CAME FROM SOLDIER FAMILY.

The Late Hiram H. Tilley and Three Brothers Served in Civil War.

Burlington, Feb. 11.—Hiram H. Tilley died at 2:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home at 123 North Wisconsin avenue after a week's illness, after being in poor health all winter, death being due to paralysis of the heart.

Mr. Tilley, who was a veteran of the Civil war, was born in Williston, October 20, 1844, the son of Russell and Abigail Isham Tilley. He was educated in the schools of Williston and St. George, the family moving to the latter place when he was quite young. He was the last of five brothers, four of whom were in the Civil war, three being in the same company, Company G, 2nd Vermont. Mr. Tilley enlisted first in Company B, 16th New York, and was discharged because of illness. He re-enlisted in Co. G, 2nd Vermont, August 29, 1861, lacking two months of being 17 years old. He was wounded May 4, 1863, at the battle of Mary's Heights, being transferred to the veteran reserve corps July 1, of that year, of which he was made company clerk. He was discharged September 13, 1864.

After the close of the war Mr. Tilley followed his trade as a wheelwright at Tamaqua, and Williamsport, Pa., later moving to St. George, where he followed his trade and also conducted a farm. In 1909 he came to Burlington

He married December 26, 1865, Anna M. Ellinger of Williamsport, Pa., who survives him with two children, a son, Martin E. Tilley of Portsmouth, N. H., and Margaret, who resides at home. He was a member of Stannard post, No. 2, G. A. R., of this city, Patriot lodge, No. 33, F. and A. M., of Hinesburg, and of which he was secretary for 21 consecutive years, retiring in 1908. He was a charter member of La Plotte chapter, O. E. S., of Hinesburg.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Three-reel special feature at the Bijou to-day, "The Coveted Heritage."

The McWhorter Co. are offering their entire line of men's and boys' winter overcoats from 25 to 50 per cent. discount.

Camille Fabricotti, a former resident of Barre, who has been making an extended stay in Stone Mountain, Ga., arrived in the city this morning from New York, where he has been visiting friends for a few days since returning from the South. Mr. Fabricotti plans to spend the remainder of the winter in this city.

H. J. M. Jones of Jones Bros., M. H. Ryle of the Globe Granite Co., of Montpelier, and John A. Cross of Cross Bros. of Northfield, comprising a special committee from the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association, left late last night for Boston, where they will represent the local organization at a special meeting of the National Association of Granite Industries, which was called at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon in Young's hotel. The Barre delegates will return to the city to-morrow morning.

Great Serial at the Pavilion To-day.

One of the best serial productions ever attempted by Broadway and photoplay stars will be shown at the Pavilion to-day. It is the first episode of "The Exploits of Elaine," written by Charles Goddard, directed by Leopold Wharton and enacted by Arnold Daly, the famous Broadway star, who needs no introduction to the theatre-going public of Barre. The leading female part is taken by Pearl White, picturedom's cleverest performer, and the work of Miss White and Mr. Daly easily surpasses any ever seen in a serial. The balance of the cast is up to the expectation of the most critical and the entire story has met with instant success wherever shown. An episode of this picture will be shown in this theatre every Thursday. To-day, in addition to "The Exploits of Elaine," three other classic reels will be shown, while the change of vaudeville makes a program of merit.—Advt.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Citizens' caucus, opera house, to-night at 7:30. Let everybody attend.

F. Burton Royce of St. Albans and C. R. Burnham of Byegate were among the business visitors in the city to-day.

Alexander Troup of North Main street left this morning for Wells River, where he will remain for a brief business visit.

Charles C. Kenyon of Merchant street returned yesterday from St. Albans, where he attended an installation of the uniform rank, Knights of Pythias. In his official capacity of adjutant, Mr. Kenyon reviewed the St. Albans rank.

A hearing in East Barre justice court will be held early in the coming week on selling charges preferred against two Spanish quarrymen, who were arrested in a raid conducted by Barre Town officers last Saturday night. Each of the respondents has furnished bail in the sum of $50. On complaints made to Town Grand Juror W. A. Cutler, Deputy Sheriff W. E. Bixby, James Cummings and Dennis Donahue visited two houses near the Stratton quarry. From each dwelling they took quantities of beer and liquor. The respondents have already pleaded not guilty to the charges and have retained counsel. Justice A. C. Dickey will preside at the hearing.

