Last night extra chairs had to be provided to accommodate the congregation that gathered at the gospel tent to hear Pastor F. W. Stray of Concord, N. H. The speaker referred to many scriptures from the Bible to show that the millennium, as expected by some, was a deception. He referred to the fact that for a number of years the date of 1914 has been set by a certain class of people as the end of the world, but that we have reached the date mentioned and the end is not yet in sight. The author of this doctrine is beginning to deviate from the position first held, and with the introduction of many "ifs" declared that what is to take place in 1914 will not be noticed by the world at large. To-night Pastor L. F. Passebois will lecture on "The Greatest Needs of the Church To-day." Tuesday some most interesting questions will be answered. Evangelist F. L. Abbott, who has been in Richford for a few days to assist in a baptismal service in that place, is expected to return to the city to-day and will assist in the service to-night.
