Frank Chickering has just secured a patent on a jack for raising wagons. He thinks it eclipses anything yet invented for ease and convenience in oiling wagons. He has sold one-half of the patent to S. Swerdfeger. He is now working his fertile brain to bring out an invention of a stove that will work without pipe or chimney. By the use of tubes and pipes the smoke is condensed into creosote and made to contribute for heating substance. He informs your correspondent that it is to be a sure go.

Nancy J. Ainsworth died in Cabot, November 9, 1897, aged fifty-seven years, five months and twenty-five days. Nancy J. Johnson was born in Lyman, N. H., May 15, 1840. When quite young she removed to Hardwick, Vt., where her early life was spent and where, in 1863, she was married to Milo D. Ainsworth. Two children were born to them—Albert C. and Julia M., now the wife of John Shaw of Lower Cabot. The last nineteen years of her life were spent in Cabot, where her son is engaged in business. She was a woman of strong vitality and energy, but humanity has its limit of endurance, and when she reached it the end came. Heart disease of the most fatal type attacked her, and after a severe struggle between life and death, lasting over five weeks in spite of all that care and skill could do, death conquered and she "fell asleep" to wake no more until the resurrection morn.

"Dearest mother thou hast left us,

SEPTEMBER 13

For the Equitable Life

We settled a 20 year Endowment paying 4 per cent compound interest for 20 years lacking $9.35. The party paid $47 68 annually. We paid him $1,467.25. 4 per cent amounts to $1,476.60. He had 20 years indisputable insurance. Now he has his money back with a fair rate of interest. He ought to allow 2 per cent for insurance and 1 per cent for taxes, and if so it would make 7 per cent compound interest. This is good enough.

A CLEVER TRICK.—It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back and weak kindeys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimiuant to the liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miricle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only fifty cents a bottle at C. Blakely's drug store.
