

RUMORS OF G.O.P. BOLT ENLIVEN SITUATION AFTER NOMINATIONS

Amos Pinchot, "Member of Committee of 48," States Positively That There Will Be a New Party Presidential Candidate in the Field.

LAFOLLETTE MAY HEAD ANOTHER TICKET, TOO

Harding's Campaign Manager Calls for Energetic Action to Elect the Republican Ticket — Harding and Coolidge Campaign Will Start Soon.

Chicago, June 14.—Declaration by Amos Pinchot, member of the committee of 48, that there positively would be a new party presidential candidate in the field; rumors that Senator LaFollette would head a ticket as presidential candidate; and announcement that the campaign in behalf of Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican presidential nominee, would be started promptly, were the outstanding developments, following the Republican convention.

The statement by Mr. Pinchot declared that the "Republican party has driven out of representation in its councils the millions of voters who followed Roosevelt, Johnson and LaFollette," and that the new party will represent these voters and "present a definite and constructive program." Reports concerning Senator LaFollette's possible candidacy were less clearly defined and in some instances were linked with declarations made in behalf of the committee of 48. Harry M. Daugherty, pre-convention manager for Senator Harding, began preparations for the presidential nominee's campaign by requesting the national committee to take "prompt, scappy and energetic action" in placing the merits of the Republican issues before the voters of the country. Party managers, it was said, would start the campaign soon after the Democratic convention is held and wait until Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge are officially notified of their nomination.

The car overturned outside the wall and John Mead, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder, was captured immediately. Ora Lewis, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder and robbery, abandoned the car just before it hit the gate and was returned to his cell. William Stender, serving 10 years for robbery, got away. The men had made keys for their cell doors and escaped from the inner confines yesterday, after choking the cell guard into unconsciousness.

"PITIABLE," SAYS GOMPERS. That United States Has Not Ratified League of Nations.

Montreal, June 14.—It is "pitiable" that the United States has not ratified the league of nations, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared to-day in an address before the federation convention. If the league covenant were submitted to the American people "without any other entangling questions, it would be overwhelmingly accepted," he said. "It is pitiable that the United States has not ratified the league of nations," said Mr. Gompers, "but has forgotten the effort of the nations of the world to prevent another horrible conflict such as that which started six years ago.

The labor draft of the league covenant, he added, would "help in the reunion of the working people of the world and would help workers in the most backward countries."

Berlin, June 14.—Leaders of the majority Socialist party to-day notified Herr Heinze, the moderate Conservative chief, who is trying to form a cabinet of their refusal to enter a coalition government in which the German People's party was represented. Herr Heinze, according to one report, then abandoned further negotiations. Another report, however, states Herr Heinze will confer with bourgeois party leaders for the purpose of attempting to form a coalition government made up of Clericals, Democrats and members of the German People's party, which would command 199 votes against 190 held by the two Socialist factions.

PERIA'S APPEAL FIRST To Be Taken Up at Session of League of Nations Council.

London, June 14.—Persia's appeal for protection against Russian bolshevik aggression was expected to be one of the first subjects discussed by the council of the league of nations at the opening of its executive session in St. James palace late this afternoon. The session will continue for two days, with the probability that the bare outlines of the conclusions reached will be announced on Wednesday. In view of the hands-off policy of the council with regard to the Polish offensive, some observers expect to-day to meet with jealousy to revenge arising from a dispute over heavy betting. Meanwhile search for the "woman in the case" continued with 25 detectives seeking clues from the picture gallery of beauties which graced Elwell's home.

Elwell, was begun to-day. What expert, was begun to-day. Besides this man and woman, detectives are searching for two sporting men, intimates of Elwell, who disappeared the morning of the killing. Police theories regarding motives for the crime seem to center from jealousy to revenge arising from a dispute over heavy betting. HARDING NOW IN WASHINGTON

Republican Presidential Nominee Was Given a Noisy Welcome ON HIS ARRIVAL FROM CHICAGO

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, Republican presidential nominee, was back at his desk in his office at the capitol to-day. Accompanied by Mrs. Harding, his secretary, George Chastain, and a small group of senators, he arrived here a few minutes after midnight and went directly to his home on Wyoming avenue. While a boy scout band of Oil City, Pa., sounded a noisy welcome, the senator and his party made their way through the cheering crowd at the station, pausing just long enough for two flashlight photographs to be taken, an incident that was repeated upon his arrival at his home.

Senator Harding told the Associated Press he would remain in Washington about a week. He will not receive formal notification of his nomination until he returns to his home at Marion, O. Congratulations upon his nomination continued to reach Senator Harding at his office, what at home, Mrs. Harding received numerous enthusiastic messages from their personal friends. Many of the neighbors had remained up to witness the home-coming and their greeting was like that given by the crowd at the station. The senator thanked those who had gathered to welcome them, but made nothing in the nature of a statement. Among those who accompanied the Senator from Chicago, were Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, and Fernald of Maine.

