Held Barre A. C. Batters Safely and Keene Won, 4 to 1

DAVIDSON STRONG EXCEPT IN 2 INNINGS

A Fast Article of Ball Was Revealed at Inter-city Park

Baseball tinctured of the long-cherished game displayed in the palmy days of the old Northern league was shown at Inter-city park yesterday afternoon...

The standards of victory flew over the dugout of the Keene club because of the superb twirling of "Win" Adams...

Barre never entered within the danger zone until the last session. With one down in the ninth, the Barre lads started to flirt with victory by a batting rally...

That the Keene victory did not reach greater proportions is in some phases miraculous in view of the accident in the fourth inning, when both members of the Barre battery met with injuries...

The features of the game were the hitting of McElwee, Murray and Sullivan of the Keene team and the brilliant fielding of Nute, the Barre lad, in the short field...

Johnston's wild throw to Stuart of Lynch's grounder, after one man had been retired, started trouble in the third. McElwee singled to left field. Peduzzi threw to third to head off Lynch...

Barre's only opportunity to score came in the ninth session. Nute fanned. Stuart singled to right field. Johnston's line drive was dropped by Meehan in left field...

Sidelights on the Game. To-day's game will be well worth seeing. "Cap" Lee, the old Goddard player, has not yet fully recovered from the effects of his recent illness.

Fish, the Keene catcher, who entered the latter part of the game, is said to have received flattering offers from the Baltimore Federals. It is rumored he will join Knabe's Terrapins within a short time.

A squad of New England ball players scurried out from under the paternal wing of Coach Breckenbridge at the Berlin street grounds yesterday afternoon and did battle for 19 innings with the Italian Athletics.

It cannot be safely said that the I. A. C. was up against the team that is to represent Brattleboro in the Twin State league this summer. Not if Brattleboro is to have a look in on the pennant race.

Totals 34 6 6 30 13 8. *Marchesi batted for Ricciarelli in the ninth.

Notes. Weaver will line up against a portside, and a dark horse at that, in this afternoon's game.

David's peculiar muff of an easy infield pop in the sixth let in a cheap one. It would have been three men out.

Here and there a pensioner and again a stripling will have to be weeded out of the lineup before Brattleboro can compete with some of the fast material that the other teams have collected.

Joe Comoli outshone the opposing backstop and played one of his old time games. Sullivan knocked down a sizzling roller from Dottigi's bat in the eighth.

Old fans were overpleased to welcome Will Maiden back into the local ranks until his bone play in the ninth. Seldom does a pinch hitter come up to expectations. Marchesi did!

It is rumored that Brattleboro is due for a shakeup before the league season begins. Devine, the old New England leaguer, showed on more than one occasion that he has journeyed back to his earlier form.

How the Italians Scored. There were errors by White and Sullivan that contributed to the Italians' first pair in the third. Comoli got the only hit, but a free one to Davidi kept the ball rolling.

It was in the ninth that the game was almost negotiated and then passed over to the invaders with hardly a struggle. Speare singled and was sent to second on Giacuzzi's sacrifice roller to first.

YALE WON BY FOUR INCHES

First Rowing Victory Over Harvard in Seven Years

A STRUGGLE TO STAND OUT IN HISTORY

So Close Was the Race Throughout and at the Finish

New London, June 20.—By four inches Yale won the varsity four-mile race from Harvard yesterday, in a struggle which will stand out in rowing history.

The shells drifted side by side after the finish. Stroke Appleton, Yale, lay prone in the bottom of the boat, Sheldon was doubled over until his head touched the planking and Harvard hung limp on the slides, stumped by the Yale victory.

Appleton raised the Yale stroke and the Elis regained their lead by inches, never relinquishing. There is no question of Yale's right to the victory, the officials differing only as to inches.

Yale's victory was explained by the blue sweeping across at the height of its stroke, while Harvard's shell lost headway as the eight oarsmen were reaching forward for another grip on the water.

Yale oarsmen accorded Captain Thomas B. Denegre, who gave up his seat in the boat for a stronger man, a unanimous re-election.

Harvard elected H. O. Murray captain. Harvard's second varsity left last night for the Henley regatta in England. Captain Reynolds of Harvard's losing eight last night said: "The crew rowed well and the boat fell well. We all feel Yale won a great race and deserves all the credit."

Steve O'Dowd, the former Vermont shortstop, is playing with the Montreal club of the International league.

THE INCREASE IN EXPENSES

In our previous statements we have shown that the receipts of this road during its sixteen years' operation have never, in any year, been sufficient to provide for the depreciation of the property or to pay any return on the money invested.

The new method of taxation adopted by the state of Vermont assesses taxes on this company on the basis of an appraisal of its property made by state authorities.

In the matter of wages, this company faces a still larger annual increase. It will be recalled that in February last, while negotiations were in progress with motormen and conductors looking to a readjustment of the wage schedule, a strike was called.

Without criticising in any way the award of the arbitration board, it is only fair to point out that because of it our annual deficit will be automatically increased, and even if we were inclined to do so, we could not prevent this addition to our operating expenses.

Table showing amount paid motormen and conductors during the year ended February 1, 1914, and the approximate amounts which must be paid each year until February 1, 1917.

From these figures it is seen that the company's operating expenses will be increased nearly $2,000 the current year, $2,425 next year, and $3,150 the third year, or an average of about $2,500 per year.

Monday's papers will show graphically how inadequate the present rate of fare is for the operation of the road.
