

THE BEST ON EARTH

Says Mrs. Staples of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk for three months, caused by female troubles. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it.—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 157 B. School St., Taunton, Mass.

GEN. DENIKINE WITH BRITISH

Seeks Refuge on Board a British Warship at Constantinople

RUSSIAN OFFICERS ARE STIRRED UP

General Romanovsky Was Slain While With Denikine in Russian Embassy

Constantinople, April 6 (By the Associated Press).—General Denikine, former commander of anti-bolshevik forces in southern Russia, arrived here last night and is to-day a fugitive on board a British warship. Immediately after he landed, he went to the Russian embassy with General Romanovsky, his former chief of staff, and it was while he was there that the latter was assassinated. General Denikine is believed to be in danger because of the high feeling that prevails among Russian officers here, and went on board the warship under a guard of British soldiers.

General Romanovsky's murder has not been apprehended, and there is little chance he will be caught, as attaches at the Russian embassy say, so far as they can determine, nobody saw the tragedy.

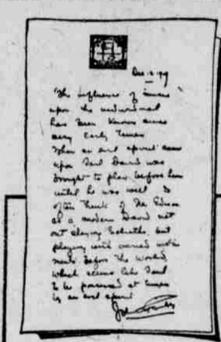

General Denikine and Romanovsky were talking with Prince Gergarin and several other Russians in the sitting room at the embassy and the latter left to arrange for a motor car to bring his luggage from the steamer. A few minutes later revolver shots were heard and General Romanovsky was found in a dying condition in the billiard room. He was unable to speak when his friends reached him, having been shot through the heart and windpipe. Madame Denikine, who also was at the embassy at the time of the tragedy, left soon afterward with her husband, under British protection. The incident created a great sensation here.

General Romanovsky was unpopular with the officers and soldiers and many charges were made against him, but General Denikine refused to dismiss him, thus handicapping the movement in the opinion of many Russians. Officials at the Russian embassy are displeased at Denikine's acceptance of a British guard while there, being technically at the time on Russian soil.

Dr. Henry A. Ladd Enters Bay Brook Sanatorium.

Dr. Henry A. Ladd, who has been appointed expert consultant by the Vermont Tuberculosis association, will continue his special preparatory work at Bay Brook sanatorium, New York. The Bay Brook sanatorium accommodates 200 incipient patients and arrangements have been made with the superintendent whereby Dr. Ladd will have ample opportunities for studying the diagnosis of incipient tuberculosis in a large number of patients.

Dr. Ladd has been spending the last month with Dr. B. J. Rogers at the Vermont sanatorium at Pittsford and after completing the work at Bay Brook will enter the Trudors school at Saranac Lake for a special intensive course of two months on the diagnosis of tuberculosis. Late in the summer Dr. Ladd will take up his work with the Vermont Tuberculosis association, assisting doctors everywhere in the state in the diagnosis of questionable cases of tuberculosis. It is agreed by tuberculosis experts everywhere that this is the most important work in saving people from this disease because a cure is begun in time most cases can get well.

From Dr. John H. Finley, President of the University of the State of New York, on Mr. Edison's new phonograph.

He wrote: "The influence of music upon the individual has been known since very early times. When an evil spirit came upon Saul, David was brought to play before him until he was well. I often think of Mr. Edison as a modern David, not out slaying Goliath, but playing with varied instruments before the world, which seems, like Saul, to be possessed at times by an evil spirit."

WOULDN'T you like to hear the Official Laboratory Model which brought this beautiful tribute to Mr. Edison from one of the world's most distinguished educators?

DR. Finley wrote his letter after Mr. Edison had proved the perfect realism of the New Edison to 6,000 teachers and officers of New York State's public schools by means of the new famous tone-test, given in Albany on November 25, 1912.

WE have an exact duplicate of the history-making Official Laboratory Model which called forth Dr. Finley's admiration.

Come in and hear it.

HOW TO LOWER YOUR MEAT BILL

(By Department of Justice)

Specialize in Buying Meat and Save Money.

The housewife of the present generation and particularly of the past year or so, during which money has been rather plentiful, has been demanding meats from one or two cuts of beef; that is, cuts from the loin for steak and cuts from the ribs for roasts.

This has created a tremendous demand for the loins and ribs, leaving an oversupply of the major portion of the carcass, which the retailer must dispose of at a disadvantage, owing to the lack of demand.

If Mrs. Housewife would take more interest and specialize in her buying, and would read carefully the articles that have been and are being published, calling her attention to the cheaper meats, she would realize a substantial saving. She would soon become convinced that there is exceptionally good meat in the round, rump, plates, chuck, etc.

In the olden days Mr. Housewife would call for a chuck steak, round steak, as well as an occasional porterhouse. Mrs. Housewife now knows only one steak, and that is the porterhouse, which is naturally the most expensive, as it is the most called for, and it logically must stand the extra expense. It is the world-old law of supply and demand.

How many housewives know that from the chuck they can get steaks, boiling beef, pot roasts and stew meats? The carcass (excepting the loins and ribs) contains meats that are just as appetizing, delicious and nutritious as the more expensive cuts, which are the ribs and loins. Unfortunately, however, custom recently has dictated that the ribs and loins be considered the more popular, hence the cheaper cuts have really gone out of their own.

A few years ago the average housewife usually called for a chuck steak or round steak as a matter of course. In fact, it was the daily diet and one seldom thought of ordering sirloin or porterhouse steak, except on special occasions. A good comparison would be that of ordering chicken or turkey for every day of the week just because it happens to be a "treat" or a special delicacy, and if chicken or turkey were thus ordered the outcome would simply be higher prices, due to the demand being larger than the supply.

The round makes wonderful steaks, pot roasts or corned beef. It represents approximately 23 per cent of the entire beef carcass, and the chuck represents approximately 34 per cent. The loins represent 17 per cent and the ribs 9 per cent, and of the entire carcass there is actually less than 5 per cent porterhouse steak, 5 per cent of club steak and about 9 per cent of sirloin steak.

Among the many appetizing uses of the chuck are: steaks, pot roasts, stews, boiling beef, pot pie meat and hamburger, with the fore part for soup meat and soup bones.

meats. The butcher pays a certain price for the cattle and he must get that price out of them. If the demand, as stated above, all runs to one or two different cuts, those cuts that are in demand must make up the loss of so-called cheaper meats, while if there was an equal selling distribution on the entire carcass, there would not be so much complaint of the high cost of meat.

Every housewife personally should make inquiries of her butcher as to the different cuts of meat.

Chopped Beef au Casserole. One and one-half pounds of beef, ground; one-half can tomato relish, tabasco sauce, one can beans. Mix the chopped beef with tomato relish. Add one-fourth teaspoonful tabasco sauce (more if desired). Season well with salt. Put in glass casserole and bake two hours, basting frequently with a high quality of table sauce. A few strips of bacon across the top of any meat loaf adds to its richness and improves flavor. Serve garnished with beets, quartered. Serves five people. Dorothy Dexter.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vick's are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.