GOV. COOLIDGE WILL FINISH HIS JOB Does Not Plan to Resign in Order to Enter Election Campaign—He Was At His Office To-day.

Boston, June 14.—Governor Coolidge, the Republican nominee for vice-president, returned to his desk at the State House to-day to "finish his job." This was the word which came from the executive chamber in reply to the question whether he would resign in order to devote himself entirely to the Republican national campaign in the interests of Senator Harding and himself. The governor will offer his services to the Republican managers to assist in the campaign but, according to his secretary, Henry F. Long, his activity will be conditional on his ability to do full justice to the demands of his present office. He has finished every job he has ever undertaken and intends to complete his record as governor without slighting the job in hand in order to try for another, the secretary said.

SEEKS MILLION OF PROSECUTOR

Gaston B. Means Says District Attorneys Tried to Corrupt Witnesses DURING HIS TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE Means Was Tried on Accusation of Murdering Mrs. Maud A. Robinson

New York, June 14.—Suit for $1,000,000 damages was filed in federal court here to-day by attorneys for Gaston B. Means against District Attorney Edward Swann and Assistant District Attorney John T. Roofing. The complaint charges the defendants with conspiring with officials of the Northern Trust company of Chicago "to bribe and corrupt witnesses" to testify falsely against the plaintiff in his trial for murder of Mrs. Maud A. Robinson King and to defeat probate of the alleged last will of James C. King of Chicago, her husband.

The alleged bribery and corruption was said to have been practiced during the trial of Means at Concord, N. C. Means, who served as business agent for Mrs. King, was acquitted. The complaint charges attempts by Swann and Roofing to "convict plaintiff of the crime of murder, have him executed or incarcerated and failing in this design, as they did, to bring about an atmosphere through false and libellous publications furnished to the press by said defendants as would have the effect of discrediting the plaintiff as a witness in the trial of the probate of the will in the city of Chicago, the ultimate object of said conspiracy being to defeat the probate of the said last King will." This will disposed of a $4,000,000 estate.

SKIDDING AUTOMOBILE KILLED YOUNG MAN

Howard R. Root of Rutland Almost Instantly Killed and Michael Glasse, a Norwich Student, Injured. Fairlee, June 14.—Howard R. Root of Rutland was almost instantly killed and Michael Glasse, a student at Norwich university, Northfield, was badly injured in an automobile accident which occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday morning on the New Hampshire side of the river in the town of Orford, about two miles from this village.

The young man had been attending the week-end dancing party at Lake Morey and were on their way back to Norwich university. In the same party were Chester C. Bentley and Kenneth McMillan of Rutland, with some young ladies from Montpelier. The party were obliged to make a detour to the left of the road because of repairs being made on the road before reaching the Byron Dennis place, where the accident occurred. Mr. Root turned out to pass the car in which was the other party.

So far as the accident could see in the glare of their headlights, the Root car came suddenly on a sharp curve and the rear wheels skidded in some loose earth, the car swinging sharply across the road. Just what happened thereafter is uncertain, but the car turned turtle, rolling over at least twice before coming to a stop.

Mr. Root was thrown clear of the car and was struck on the temple, a sharp, severe blow from which death was practically instantaneous. Mr. Glasse was pinned under the car and was also supposed to be killed, but was taken out, apparently with no bones broken or any serious injuries, other than bruises and a terrific shock.

Root was breathing when taken into the Dennis home, but died before Dr. A. W. V. of Bradford, who was hastily summoned, could reach the place. His family, in Rutland, was notified by telephone as soon as possible. The car was not badly damaged, the motor being started without difficulty and the car driven on under its own power.

MUST AVOID A DISTORTED VIEW—HUGHES Address Given To-day at Wellesley College Commencement Exercises.

Wellesley, Mass., June 14.—Charles E. Hughes, in an address at the Wellesley college commencement exercises to-day, cautioned his hearers that in an appreciation of the difficulties which have accompanied the period after the war "we must avoid a distorted view and we must not fail to realize that the great effort of the nation has not changed in a few months. His subject was "The Patriotism of Peace."

He contrasted the unified efforts of war time with "the absence of a compelling motive" and "the rush of competitive interests" that have followed. "Unless we have in peace time," he said, "that dominant sentiment which prompts a continuous and self-sacrificing devotion to public ends, the sacrifices of patriotism in war will have been in vain. Our national ideals are neither idealistic nor radical. They transcend all ordinary national aims; they are not bound up in anything short of establishing and maintaining constitutional government as the sure base of liberty."

