The Democrats seem bound to make it a "bitter end" convention whatever else they do.

Randolph will have fireworks aplenty for its Fourth of July celebration if it succeeds in inducing the four Republican candidates for Congress to participate in the exercises. Or even three of them. Two might start something.

That third party boom is being held in abeyance, just as the voters will suspend it in mid-air if the occasion ever arises during the election next November. There is no chance for a third party this year regardless of what turn the election outlook may take.

Every now and then a person with an appetite stronger than discretion goes the way to the Great Beyond by the wood alcohol route. That, too, despite the repeated warnings caused by the death lists published in the newspapers. The way to safety leads through abstinence from the stuff about which there is not exact knowledge.

Vermont's tourists are co-operating with the state highway department in reporting poor stretches of highway in Vermont. Tourists "make no bones" of registering their complaints in this matter of highways. It deserves to be said, however, that the complaints are confined to comparatively few stretches of highway.

The American athletes have been throwing quite a scare into the ranks of the Britishers during the last few weeks, but they have performed no more meritoriously than did the English university athletes who recently participated in the intercollegiate games at the University of Pennsylvania. The two countries are turning out some marvellous specimens of humanity when reckoned from the standpoint of skill, endurance and speed. In fact, the two nations are so advanced in athletic life that there should be no doubt of their standing well to the top in the Olympic games to be contested later in the summer.

If you've just left the institute of learning and are about to institute proceedings to make yourself indispensable to the business world, it's well to remember the words of Roger W. Babson:

"There is nothing in business, next to integrity and industry, that counts as much as good manners."

Here are business suits for young men that grace good manners. Style without freakishness. Prices, $18.50 to $65.00.

Blank, Like the Verse.

The young man rolled his eyes as he entered the editorial sanctum. "Here is a poem which you may publish in your paper. I dashed it off in an idle moment and you will perhaps find it's a little rough. You can make any correction you please." "Thank you," said the editor. "I will give you a check for it at once." "You are very kind. I shall be delighted." The editor handed him a check. "Many thanks," said the poet. "I will bring you some more poems." He had reached the door, when suddenly he turned. "Excuse me, but you've forgotten to fill up this check." "O, that's all right," said the editor. "I have given you a check in its rough state, as it were. You can make any correction you please."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Caruso Singing Handel's Largo, a Victor Feature

Handel's "Largo," as sung by Caruso on a Victor record, is the chief feature of the Victor offerings this month. Yet the popularity of this record will be seriously rivaled by Galli-Curci's "Les Filles de Cadix" (The Maids of Cadix), another summer-time Victor record. Orville Harrold, the great American tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, takes the part of Rodolfo in "Boheme," and makes his first Victor record, "Racconto di Rodolfo." Sir Harry Lander returns with a new song, "I'll Think I'll Get Wed in the Summer." John McCormack, the most consummate of ballad singers, sings "The Barefoot Trail" for Victor this month. And Sophie Braslan sings "Greatest Miracle of All," a melody built on the aboriginal negro scale. "Oh! By Jingo!" and "Nobody But You" are new medley fox-trots. "Oriental Stars" is a new Victor one-step. "Who'll Take the Place of Mary?" is sung by the Crescent Trio against a fine orchestral accompaniment. These July Victor records are now on sale at Bailey's Music Rooms, Barre.

MUTUAL FRIENDSHIP

Mutual friendship means friendship that is reciprocated or appreciated. The word "Mutual," which is always applied to the old type savings banks, means reciprocally acting or for the common good. In plain language, it means the depositors have the benefit of all the profits, a part of which is reserved, according to law, for the protection of deposits from possible loss, and the remainder is distributed among the accounts of the depositors at an equal rate of interest. Now, observe how this works out. Northfield Savings Bank has the maximum reserve or surplus fund required by law of all state banks for the protection of deposits from possible loss. Northfield Savings Bank for the NINTH consecutive semi-annual period will pay its DEPOSITORS at a rate of interest more than four per cent interest July 1, 1920. By the way, this is a record in Vermont. Northfield Savings Bank is the only mutual savings bank in Washington County. Deposits made on or before JULY 10TH will begin to draw interest from July 1st. Assets a million and a half.
