LOCAL NOTES AND GOSSIP.

There will be an auction at the American House yard Saturday, Oct. 25. The Sunshine society will meet with Mrs. E. S. Bowen next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Several Chinese hearings on appeals from orders of deportation are being held before Judge Wheeler today. Columbia lodge, F. & A. M., worked the first degree on one candidate at its meeting in Masonic hall Friday evening.

The first meeting of the creditors of the bankrupt, John H. Black, jr., of Bellows Falls, was held before Referee F. D. E. Stowe Monday. The New England Poultry Journal of this week contains a three column account of the Valley Fair poultry show including a full list of awards.

Friends of N. I. Hawley have been congratulating him this week upon the birth of a daughter to his daughter, Mrs. J. Lewis Morse of Philadelphia. Attention is called to the West End R. R. advertisement on the 8th page. This company is looking for men to fill the positions of motormen, conductors, etc.

Beausant's commandery was represented in the parade which was held in Rutland yesterday in honor of the dedication of the Masonic temple there. The young men's Bible class in the Congregational Sunday school, which is taught by H. E. Bond, began its winter course of study Sunday after a vacation of several months.

The balliffs have decided this week to lay a sewer connecting West and Williams streets with the Frost street. This is the third sewer which has been laid by the present board of balliffs...

Special examinations for teachers will be held in Brattleboro Nov. 28 and 29. All the schools are closed today on account of the teachers' institute at Bellows Falls.

L. Itzinger's orchestra of 10 pieces will furnish music for the fireman's concert and ball at Walpole, N. H., tonight. The force of men which have been working on the railroad near East Putney all summer finished there the first of the week. The grading for the double tracks is nearly completed and the rails will be laid early in the spring.

The Carpenter Organ factory has been running on a 10 1/2 hour a day schedule since Oct. 11, and will continue on that basis through the month. The employees begin work at 6:30 a. m. and work until 6 p. m., six days in the week. Mrs. Nettie M. Frost was given a surprise party by a number of friends at her rooms in Odd Fellows' block Monday afternoon.

Rev. George B. Lawson, the new pastor of the Baptist church, will be given a recognition service in the church Thursday evening. Mr. Lawson arrived in Brattleboro Wednesday. He will conduct the prayer meeting this evening and will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. Edgar A. Stoddard, formerly of Brattleboro, made the lowest net score in the qualifying round for president's cup at the Springfield Country club.

Miss Amelia Bingham's special company will present her production of Clyde Fitch's play, 'The Climbers,' in this city Wednesday evening. 'The Climbers' is a satire upon the prevailing craze for so-called social distinction, and the dehumanizing effect of the mania for the accumulation of wealth.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Joseph L. Jones, who was seriously injured last week Sunday by falling down the Walnut street embankment, called upon him Monday evening to inquire after his condition and assure him that his speedy recovery was hoped for. Several useful articles were left in the way of sympathy.

The first really cold weather of the season has made its appearance this week and the necessity of coal has been brought home to everyone very forcibly during the past few days. The thermometer registered its lowest mark of the season up to that time Tuesday morning, and many of the surrounding hills were covered with snow for a short time. The temperature was still lower Wednesday morning and the heaviest frost of the season lay on the ground.

About 50 members of the Woman's club gathered in the Brooks House Wednesday afternoon to listen to the lecture on 'Art' by Miss Evelyn A. Buffam of Winchester, N. H.

Washington despatches announce the granting of pensions as follows: George W. Hart of Brattleboro $12, Julius S. Newton of Brattleboro $8. John A. Griffin of Brattleboro was sentenced to one month in the House of Correction in the city court at Northampton last week on the charge of intoxication.

The new desks and counters for the Vermont Savings bank arrived this week. The work of finishing the bank cannot be completed until the arrival of the new vault. The regular meeting of Brattleboro chapter, D. A. R., was held in the Brooks House Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ella O. Estabrook gave an interesting paper on 'Colonial Days.'

The hearing in the petition of the estate of George W. Hooker for the appointment of a receiver for the firm of Hooker, Corser & Mitchell was begun in the county clerk's office Saturday before Judge Tyler. The case will be continued next week before Judge Rowell. The W. C. T. U. held their meeting yesterday afternoon. They voted to have a supper at Mrs. Mary Chamberlain's, 26 Elliot street, Thursday from 5:30 to 8 o'clock.

The temperance committee of the legislature yesterday agreed on four sections of the bill which they are to report. Two sections are from the Democratic or Conland bill. These sections refer to the establishing and defining non-liquor license boards. Two sections are nominally those of the Fletcher bill but which are substantially all the other bills, defining what shall be considered intoxicating liquors and exempting cider from the operation of the law.

