BETHEL DOCTOR FOUND BURGLAR IN HIS HOUSE AND EFFECTED CAPTURE

UNKNOWN MAN SHOT TO DEATH

Died After Being Carried to New York Hospital in Limousine

HE TRIED TO SHIELD SELF WITH A HAT

There Were Five Holes in Hat and Five Wounds in His Body

New York, July 16.—An unidentified well-dressed man, who was found with five gun-shot wounds in his body here early to-day, died as he was being hurried to a hospital. After the slain man was taken into the hospital a revolver was found in Miss Leroy's automobile and she and her two companions were held by the police. Belief was expressed by the police, however, that the victim was shot by a shotgun, because of the size of the wounds. Two shotguns were later found in the house in front of which the man was picked up, and one of the weapons gave evidence of having been just discharged and reloaded. Five large holes also were found in the slain man's straw hat, indicating that he had tried to shield himself when the weapon was discharged.

The first two girls were taken into custody at Newport and the third at Richford. When arrested the Remillard and Boyer girls were entering the United States with flekets for Manchester, N. H., where they said they were going to visit relatives for two weeks.

The immigrant inspectors looked them over casually at first, but later with added interest, for both were very plump from the neck down. When placed in the hands of the matron each of the girls disgorged two cans of a gallon each of high wine and two pint cans in a special constructed skirt. About the waist they also wore a garment which carried eight pint bottles full of the same liquid, the garments having many pockets.

The girls said later they were to deliver the liquor to a man who was at Manchester, N. H., and pay them for the goods. They had been told that there was no chance of their being caught and they were to be paid liberally.

VETERANS ENJOYED THEIR CONVENTION

Officers Re-Elected, Dr. E. J. Foster of Waterbury Center Being President and John R. Wilson of Worcester Secretary.

A very successful reunion was the report of John R. Wilson, secretary of the Washington County Veterans' association, as well as that of Dr. C. M. Ferrin, secretary of the 8th Vermont regiment, the two organizations which held their reunion jointly at Dewey park Thursday.

In the veteran association Dr. E. J. Foster of Waterbury Center, who has been president for some years, was re-elected, while John R. Wilson of Worcester, who has been secretary and treasurer since the institution of the organization, was re-elected to that position.

All of the vice-presidents were re-elected as were the members of the executive committee. These are Napoleon Monty, Thomas Corry and George W. Kidder.

The first number on the program yesterday afternoon was a song by Jack Cole. Then followed remarks by Dr. Foster, who told the members of the changes that have occurred in the last year. Col. F. B. Thomas spoke of his experience in the World war, telling the veterans some of the improved implements that were used in the last war and many interesting bits of personal experience from the time the 1st Vermont regiment went into service until he was mustered out in Michigan, having come home as colonel of a different regiment.

J. B. Estee of Montpelier referred to the greatness of this occasion, the decreasing number of members and the work which the relief corps must do to keep up the spirit of the organization. He referred to the comradeship between the boys of the Civil war and old men who were present to look forward to the future. He commented personally on different members of the assembly and claimed their efforts as the connecting link between the past and future of this nation. He told the audience of the example set Wednesday when the French flag was hoisted to the winds with Old Glory in honor of France, a sign of the friendship between the two nations and that Thursday was the second celebration of the German drive toward Paris, which failed and resulted in the armistice.

The entertainment, which was headed from Montpelier by Dr. Foster, Stephen Thomas is permanent president of the organization, but the following vice-presidents were elected: Theodore Kendall and Jack Cole; executive committee, Aaron Rowell, Montpelier, F. B. Morse, Morrisville, W. C. Dunham, Braintree; honorary colonel, L. H. Parker, Lancaster; Messrs. Kendall and Ferrin; secretary and treasurer, C. M. Ferrin, Burlington.

There are about 150 members of the 1800 who were members of the regiment, now living. There were 11 deaths during the year. Those present were from Montpelier, Braintree, Worcester, Ferrisburgh, and other places. The members who were present spoke of the faithfulness which their comrades have shown in every walk of life. Dr. Ferrin made a nice talk upon the G. A. R. and auxiliary organizations. He also told the members of the Veterans' association some organized which had taken place. He is surgeon general of the national department of the G. A. R., and he discussed that work for the veterans to some extent.

