Following a long established custom, the ladies of the Home Study club set apart the evening of Nov. 2 for the annual gathering called "gentlemen's night," when each member of the club is privileged to invite two of her relatives or friends. The event proved to be a very happy one and was held in the parlors of the Congregational church. Shortly after 8 o'clock, the company was called to order by Mrs. Lottie B. French, acting for the committee, which had in charge the arrangements for the evening. A brief musical program included a piano solo by Miss Esther Seaver, endorsed; two musical recitations by Miss Rebekah Seaver, with her sister, Miss Esther, as accompanist, and piano selections by Mrs. Bessie F. Outland. Mrs. French then introduced the speaker of the evening, W. H. Jeffrey of Montpelier, state probation officer, and chairman of the board of charities and correction, who gave a most interesting talk on the methods and scope of his work, our state institutions, the probation and parole system, and many other matters with which he has to do under the laws of the state. Photographs of some of the shackles in which families had been living and of some of the children that had been furnished medical assistance were passed to the audience near the close of his remarks. It was very interesting and to some almost a revelation of a department of our state of which the average citizen knows far too little. A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Jeffrey, after which a social hour was spent, made the more enjoyable by light refreshments of cake and ice cream, provided by the committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Mary E. Waterman, Mrs. Fannie Dow and Mrs. Lottie B. French. Mr. Jeffrey was accompanied by his wife, pleasantly remembered here as Miss Nellie B. Tillotson, and also by Deputy Probation Officer C. L. Dana of Montpelier, who has charge of the office, and his wife, who is the matron of the new shelter home in Montpelier, Kinstead.

Peter Pielde and family, who moved here from Randolph some five months ago and have been living in the west tenement in Mrs. Randall's house, have sent their goods by truck to Randolph and will, after passing a few days at Minard Chapman's, go back to Randolph, where they have rented a house at 51 School street. An offer of steady work in the bobbin factory at Randolph was one of the reasons for the change.

Nobody has yet remembered to give your correspondent any data concerning the chicken-pie supper, but it is said the affair was financially more than usually successful, supper being furnished to about 300 and the booths being well patronized. Nearly 100 came from Barre and nearby towns to enjoy the ride and the bountiful supper.

Ramon Villanueva and family, formerly of Barre, have moved to the north tenement in W. B. Jones' house on East street and he is employed with the Williamstown Granite Co. now doing business in the old Passera plant. Don T. McAllister of Chelsea was in town lately to visit his brother, Van D. McAllister.

Several from this neighborhood attended the Halloween social at the east hill school. About sixty were present. Samuel McCarty is sawing wood for Carl Rehn. Mrs. Ralph Bailey and Pearl Carroll visited Mrs. William Felix Thurston. Wilfred Lamore has finished work for Bert Tobbets and now is at the home of his parents. C. D. Farr is now ill with an attack of grip. Misses Helen Harvey and Edna Stegl attended the burial services of the wife of Fred Blodgett at Lower Cabot Monday.
