stolen clothing; also that during a conversation between Poirier and the respondent it was alleged the respondent remarked he liked to business with him because he wouldn't squeal. This argument was questioned by Attorney G. M. Page for the respondent, who asserted the court should not have admitted evidence as to a previous transaction between the witness and a third party, relating to the stolen property, the transaction being unknown to the respondent, also that it was an error to exclude cross-examination having a tendency to show the animus of the witness, that material evidence for the respondent in relation to this character was wrongfully excluded and many others.

B. V. Butterfield of Wilmington, who passed the examinations in October, has completed his course of study and yesterday admitted to the bar.

EASTERN STARS INSPECTED.

Grand Officers Visited Ruth Chapter Last Evening.

S., held one of the most pleasurable social affairs of the season last evening, the occasion being the annual inspection of the chapter by grand lodge officers and deputies. But the attendance easily totaled 150 and the meeting was successful in a high degree. The inspection was conducted by E. H. Sherwin of Johnson, grand patron of the grand chapter of Vermont, who was assisted by Mrs. Josie H. Fay of North Williston, a district deputy grand matron, and James G. The latter part of the evening was given over to a banquet and a social hour. One of the men's circles of the chapter had charge of the banquet arrangements. Some 30 men, therefore, are to be credited with the success of that particular feature of the affair. Afterwards there was informal speechmaking from the officers and singing in which the entire company joined.

GUILTY OF LARCENY.

Henry Plouff Was Fined Small Amount in City Court.

For the alleged theft of electrical supplies from the Central Vermont station, Henry Plouff was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Sinclair and arraigned before Acting Judge A. A. Sargent in city court last night. Plouff pleaded guilty to the larceny of four electric light globes valued at $2 and paid a $2 fine and costs of $55.14. Suffering from exposure, etc. St. John came into the station in the forenoon and asked Officer John W. Dineen to arrest him. The man was accommodated.

Charles Johnson, Storekeeper, Was Overcome by Smoke.

Burlington, Jan. 22.—Fire starting from an unknown cause shortly before three o'clock this morning gutted the fruit store of Charles Johnson at the corner of North street and North Winooski avenue and gave the fire department a busy half hour's work. Mr. Johnson, who slept in the rear of the store, discovered the fire. He managed to go to the house of Assistant Chief C. D. Stockwell, a short distance away, where he gave the alarm and then fell on the veranda, overcome by smoke. Dr. J. N. Jenne attended him.

LIBRARY CIRCULATION LAST YEAR 62,705

And Total Volumes at Aldrich Public Library Now Number 10,608—Librarian's Annual Report Submitted.

That 62,705 books were circulated from the Aldrich public library during the past calendar year was shown at the meeting of the trustees last evening, when the librarian, Miss Catherine R. Mathieson, presented her annual report. The total registration of members is 907.

The librarian's report is as follows: "One aim throughout the year has been to continue the work in the same spirit that has characterized the administration of the library in the past, introducing only such minor changes as seemed to promise better service and increased efficiency."

"During the year 295 volumes have been added to the shelves, making the total number 10,608. The sources of the additions were as follows: Aldrich public library, 140; city of Barre, 124; French Barre library, 14; gifts, 17.—the most notable of the latter being a three-volume history of the Norwich university presented by the Barre members of the Inter-city Norwich club."

"The total circulation of books for the year was 62,705. The total registration of members was 907,—adult 555, juvenile, 352. The following figures show the registration for the entire time since the opening of the library in its present home in 1908: Adult, 3,685; juvenile, 3,429, making a total registration of 7,114."

"The cataloguing has been kept up and, in addition to this, though the courtesy of the Barre Daily Times, lists of new books have been printed for the benefit of the public."

"Statistics are not kept of the many demands upon us from the reference room; in addition to the general reference work the school children make constant demands upon us and I need not assure you that it is a pleasure to us to satisfy their requests. The teachers of the graded schools have given us a larger opportunity to work with the children and this is most gratifying to us as librarians, because we feel that the mission of the library might be infinitely greater if an organized co-operation were established between the teachers and librarians."

"The city of Barre contributed the sum of $200 to rebind books purchased by that corporation for this library. "Our patrons, both adult and juvenile, show appreciation of the bulletin boards which illustrate current and past events, nature study,—in fact, anything worthy of comment, with appropriate literary selections." "Respectfully submitted, "Catherine R. Mathieson, "Librarian."