Those members of the 8th Vermont organization who were present were from Montpelier, Dunham, Kendall, Gettich, Clark, Cole, Goodell, Ferrin, Cass, Ormsbee, Parker and Chase. Comrade Chase recently suffered a paralytic shock, but was able to attend, although having to be assisted by friends. Dr. Ferrin referred to some of the men who have made in the Vermont in civic life, including Benjamin Bowman, now in California, Col. F. E. Smith and Edward Dewey, late of Montpelier, and Comrade McFarland, the last member of the regiment band.

SIDE JUDGE CANDIDATE.

Lewis D. Coburn of East Montpelier Listens to Friend's Argument.

A new candidate for side judge of Washington county has developed in the person of Lewis D. Coburn of East Montpelier to enter the field on the promise of his many friends. His candidacy is presided in the following communication:

"If there is any merit in the direct primary system it certainly should be in the people's prerogative to select a candidate for public office. This is especially so in taking place in Mr. Coburn consenting to become a candidate for side judge. It is done on the earnest solicitation of a host of friends who see in him, not the politician seeking the office, but a man eminently fitted for a place of responsibility."

"For over 20 years Mr. Coburn has been closely identified with town affairs of East Montpelier, holding many offices of trust, and in 1916 was the unanimous choice of the Republican party for town representative, and was elected and served in that capacity. "Let's make the slogan unique: 'A man truly selected, nominated and elected by the people.'"

Exciting Chase Through the Night Resulted in Arrest of Man Who Gave Name of Frank Williams and Who Had $43,000 in Securities in His Pockets.

PRISONER CLAIMED TO BE STONECUTTER

Dr. George I. Abbott Returned Home at Midnight Last Night and Found a Man Looting His House — Without Waiting for Help, He Gave Chase.

Bethel, July 16.—The timely arrival home of Dr. George I. Abbott at midnight last night prevented the robbery of his residence at the head of River street and resulted in the capture of the intruder after an exciting chase and a hard tussle. The man to-day gave the name of Frank Williams, no home, but coming to Bethel from Albany, N. Y., by the way of Greenfield, Mass. On the man's person were found bonds, securities and papers aggregating the sum of $43,000.

The home of Dr. Abbott was unoccupied during the early part of last night. Dr. Abbott's mother being in Stone on a visit and the doctor being out on professional calls. On walking toward the house after putting up his automobile, Dr. Abbott saw a light in his house but at first thought it was a reflection from a street light. As he looked, however, the light went out, arousing suspicion that someone was in the house.

Hurrying to the house Dr. Abbott looked in the front door and saw the form of a man, the figure disappearing toward the back door of the house as the doctor approached, using a flashlight. Dr. Abbott rushed into the house and looked about for some weapon with which to attack the burglar. Meanwhile the burglar fled by a rear door, which had been opened earlier in the evening by him.

Although he could not find a weapon, Dr. Abbott started in pursuit and the chase led off the rear piazza toward the stable and back to the rear of the residences of Christopher Arnold and Mrs. C. E. Heppner. Being more familiar with the surroundings, Dr. Abbott gained on the fugitive and in the garden of Mrs. Heppner overtook and seized the fugitive, who did not show fight but endeavored to get away. He had succeeded in breaking away for a moment, but Dr. Abbott got a new hold, never once stopping to think that the fellow might be armed.

The two men wrestled in the darkness until they reached the street, the doctor all the time calling for assistance. His cries were heard by Dr. O. V. Greene, who had just returned from a professional call. Dr. Greene came to the scene and partially clothed the intruder, then called upon Dr. Abbott to find Constable F. S. Blossom, Jr. As it happened, Constable Blossom was out on a call and Constable F. S. Cady responded, the constable taking charge of the prisoner.

Without further delay the prisoner was searched and the $43,000 in securities were found. There was nothing to indicate where the securities came from. The man was not armed. He was taken to the jail and will be arraigned before municipal court this afternoon, after which he probably will be taken to the county jail at Woodstock.

The man claimed to be a stonecutter. He was well dressed and of good appearance. He is rather under medium size and about the same build as Dr. Abbott, and about middle-aged. Investigation at the home of Dr. Abbott disclosed that a screen in a rear door had been cut and a window in the house had been broken. The burglar had gained entrance by means of this window. It was found that all the jewelry in the house, a camera and small change had been thrown into one of Dr. Abbott's bags ready to be carried away, but had been left there when the thief was detected in the act of looting the house.
