ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wilcox of St. Albans observed their 50th wedding anniversary June 8. Mr. Wilcox is 71 years old and his wife is 70.

Roy Pierce of Middlebury was arrested Sunday, charged with having short trout in his possession, and was fined $20 and costs, which he paid.

One hundred and sixty-five trees, elms and poplars, are to be set out on the streets of Newport to replace those which have been cut down.

The Woodlawn Farm Machinery Co., an Illinois corporation, has brought suit in Rutland county court to recover $1,200 from S. J. Lobdell of Wells. It involves collection on a promissory note.

Work on the state armory at Rutland was begun Friday, when ground was broken for the $125,000 structure. It is to be of brick and terra cotta three stories high. The contract has been awarded to a Boston firm. It is expected it will be completed in five or six months.

Because someone threw away a paint pail which contained a little of the mixture, Frank D. E. Stowe of Brattleboro lost a registered Guernsey heifer valued at $200 from poisoning from tasting the paint. The pail had been thrown over the pasture wall, on top of which are barbed wires.

SECOND PAYMENT, INCOME TAX

Is Here On Or Before June 15—Statement By Collector Kennedy.

The following information for the guidance of taxpayers in the payment of the second installment of their income tax for the year 1919 is given out by the collector of internal revenue, Burlington:

"Bills for the second installment of the income tax for 1919, due on or before June 15, have been mailed to taxpayers. Unlike those of last year, the bills are non-detachable and are expected to be returned intact, accompanied by check of money order.

"Payment in this manner is particularly desirable. It helps the taxpayer by saving him a trip to the office of the collector or branch office, and it helps the government by avoiding congestion at the cashier's window during the last few days preceding the date of payment. Besides a check is a receipt.

"Failure of a taxpayer to receive a bill does not relieve him of his obligation to pay his tax within the time specified. To avoid penalty and interest the tax must be in the office of the collector or branch office on or before June 15.

"Checks or money order should be made payable to 'collector of internal revenue.' Payments may be made at the office of the collector, Burlington.

"J. E. Kennedy, Collector."

PROHIBITION UPHELD.

And a Generation of It Will Establish It in Favor.

That the United States supreme court would sustain the 18th amendment to the federal constitution was never in real doubt. The legal theory developed for the occasion by the "wets" that the constitution could never be amended at certain hallowed points where the police powers of the states might be affected was too fantastic to impress the court seriously. The whole doctrine of "an unconstitutional constitutional amendment," which the opponents of the 18th amendment contended for, has as much foundation as the doctrine of an unconstitutional constitution. The people can make an entirely new constitution, if they want one, by perfectly constitutional methods; and they can make over the old one by the amendment process, as it pleases them to.

In unanimously sustaining this sound principle the court has performed an enormous service to the constitutional republic and as well to the cause of true conservatism in government. The opposing principle, which the court has fortunately condemned, would in part at least have transformed our constitution into a rigid system of law beyond the power of any generation to change, and government by the dead hand would have been established beyond the hope of its modification by constitutional means.

It is impossible to imagine anything in a governmental system more provocative than that of revolutionary violence, especially among a people who have always lived under the inspiration of the democratic creed that their government was elastic and free enough to respond to the changing needs and ideals of each successive generation. We now, happily, can always proclaim the fact that our federal government can be altered by the regularly-prescribed constitutional method in accordance with the public demand, and that consequently revolutions and coup d'etats to please shortcut reformers or restless and adventurous radicals are inexcusable attacks on American institutions.

More in doubt was the court's interpretation of the "concurrent power" clause of the 18th amendment. It is fortunate for the practical success of national prohibition that the court has fully upheld the Volstead act. The federal law is supreme whenever a state law conflicts with it—an old established principle—and efforts by any states to make lawful a trade in beverages having a higher alcoholic content than the content fixed by the federal act must hereafter stand condemned.

But this interpretation still leaves to the states concurrent power to enforce the 18th amendment. Their duty, however, is to enforce prohibition on the basis of the definition of "intoxicating" established by Congress. If the majority sentiment of the people in this country favors a legal definition permitting a higher alcoholic content than one-half of one per cent in a non-intoxicating drink, the people can secure from Congress an amendment to the Volstead act. Congress is obviously the legislative body to appeal to, if modifications in prohibition are deemed reasonable or just.

The real test of national prohibition must come now that these confusing legal questions have been swept away and the relative powers of the federal and the state governments have been clearly defined. The only question left is one of simple law enforcement. The prohibition forces have all the law they could possibly ask for; there remains the task of reconciling with the law the social customs of the people. Predictions of failure are abundant, but The Republican believes that one generation's fair trial will demonstrate that the disappearance of the licensed bar and saloon and the general curbing of the ravages of alcohol marked an epoch in the progress of the human race.—Springfield Republican.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbug (Cimex lectularius). The origin of the name bedbug is unknown, but is supposed to be naturally suggested, as it is descriptive. There are many local names for these parasites, as, for illustration, around Boston they are called "Chinches," from Baltimore comes the name "Mahogany Flat," in New York they are styled as "Red Coats," around Pittsburgh they are called "Pesky Devils," in Cincinnati and the South "Night-riders," in St. Louis and Chicago district "Crimson Ramblers, the great West "Pilgrims." The old saying, "The bedbug has no teeth, but they get there just the same," is correct. Instead of teeth they possess a piercing and suckling beak to draw and rob you of your blood for their own body.

Bedbugs, no matter what you may call them, or where they came from, science has found a way to rid them if you will use faithfully the new chemical, Pesky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q." A 35c package makes one quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants or cooties, and their eggs as well. P. D. Q. will not injure bedding, and each package contains a patent spout to enable you to get them in the hard-to-get-at places. Impossible for Pesky Levils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.—Adv.

Rosindale Woman Recommends This Prescription

Mrs. Albert J. Patch, of Rosindale, Mass., writes: "Before taking your medicine (Dr. True's Elixir) I was troubled with what I thought stomach trouble. I had that terrible gnawing in my stomach nearly all the time. Within half an hour after eating a hearty meal, I would have that same disagreeable feeling. I was losing in weight every day. After taking your medicine (Dr. True's Elixir) I was relieved of that terrible gnawing in my stomach, expelled worms, and I felt like a new person in many ways, and would heartily recommend it to anyone suffering as I did."

Headaches, tired feeling, weakness, spots before the eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness, constipation can be relieved, if you take the prescription known as Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It has done much for sick people, men, women and children, ever since 1851—over 68 years' reputation. AT ALL DEALERS'.—Adv.

A Grilling Question.

The superintendent of a large factory was short of help. One morning, as a last resort, he stopped an old tramp who was passing by.

"Are you loooking for a job?" he asked the tramp.

"What kind of a job?" the tramp asked.

"Can you do anything with a shovel?"

"Yes," answered the tramp, rubbing his eyes, "I can fry ham on it."—People's Home Journal.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind, he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others, who took it away with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. The Red Cross Pharmacy has been appointed agent for Allenrhu in this vicinity, with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.
