While it is a disappointment that more of our citizens are not willing to air their views more freely in our paper, there is no mistaking the solid backing that the paper is receiving in its efforts to secure a better form of government for St. Johnsbury.

Most reports indicate that Germany is in little danger of any explosion of bolshevism. Such an outbreak is founded on popular ignorance, and with all their faults and errors, the German people can't be accused of ignorance.

While the United States does not wish to become involved in purely European troubles, it must and will be generous to these countries.

EDITORIAL

It is no easy proposition to reform city and town governments. Towns and cities, like many individuals, are apt to follow the line of least resistance.

BACK TALK

The Bennington Banner offers this comforting suggestion: Lively young women need not mourn the passing of short skirts and bobbed hair. Somebody will devise something to alarm the puritans.

SUNNY SQUIBBLETS

Never put your name on a Christmas present, as it prevents your friend from passing it off to some one else next year.

gestions, if you wish, and if anyone has a better or more concise, constructive plan, let the same be submitted to the people through the columns of the Caledonian-Record, and let the people rule.
