If the predictions of the theatre men come true, all Barre will be a stage-almost.

It is three years since the United States entered the World war, yet a federal grand jury at Brooklyn has just returned indictments against 2,264 alleged slackers. Such a memory as Uncle Sam has!

It is going to take a lot of artificial stimulation to arouse much enthusiasm over the Resolute-Shamrock yacht race for the America's cup; but perhaps after a race or two the public will begin to take a mild interest.

Capture of the man who has been setting fire to hotels in Boston during the past week brings a feeling of relief, for, although his five attempts were unsuccessful, one can easily imagine what a terrible tragedy might have been the result of his perverted mind's activity.

Those reiterated official statements from Berlin that Germany must keep faith with the allies under the Versailles treaty read well for foreign consumption. The next thing is, do they have the right kind of effect on the German people? They may be meaningless, empty words so far as the German populace is concerned.

The Democrats in convention assembled gave President Wilson a splendid ovation, but Democrats in private walks of life have not been giving him such rousing support as the demonstration at San Francisco would seem to indicate. In fact, there has been quite a tendency to swing loose from the Wilson mooring strings in late years.

New proof that the United States is becoming the banker of the world because of the war's changes is given by the announcement that the Swiss republic is seeking to raise $25,000,000 in the United States for the purpose of financing railway development. Besides this, there are many other governments which are looking for money in the United States.

Chairman Cummings of the Democratic national committee is somewhat skillful as a gatherer of words, in addition to being a campaign manager, if one were to judge by the speech which he delivered as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention. He presented one of the read old-time campaign attacks and must have pleased his fellow-Democrats immensely.

The automobile accident in East Middlebury in which one car went over an embankment because the driver was unable to determine the location of an oncoming car because the latter vehicle carried only one headlight is one that might easily happen again and again on a narrow road. One light might easily be worse than no light at all for the driver of an approaching car. Motorists should take warning and see to it that the lights on their machines are in good order.

The assertion from San Francisco that Governor Clement of Vermont was in a close race with Governor Roberts of Tennessee to be the first to call a special session of the legislature to act on ratification is denied by the former, who says that he has no present intention of calling the Vermont legislature together. The whole story was of doubtful authenticity to one who had been acquainted with Clement's attitude regarding a special session. Possibly the story was concocted for the purpose of stampeding Clement into calling the session, in which event the attempt has fallen flat. Clement is not to be easily stampeded, either on the liquor question or the suffrage question.

The Republican candidate for vice-president of the United States does not go about with a blare of trumpets. He stopped off at New Haven, Conn., while on his way from Burlington to Washington and, having considerable time to wait, thought to take a room at a New Haven hotel. Sauntering from the station to a hotel, he asked for a room and was tersely informed that there was no room available. Turning on his heel, the governor of Massachusetts sauntered back to the station and waited for his train to depart for Washington. The hotel clerk probably does not know that he refused a room to the Republican candidate for vice-president. It is the Coolidge way not to make a great to-do.

Farmers in the vicinity of Barre have given a good demonstration of business initiative by deciding to form a co-operative creamery association and to build a modern creamery building. The product of this creamery ought to have a ready market, especially if the contributing farmers in the vicinity discontinue their individual

To-day, a new style, if unfavorably criticized by women, is doomed to oblivion.

One reason for the unusual popularity of our Palm Beach suits is, they are so becoming to men that they get the approval of the observing eye of women.

Of course to men the comfort and coolness of the suits are the main appeal, as we men are so indifferent about our personal appearance.

of the farmers of the immediate vicinity in having their herds tested under government supervision for signs of tuberculosis. The ability to advertise tuberculosis-free products ought to enable the proposed creamery to dispose of its products easily, for there are few, if any, creameries in this vicinity which are in position to advertise their products as of such quality.

GOOD START TOWARD CLEANING UP BAD MESS.

Return of eight indictments as a result of the investigations into the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger and deserter, from the Governor's Island, N. Y., barracks some months ago, re-awakened anew in the minds of the American people the expectation that this malodorous case may be entirely cleaned up with the punishment of the parties who were so negligent or criminal in permitting the notorious deserter of the United States government to flee and that the principal in the case will be located and be made to suffer the maximum penalty for his various offenses. There is no disposition on the part of the public to railroad any persons through the courts or to secure conviction against those who were not immediately concerned in the escape; but there is an earnest desire to get the principal and to exact punishment on the willful contributors in the escape. The respect in which the government of the United States ought to be held demands complete clearing up of the matter.

BAPTIST SLATE ELECTED.

Opposition to J. C. Brougher Not Enough to Defeat Him.
Buffalo, N. Y., June 30.—The slate submitted to the northern Baptist convention by the nominating committee and headed by Ernest I. Tustin of Philadelphia was elected, the tellers reported at yesterday's session. Rev. J. C. Brougher of Los Angeles was elected as one of the 13 members of the executive committee.
Opposition to Mr. Brougher had developed because of his attitude on the question of marriage and divorce. He performed the marriage ceremony for Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford.