Miss Oella Wilder Clark, 50, died at the home of Mrs. Mary Acker in Hornedellville, N. Y., Tuesday morning after a long illness. The body was brought here and was buried in Prospect Hill cemetery this morning. Miss Clark was a niece of the late Judge R. W. Clark and lived in Brattleboro for many years, attending the Brattleboro High school. She lived in the Clark house on High street for some time after Judge Clark's death but removed from town about eight years ago.

The attraction on the local football field to-morrow will be a game between the Brattleboro Athletics and the eleven representing the Greenfield St. Joseph's team. After the surprisingly strong showing of the local players last Saturday there is no doubt that they are able to make it interesting for an eleven in this section. The game will be called promptly at 1:30, rain or shine, and as the field has been entirely reseeded by the management, every play can be seen from any standpoint.

Richard Brown of this town, and Mrs. Helen Louise Martin of Springfield, Mass., were quietly married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the groom's brother, Rollin S. Brown, on Chapin street. Rev. H. R. Miles of the Congregational church performed the ceremony. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, palms and cut flowers. The marriage took place in the presence of the relatives and a few friends.

Miss Amelia Bingham's production of 'The Climbers,' which, by reason of its perfection in acting, mounting and costuming established her in the front rank of America's theatrical producers, will be seen in this city at the Auditorium Wednesday evening.

The Woman's Relief corps will hold a rummage sale in the near future. Wanstasket lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the initiatory degree at its meeting Wednesday evening.

The goods from the Pittsburg stock of Sewall Morse have just arrived here, having been on the road four weeks. Mr. Morse announces his terms of disposition in his adv. which appears in this issue. W. G. Doolittle has bought of the Weatherhead estate a large tract of timber land, estimated at about 1,000,000 feet, near the Lily pond in Vermont.

The famous 69th regiment band of New York with its splendid array of soloists will appear in Brattleboro Nov. 19 under the auspices of the local court of Foresters. This is one of the best known musical organizations in the country and its concert will afford the music lovers of Brattleboro a genuine treat. Bids for the new furniture manufacturing plant of Souto & Co., which in all probability will be erected here this fall, are called for October 27 and must be at the New York office of B. Souto & Co., by that date.

The fifth annual harvest day of the Brattleboro Home for Aged and Disabled was held Wednesday and as usual was a gratifying success. About 70 people registered in the guest book during the day, and in response to the appeal of the directors a large quantity of vegetables, canned fruits and jellies were given to the home in addition to about $100 in cash. The work was entirely informal, but all the more pleasing on this account.

Charles F. Dennison, who died suddenly of apoplexy at his home in Springfield, Mass., Tuesday evening, was a native of Green River and lived in Brattleboro for several years. He was employed for some time in Crane's machine shop and afterwards worked in a sewing machine factory. Mr. Dennison was a man of much mechanical ability and invented a number of mechanical appliances. Most of his life was spent in Springfield where he held a position in the office of the Massachusetts Mutual insurance company. He is survived by a widow. The body will be brought to Brattleboro this morning and the burial will take place in the family lot in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Mila Hines, 80, wife of Lockhart Barrett, died at her home on Canal street early Tuesday morning after an illness of about four weeks' duration although she had been in poor health about one year. She was the youngest of the 12 children of Thomas and Sarah Hines and was born in Munroe, Mass., July 11, 1822. Her early life was spent in her native town but since her marriage to Mr. Barrett in 1854 she has lived in Brattleboro. Besides her husband she is survived by two children, Mrs. Herbert E. Barrett of Springfield, Mass., and Charles D. Barrett of Springfield, Mass. Mrs. Barrett was one of those who founded the Brattleboro Universalist church and had always been prominent in social and church work during her life in this community. She was a woman of strong Christian character and held the esteem of a large circle of friends.

An exciting game of football took place on the island Tuesday afternoon between the junior class team of the High school and the team representing the sophomores and freshmen. The score stood 5-5 at the end of two hard fought halves with the ball on the juniors' two yard line. Betterly made the touchdown for the consolidated team by picking up the ball on a fumble and running 20 yards. Rogers scored for the other side on a long end play. Neither side scored in the second half although the ball was in the possession of the sophomore-freshman combination a greater part of the time and was carried nearly the length of the field by the youngsters. Cobb proved the best ground gainer for the consolidated team and hit the line extremely hard. Kimball's tackling was a feature. The lineup:

Junior Sophomore-Freshman Squads: Coach Barber, I. T. ... F. C. ... F. G. ... F. H. ... F. J. ... F. K. ... F. L. ... F. M. ... F. N. ... F. O. ... F. P. ... F. Q. ... F. R. ... F. S. ... F. T. ... F. U. ... F. V. ... F. W. ... F. X. ... F. Y. ... F. Z.
