Barre, East Barre and Montpelier Red Men are planning to hold a joint meeting at Montpelier late in January, the program to be conducted along the lines of the Red Men's pow-wow held in Barre last year, when more than 150 members of the improved order came together for a banquet, after-dinner exercises, entertainment and ceremonial work. A committee from Ironquise tribe of Barre, Winochee tribe of East Barre and Sioux tribe of Montpelier is making elaborate preparations for the event. It is now expected that several of the state officers will dignify the occasion. Moreover, there is a possibility that the grand sachem of America, who lives in Connecticut, will also be able to attend. Among others whom the Red Men are planning to entertain is Frederick E. Marshall of Beecher Falls, Canaan, who is the grand sachem of the Improved Order of Red Men in Vermont.
Prospects for an early settlement of the differences between the striking quarryworkers and the quarry-owners at Red Granite, Wis., are considered bright at the quarryworkers' international headquarters. Since last May, a large number of quarrymen have been idle, although latterly many have returned to work by virtue of a concession in which the quarry owners granted the demand for an eight-hour day. It is stated with authority that the larger quarries are now employing union men, whose demands in the main have been met. Some of the smaller quarries are employing unskilled men recruited in Chicago, but the results are far from satisfactory and there is every indication that the owners will fall in line by spring. Aside from the labor difficulties at Red Granite, there are few if any labor troubles to be adjusted in the association just now.

Members of the Burns Club.
The celebration of the anniversary will be held in the Clan Gordon hall, Bolster building, Friday evening, Jan. 23. Exercises will commence at 8 o'clock sharp.

At T Wharf

If you have read the Boston papers, you have been informed regarding the terrible weather conditions the seafaring men have experienced during the last two weeks. The coasts have been swept by gales of wind, while the thermometer has gone nearly to the bottom. Some fishing vessels coming into Boston harbor have been so heavily encased in ice that only with great difficulty have they reached port at all. When we consider what the brave fishermen go through during these wintry gales, facing death continually that we may be supplied with the many choice varieties of sea food, we should not find fault with the high prices.

Our variety this week consists of:
Fancy Chicken Halibut 20c and 25c lb
Fancy Mackerel 15c to 30c each
Smelts 15c lb
Flounders 10c lb
Blue Fish 15c and 20c lb
Fresh Salmon 25c lb
(Extra nice this week.)
Haddock and Cod 13c lb
Finnan Haddies and Kippers made fresh every day.
We expect Lake Champlain Perch, Pickerel, etc.
If we get Shell Clams and Roes, they will arrive Friday morning by express.
Our Oysters are elegant this week.
Scallops 25c pint
Clams for steams 12c pint
Hot Boiled Lobsters cracked and prepared ready to serve.

Now and for Spring

The elegantes of Paris wore black velvet hats all last summer. New York did not take them up until late, but now is preparing to show them for the most desirable spring and early summer hats.
We have just received some of the ready-made ones, also the new shapes upon which to fashion them to order.