GOOD CROP OUTLOOK.

For Czech-Slovak Republic, Says President's Daughter.

London, June 28.—Dr. Alice Masaryk, daughter of the president of the Czech-Slovak republic, and herself the president of the Czech-Slovak Red Cross, who has been visiting London, expressed herself hopefully with regard to the future of her country.

"There is a promise of a good harvest," she said, "the sugar beet crop is estimated at 700,000 metric tons, of which 400,000 tons will be available for export. The political outlook is also good, the new constitution having provided a sound working basis. Its democratic character afforded protection for the minorities in the German districts which could not be given up."

"The Germans," she remarked, "will not have such a hard time in the republic as we had when they were in power."
The children of Czech-Slovakia are being organized into a junior Red Cross, men of the Serbian army assisting. Over 3,000 schools were built in one year in the eastern part of the country, which was very much neglected under the Magyar rule, and the children are being taught the importance of personal hygiene.

STEAMSHIP MEN HERE.

North German Lloyd Officials Arrive at New York.

New York, June 30.—Arrival here yesterday of Director General Philip Heineken of the North German Lloyd Steamship company on the Nieuw Amsterdam, with other directors and assistants, gave significance to reports that American interests soon are to have a "big hand" in Germany's former great sea transportation lines and routes.

Heineken refused to discuss the immediate object of his visit.

That Word "National"

No law is stronger than the force of public opinion behind it, and likewise no bank is stronger than the character of the men who manage and direct its affairs.

Now the interesting point in this connection is that the character of the management of a National bank is determined not by the bank itself altogether, but under the direct influence of a guiding hand at Washington, D. C.

The United States places the responsibility and the directors must meet the same in just one way and that is the straight way, and there is no deviation from the course, no compromise, no arbitration, and no reservations whatever.

It has been said that no corporation of a private nature doing business to-day places as much individual responsibility upon its management as rests upon the directors of a National bank, and this is undoubtedly true.

Supervision at Washington, examinations by experts, frequent inquiries and suggestions of a most searching nature, have a constant tendency to force strict adherence to safe and ethical banking procedure.

For this and many other reasons, people, who have money to deposit, instinctively prefer the National banks, and why shouldn't this be so? They know that the National banks offer what amounts to banking insurance as well as ordinary protection through wise management; they know that the United States government is constantly watching their little deposit as it would watch its own, and all this at no expense to them whatever.

This bank offers you a large capital, surplus and profits for your protection, all of the facilities which any serviceable banking institution offers, and beside all this the added protection of United States supervision. If you do not know what it means to be under the control of the United States government, ask anyone who has had this experience. There is just one way with Uncle Sam, and that is the right way.

PRIMARIES IN NO. DAKOTA.

Non-Partisan League Administration Seeking to Stay in Power.

Fargo N. D., June 30.—The Non-Partisan league administration in North Dakota is seeking a continuation of power in the North Dakota primaries to-day. Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, the first league governor, is running in the Republican primaries for nomination for a third successive term.

He is faced, however, by opposition in the Republican primaries from Non-Partisan league candidates. William Langer, state's attorney general, who was twice elected on the league ticket with Governor Frazier, is running for governor in the Republican primaries against his former chief and two other state officials elected on the last league ticket are seeking renomination on the regular Republican ticket against men who this year bear the league endorsement in their stead. They are Thom as Hall, secretary of state, and Carl Kostitzky, state auditor. The Non-Partisan league also has candidates for these offices in J. L. Cahill and D. C. Poindexter.

Republicans and Democrats opposed to the league have agreed with the Independent Voters' association to unite in a campaign against the Non-Partisan league and have appointed a joint committee to control a joint campaign fund for use in advancing the candidacies of the Republican and the Democratic opponents of the league.

United States Senator A. J. Cronka is asking renomination in the Republican primaries, while the Non-Partisan league candidate for Republican nomination is Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the North Dakota Agricultural college. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks is candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

MUTUAL FRIENDSHIP

Mutual friendship means friendship that is reciprocated or appreciated. The word "Mutual," which is always applied to the old time savings banks, means reciprocally acting or for the common good. In plain language, it means the depositors have the benefit of all the profits, a part of which is reserved, according to law, for the protection of deposits from possible loss, and the remainder is distributed among the accounts of the depositors at an equal rate of interest.

Now, observe how this works out.
Northfield Savings Bank has the maximum reserve or surplus fund required by law of all state banks for the protection of deposits from possible loss.
Northfield Savings Bank for the NINTH consecutive semi-annual period will pay its DEPOSITORS at a rate of interest more than four per cent interest July 1, 1920. By the way, this is a record in Vermont.
Northfield Savings Bank is the only mutual savings bank in Washington County. Deposits made on or before JULY 10TH will begin to draw interest from July 1st.
Assets a million and a half.