"It is a spurious patriotism that is linked to the triumph of any creed or class or becomes the vehicle of bigotry. The common good rooted in the essential institutions of justice and individual liberty—that is the national ideal."

"We have talked so much of free institutions that we are apt to think that in this country we must take care of ourselves. Our recent and current experiences should disabuse us of this notion. We have too many evidences of a readiness to take advantage of opportunity to establish autocratic administration. The ease with which our nation and people have been conditioned should give us more anxiety than wild utterances which easily defeat themselves. The tendency to crave arbitrary power, to use power—either economic or political power—ruthlessly, is more apparent with us than devotion to the cause of liberty."

"It is a government of law—that is, a government of law—with power so adjusted as to secure protection from capricious and arbitrary action—in the putting of principles and rules sanctioned by the people in the place of tyranny, that we find the security of liberty. Unless we have such a government, these orderly processes are the enemy against whom at once the entire power of organized society should be directed."

"There is, however, a great difference between pre-empting the orderly processes to repress political opinion with which we do not agree. It is precisely because liberty must have its institutions; because liberty can only continue through organizations securing government upon the basis of accepted principles, that the institutions of liberty must be as effective and adequate as the means for their protection. If they do not provide the means for the adaptations which each generation must have to guarantee its freedom."

"The true method is to trust the truth and find the remedy. Does a remedy need to be found? The patriot then shows that it does not. If it is exaggerated, limit it to the facts. To the degree that it exists search for the remedy. If a wrong remedy is proposed, expose it. If the remedy proposed is worse than the grievance, demonstrate a motto for democracy must be educate, educate, educate. You can find no other security than the intelligence and conscience of the people. But you cannot at once educate and stifle opinion. There is hope in the free air, there is tonic in confidence in ultimate success of what you strongly believe to be true but the policy of denying free expression of political opinions is death to the republic, for that expression is its vital force."

WOOD ALCOHOL PICKING 'EM OFF

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hamilton of Boston South End Were Victims

Boston, June 14.—George A. Hamilton and his wife, Irene, died to-day, victims of wood alcohol poisoning, in the opinion of physicians who attended them. Medical examiner Leary ordered an analysis of the contents of a bottle of colorless liquid found in the room in a south end lodging house.

The man told the landlady early to-day that his wife was seriously ill and that he was feeling badly. Physicians who were called found Mrs. Hamilton dead and sent her husband to a hospital, where he died soon afterward.

GIVEN UP FOR LOST RETURNS TO CLAIM BOAT

E. B. Taber of Montauk, Long Island, Was Numbered Among Victims of the Sea. New Bedford, Mass., June 14.—E. B. Taber of Montauk, Long Island, numbered among the victims of the sea when his cabin cruiser motor boat, Del Rey was picked up as a derelict drifting in the open sea 45 miles southeast of No Mans Land Friday and brought to this port Saturday, arrived in New Bedford to-day to claim his boat.

Mr. Taber is an agent in the employ of the conservation commission of the state of New York, maintaining hatcheries at Montauk. Last Friday he was engaged in setting lobster pots and was knocked over by a heave of the sea and precipitated into the water fully dressed, wearing rubber boots and oilskins.

After being in the sea for 45 minutes and almost on the point of collapse owing to his cumbersome clothing, Taber was picked up by Edward B. Tuttle, engaged in the same business. He was landed at Fort Pond Bay, L. I., and to-day came to New Bedford to claim the Del Rey, which was towed here Saturday by Captain William B. MacDonald, master of the steamer Joppit of Gloucester.

STONESHEDS RE-OPEN

Long Suspension Ended To-day—About 150 Firms Open Doors. Despite the rust of 10 weeks, 150 stonesheds whistles which blew this morning at 7 o'clock had a resonance that was pleasing both to manufacturer and cutter, for to-day Barre's chief business was to form high employes by the agreement of the Granite Cutters' International association and the International Monumental Granite Producers' association on a scale of wages, with $8 per day for eight hours' work the minimum for stoneshedders.

Though it is impossible to secure exact figures, it is believed that 2,000 men had been affected by the suspension of manufacture in the Barre granite belt, which includes this city, Montpelier, Northfield, Waterbury, Williamstown, West Berlin and East Barre. In that belt less than 150 separate firms were employed, all of which threw open their doors to-day to receive the workmen. Of course, the working forces at the sheds was not normal to-day, but will be within a week, or ten days, as workmen are steadily pouring into Barre, some to resume work for former employers, others new to Barre seeking positions. Traveling salesmen of these 150 firms are starting out to cover their specified territories.

Now that Barre's business is getting back to the speed of a few months ago, the requests to re-open the Bethel and Montpelier whistles by Betalier & Wells River railroad become more numerous and are quite likely to prove effective. This matter Traffic Manager C. D. Waters of the Granite Manufacturers' association is giving all possible attention, being at present confronted with embargo problems.

