The first diplomatic dinner at the White House in six years is a sign that we are getting back to normalcy.

Premiers may come and premiers may go in France, but they are one and all dominated by the same thought—Germany must pay.

Vermont may not be a wealthy state but her citizens find the means to purchase automobiles in large numbers. Vermont is the twentieth state in percentage of automobiles to population, which is somewhat odd when it is considered that there are only six or seven months in which motoring can be enjoyed.

The incorporating of a $100,000 company to conduct a summer vacation resort at Malletts bay, on Lake Champlain, marks another step toward the capitalization of Vermont's remarkable possibilities along the summer resort line. There are plenty of localities, whose possibilities are yet to be developed for this purpose. Vermont can be a great vacation ground and still not sacrifice any of its present industries.

As mediator between Chile and Peru, the government at Washington stands in danger of receiving an assortment of pop bottles, some bricks, a lot of decayed fruit and the usual amount of cuss words. But if the United States is able to bring about a peaceful adjustment by conference between the representatives of the two South American nations it can afford to take all the above compliments without flinching. The prospects of success look favorable.

"Friend of Roosevelt put in jail," says a newspaper heading. Has it come to this, that the name of the nation's illustrious personages must be dragged into the reckoning, though it be ever so remote, every time a chance acquaintance happens to be caught in the toils of the law? Consideration for the good name of Roosevelt ought to be sufficient to prevent the use of his name in connection with this, that and the other deviation from right living by erring ones. It is unwarranted presumption to drag the name of Roosevelt into a matter of this sort.

A new field for Barre granite publicity is opened up through the medium of the lecture platform, accompanied by motion pictures of the quarrying and manufacturing scenes. Sec. A. R. Bell of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association is the pioneer in the present movement for making Barre's product better known, having already spoken to a large gathering in Leonia, N. H., at which time considerable interest was evinced by the audience in getting some first-hand information regarding an industry, which is more or less closely related to all people inasmuch as a monument or headstone of some kind is vouchsafed to most people when they shuffle off this mortal coil. The method of publicity deserves expanding.

INCREASING THE ENFORCEMENT STAFF.

The prohibition enforcement officials on the northern border of Vermont and New Hampshire are to be reinforced immediately, the complement of men in the Vermont territory being increased by three. The addition is extremely modest in view of the vast amount of attempted rum smuggling from Canada into the United States through Vermont; in fact, it is far short of the number imperatively needed if the routes leading into the state are to be watched with any considerable degree of vigilance. There are only a few main highways connecting Canada and Vermont, but there are numerous minor roads over which the rum smugglers are induced to make the attempted entry as the main routes are guarded more closely, while, of course, there are, in addition, many attempts at smuggling in smaller quantities through foot trails and un-frequented paths. To cover these routes of liquor commerce at all adequately a large force is necessary. At present such a force is not available. Nor will the addition of three men make a great deal of difference although it is a help.

Her Dear Message.
 "I am writing to your mother, Betty," said her father. "What shall I say to her for you?"
 The little one looked thoughtful for a moment and then replied, "Tell mamma I send her a kiss in my heart."—Boston Transcript.

FACE THE FACTS NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

January 17-23
 Benjamin Franklin's Birthday, January 17th

MANY OF US slip along through LIFE, half assuming that FORTUNE will take care of us ALL our days, whether we conduct our LIVES sensibly or not. Won't YOU—just THIS WEEK—face the FACTS of LIFE, and ADOPT certain SAFEGUARDS which mankind after many centuries has found WORTH WHILE?

Tuesday, January 17—Thrift or Bank Day. To stress the importance of having money in the bank. A living bank account is as important as a "living wage."

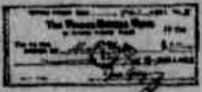

Wednesday, January 18—Budget Day. Keep a simple record of what you spend—and you won't need to spend so much.

Thursday, January 19—Life Insurance Day. Give your family protection that will live on after you.

Friday, January 20—Own Your Own Home Day. Having a good bank account is the first step in buying a home.

Saturday, January 21—Pay Your Bills Promptly Day. One of the first requisites to business success and the respect of your fellow men.

Sunday, January 22—Share With Others Day. Great men are generous. This attribute of greatness, at least, can be yours.

Monday, January 23, Make A Will Day. Don't turn your family adrift without a rudder when you die.

We shall be glad to give you further information or counsel on any subject connected with Thrift Week. Ask for a copy of our booklet, "What America Owe Franklin." It will tell you things you have never known about him, and about his very important achievement—the successful promotion of Thrift.

PATS AND PUNCHES

When we look upon the splendors of winter in Vermont, how can we help exclaiming, "What more could poet want?"

What a lot of trouble and expense would have been saved the New York criminal courts system if Luther Boddy, confessed slayer of two detectives, had been captured by just an ordinary cop!

Mr. Atlas, Jr.
 Ernest Terry, who has carried J. P. Cameron's farm the past year, moved to Grand Isle recently.—Burlington Clipper.

I expect to start this week papering my den with the cards and letters I have received calling my attention to the fact that E. N. Rook is in the stone business here in Barre.

Frank Bonnett is entertaining the chicken-pox.—United Opinion.

Spare your efforts, Frank. It may want to stay.

Straight and Narrow for You, Mr. Cobb.
 Harold Condon of Wells River recently began work in the Cobb barber shop. Mr. Condon is a barber of considerable experience and will make Mr. Cobb a good man in the shop.—Hardwick Gazette.

Extreme measures are sometimes necessary to silence even the servile sex. The United Opinion says: "Mr. G. P. Colby had the misfortune to drive a nail into his foot so he has been obliged to keep quiet for a time."

The Underhill correspondent to the Burlington Clipper chronicles the social activities of what I claim are two of the most appropriately named couples in this hectic era. Mr. and Mrs. Moses Shurtleeves and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Drinkwater.

Sleepy Thieves.
 Two boys' night-shirts and one night-dress are missing from the assortment of garments used in the Christmas cantata.—Orleans County Monitor.

Comes the sage and says, "It's about as easy to find a true, sincere, steadfast friend nowadays, as it is to tell time by the clocks on midday's latest hostility."—Joy F. Ten.