Ice harvesting on the millpond at South Barre as well as at Peck's pond on the quarry road has ended, after one of the most favorable seasons in several years. The local ice company, Ward & Son, has cut and stored in its several storehouses more than 7,000 tons of ice since the first cold snap in late December. The bulk of the crop was gathered in those days when the mercury went down to 52 degrees below the zero mark at Christmas time, as a second period of cold weather put the ponds in excellent shape for the work. In big figures the ice men believe they have saved and transferred to storage quarters more than 14,000,000 pounds of ice of first quality. The ice attained unusual thickness and the 50,000 cakes garnered during the season will average 250 pounds each in weight.

The Danish brotherhood will hold a masquerade ball in the K. of C. hall Saturday night, Feb. 20. Tickets, 50c each. Riley's orchestra will furnish music. Refreshments served. Everybody invited.

The Indian banquet and dance committee have their plans nearly completed for their annual banquet. Feb. 20 is the date chosen, and the affair is to be held in the Clan Gordon hall.

This morning while driving up North Main street, Charles Villa, a Granite street man, had a rather disagreeable bump. He was driving a rather spirited horse and when he got too near the sidewalk opposite the Moore & Owens clothing store, the sleigh struck a post. The shock turned it turtle and broke off part of the sleigh body. He was dragged as far as the Hub restaurant before the horse saw fit to stop. In this distance nearly all the body of the sleigh was stripped off, but Mr. Villa escaped without any very serious injury.

William Craig of Brook street left the city last evening for New York, where he will visit relatives until Saturday, when he expects to sail on the American liner Philadelphia, for Glasgow, proceeding thence to Aberdeen for a sojourn of several months in the scenes of his boyhood. Mr. Craig is one of the many ocean-going travelers who believe that the star spangled banner is a pretty good looking flag to have at the masthead these days. In specifying an American-owned boat when he engaged reservations, Mr. Craig did the thing that hundreds of other travelers have been doing since the Berlin decree was promulgated a few days ago.

From the attorneys for Maurice Goldstein, the alleged owner of slot machines, four in number, seized by the police a few weeks ago, notice was received in city court last night that the proprietor had waived all rights to contesting the court's order to destroy the gum venders. When Magistrate H. W. Scott announced his findings a short time ago and intimated that the law had only one fate in store for the furniture, Attorney R. A. Hoar declared he would carry the case to the highest court in the state. Apparently this decision was reconsidered. Judge Scott is preparing a destruction warrant which he will place in the hands of the police late to-day or to-morrow. In obedience to the requirements of the warrant, the officers will put the axe to four polished oak cabinets designated as gambling implements by the court's findings. Several bundles of chewing gum seized with the machines will be destroyed also.

"Al Priddy," or Frederick Kenyon Brown, as he is better known in private life, delivered an interesting lecture on "Cobblestones in the Melting Pot," before a sizeable gathering of men and women in the First Presbyterian church last night. Owing to the fact that a number of counter attractions had been looked for the same evening, the attendance scarcely approximated the expectations of those who had the lecture in hand. But those who numbered themselves as auditors of Mr. Brown had no reason to regret it. This evening "Al Priddy" will give the first of two lectures in Graniteville. His topic will concern some of the absorbing subjects which he considered when addressing Barre audiences. Rev. Edgar Crossland, who is entertaining Mr. Brown, will accompany the speaker to Graniteville. While in the city Mr. Brown has had the pleasure of renewing acquaintances with a few of his classmates at Dartmouth college, among them being Secretary Harold P. Hinman of the Granite Manufacturers' association.

Business in the quarter ending Feb. 1 at city court was slower than in any other quarterly period since 1910. Owing to a change in the statutory provision for making reports to the state auditor, the latest report of City Judge H. W. Scott covers December and January alone, whereas the regular reports under normal circumstances are to be made every three months. Beginning Feb. 1, the usual schedule will be followed. In December and January, 26 cases were recorded in court, and fines and costs paid to the state amounted to $114.63. From the state treasury the court received the sum of $195.90 to be disbursed among court officers. Back in 1911 there was a quarterly period when only 32 cases were reported, while in 1910 the total in one quarter was much smaller. With scarcely an exception in the past decade, the winter quarters, as they are called, were prolific of fewer arrests than in the other quarters. On the first day of the present month there were 11 arrests and indications point to a big month's business in court.

A regular meeting of Hiawatha lodge, No. 29, I. O. O. F., will be held Thursday evening at 7:30.

Regular meeting of Barre aerie, 1,573, F. O. E., Thursday evening at 7:30 in Eagles' hall.