SPAULDING FASTENED CLAIM

By Defeating Brigham Academy Most Decisively, 19 to 5. Spaulding's baseball nine to-day claimed themselves champions of the town. The team, which defeated the Brigham academy of Bakersfield on Centennial field in Burlington by the score of 19 to 5. Up to noon only a short telephone report had been received at The Times office, but it was sufficient to inform the Barre supporters of Spaulding that the Barre team had walked off with the laurels once more. Orpheus Bizzozero pitched the first part of the game and was then substituted by Louis O'Leary, the 15-year-old southpaw. Quite likely this change was only a part of Coach William Johnston's plans to give both men a chance.

DISPUTE OVER LAND In Which Title Was Given by Right of Possession.

Chelsea, June 14.—There was one more criminal case and one civil case to be tried by jury and possibly another civil case when Orange county court opened this week. Cases will probably be heard by the court after the jury session has been disposed of, the court cases to continue a week.

The attention of the second week of the term was devoted to the trial of the following cases: William L. Godfrey vs. Sheldon Miller and the case of Sheldon Miller pro se and an administrator, both actions that Miller had in each case pro se of the free hold, and since the plaintiff in each case charged the defendant with trespass on practically the same piece of land. It was agreed by counsel that the two cases be tried together. The parties in the cases were neighbors who had long since come to terms and Mr. Godfrey had titled and exercised the right of ownership of a small area of land for more than 40 years which, after dispute arose and action was brought by Mr. Godfrey against Mr. Miller for trespass and after an exhaustive search of the records, showed that Miller had a record title to the land in question, and since the plaintiff in each case charged the defendant with trespass on practically the same piece of land, it was agreed by counsel that the two cases be tried together. Each party employed a land surveyor, who plotted and presented blue prints to the land in dispute and the cases were bitterly contested from the start to finish and both Miller and Godfrey had occupied six days and from the evidence deduced the jury found that Mr. Godfrey was the owner of the land in question having derived his right of ownership by adverse possession, which finding and verdict by the jury determined the division line between the two parcels of land. A sawmill owned by Mr. Miller as to the right of the right to enter upon the land of Mr. Godfrey for the purpose of making necessary repairs on his mill. While the victor is always entitled to his spoils, and while there has for several years been much friendly feeling between the two families, before the parties left the court house, negotiations were entered into whereby Mr. Godfrey conveyed to Mr. Miller a sufficient number of feet of land in the rear of the mill to enable him to make such repairs as may become necessary in the future.

Mr. Hokerk closed the career of James J. Townsend of Chicago, president of the Chicago stock exchange, as one worthy of emulating, and told how Mr. Townsend continued his trade of shoeing horses many years after he went to Chicago to seek his fortune, because he had to do so, as he was the only thing that he could do well. He urged the graduating class before him to consider themselves at the gateway of life. They should try to ascend to the spiritual heights, he said, to get a true perspective of what lies ahead of them, and to work with them enough of the atmosphere to be a source of spiritual strength to them in time of trial.

"When the soul understands and realizes that it is with God," he said, "there is no limit to the aspirations of the soul. It is the only way by which it will accomplish." In concluding, he likened them to a fleet of ships, starting out from harbor with their precious cargoes, and prayed that God would bring them safely to their heart's desires.

SENIORS ARE AT LIFE'S GATEWAY

Rev. F. O. Hokerk Told the Members of Goddard's Graduating Class

51ST COMMENCEMENT UNDER WAY Results of Week Culminate With the Graduation Next Friday

The commencement exercises of Goddard seminary were opened yesterday with the observance of class Sunday at the Universalist church, the best calaustrate sermon being delivered by Rev. Frank O. Hokerk, pastor of the church. The entire senior class and a portion of the junior class marched in and were seated at the front of the church at the opening of the service. Members of the Glee club sang two anthems as a part of the morning service, and Miss Vera Benjamin, a member of the senior class in the commercial course, sang a vocal solo, "Lo, This is Our God," by Huhn.

Mr. Hokerk took for his text, a portion of the 30th verse of the 107th psalm, "So he bringeth them to their desired haven." He commenced by recalling the first baccalaureate sermon that he had ever preached, an address for his audience, the career of one boy in that class in whom he had been particularly interested.

"The greatest lesson of life for young men and women is to come to the realization that they are the instruments through which God is working in the world. He has put in each of us a part of himself, and it is our duty to use that part to the glory of God. We are not here to seek our own glory, but to seek the glory of God. We are not here to seek our own pleasure, but to seek the pleasure of God. We are not here to seek our own ease, but to seek the ease of God.
