ROYAL Baking Powder

The "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook"—most practical and valuable of cook books—sent to every patron. Send for address by postal card.

There are cheap baking powders, made from alum, but they are exceedingly harmful to health. Their astringent and cauterizing qualities add a dangerous element to food.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Melvin E. Church returned to his old home here last week after an absence of some months. He hopes to strike a job here.

Lewis M. Seaver went to New York City last Saturday on one of his periodical business trips.

The "Mozzo Hatch Electro-Photo Musical Company" arrived here on Friday, according to program, for an entertainment in the evening, but were disappointed in not finding the needed gas for their light that had been ordered to come here. As a consequence they could not exhibit.

James Lalley has rented the farm of Horace E. White for the coming year. Mr. White will move to his new house in the village near Mrs. Orcutt Abbott's place.

Frank Lougee, of quite large experience as an employe in reform schools, is now in such a school, in West Roxbury, Mass., and may remain there for a time.

Rev. Anna B. Aldrich, of East Montpelier, preached at the Lenten service at the Universalist church here last Thursday evening.

The aged mother of Mrs. Charles Guild is getting up from an attack of erysipelas. She lately had her eightieth birthday. She draws a pension as the widow of one who served in the war of 1812.

Jerry M. Hutchinson has bought of C. U. Lathrop the old Joel Bass, Jr., house, near our village cemetery. He will occupy it till his fine new house, nearby, can be completed.

An out of town man who was here recently told us that he had dealt to some extent in old furniture, etc., and mentioned prices that he had gotten for certain articles. An old-time woven woolen coverlet for a bed, brought $30 or more. For old looking-glasses, some twenty-four to twenty-seven inches, in length, with painted pictures at the top, he would get $3 to $8 at times. For certain old four post bedsteads of only ordinary height of posts, $5 had been obtained. We are all familiar with the higher prices obtained for old tall clocks, and maybe such articles as old bureaus. Our conversation was in the presence of townsmen Lucius S. Simons, who told us of valuable relics of the past in his own possession—one of them a teapot some hundreds of years old.

Mrs. Susie Benedict Erskine, who has had severe sickness at her new home in Albany, N. Y., in the year past, is to visit here for a time in the family of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry F. Erskine. Her many old home friends will welcome her return to them.

The Universalist ladies were the first this year to have a new sugar social, in connection with a promenade at the town hall advertised for last Monday evening.

Fred Bailey, who has just sold his farm on the East hill to Haden Jeffords, advertised a lot of stock, etc., for auction sale at the farm on Tuesday of this week.

Our creamery patrons realized twenty-four and one-half cents per pound for butter fat, for January and twenty-seven cents for the same for February of this week.

Miss Ohio Tarbell is visiting the family of an uncle in Springfield, Mass. She will return in time to teach in our quarry district the coming season. Miss Mae Morse of Barrefield will also return to teach in the same district.

James S. Hopkins, after whom the camp of Modern Woodmen here is named, gave the fraternity a maple sugar party at their hall in the J. K. Lynde block one evening last week.

Will J. Young has returned from his trip to Sidney, N. S., where he has a sister. It looks as if he would continue work with the Gearsom-Beckett company here for the present.

The Congregational Ladies have just been making further improvements on their parsonage and will yet make more.

Mrs. William Gearsom, for whom scarlet fever was fatal last week, escaped with only a sore throat.

Julius Montini, the young Italian book keeper for Fontana Brothers, has just consented to take a class in the study of Italian, which at present includes Dr. E. B. Watson and wife, and Rev. D. H. Strong and wife. If any other of our citizens desire to learn the language, it will be a rare opportunity for them to do so now.

Will our ministers now, be thinking the former days were better than these? An old citizen gives us this reminiscence of former days here. A minister in one of our churches, then, had left the practice of law and taken up preaching. Asked by one of his parishioners which profession he preferred, he replied that "as a lawyer all the bad things were brought to him, while now none of them came to him."

Our Belgian farmer, Theodore Alexander, has sold over 100 bushels of potatoes in Granville at eighty cents per bushel.

Elmer Farnham, and family have returned from a year's absence in the vicinity of Pittsfield.

It is said that the Italian anarchist, from Patterson, New Jersey, who spoke to our Italian citizens recently, would return here within two or three months, to hold a discussion, pro and con, with another Italian from abroad, who is a great speaker, and that they may be here a week or more and twice as long in Barre.

We hardly recall a time, in late years, when there has been so great a call for tenements here as now. The granite business is fine, with a large Italian element among the workmen at the sheds, new families are coming in and a desirable house for rent finds plenty of applicants for it.

Rev. D. H. Strong was called to the East Hill in Brookfield, some eight or ten miles away, last Thursday evening, to marry a couple, the groom being a son of Silas Newell of East Brookfield.

We lately had the pleasure of a visit to the room of Carlo Abate, the Italian modeler, who has a diploma from an Italian academy. He had just finished a plaster model for a statue to crown a monument to be made here this season by the Italian firm, known as the Williamstown Monument Company. It is to be of light granite and typical perhaps of a wife at the grave of her husband, with a wreath of flowers to place upon it. Signor Abate has taken another model in hand for a statue. We have been told he is an expert workman in his art.

The Congregationalists have voted to have a new hymnal for their Sunday service and will get the one published by the Congregational Publishing Society.

Mrs. Judson Seaver, after years lived in our village, goes this week to live on the East hill, with her son Forrest.

Veteran John Bacon decides to go to the Soldiers Home in Togus, Me. The place is five miles from Augusta. In a recent conversation with a Vermont veteran he tells us that he has spent some four years in the Home, and that at one time while there, there were 3000 veterans being cared for. He spoke well of the institution.

The sale of the old granite shed recently made by the Gearsom-Beckett Co. to Angelo Zarilla, will send recent occupants, Mike Elliott, Willard Walker and perhaps John Dow and Will Lougee to the Lynde granite sheds in Mill Village to work.

If only there were more granite shed room for rent here, and more tenements for workmen, what an increase of business we might see.

In the going off of our snow, and the April-like weather, the matter of a large amount of maple sugar to be made this season here, is a doubtful question.

Mrs. Leavitt S. Hayward is improving in health in Northfield, and she may return home within a short time.

The wife of Lawyer W. C. White and children went to Middlesex last week for a visit with home friends.

Horace N. Farnham is in the west again, for more horses.

There was an excellent run of sap here, Friday and Saturday last.

Mrs. Ella Benedict Griffin is thought to be doing well at the hospital in Burlington though not able to sit up any yet. Her trouble is called tuberculosis.

Mrs. Azro A. Reed and new born son, are, it is hoped, doing well.

Mrs. J. W. Tindall is to have a class of ladies in physical culture. Already fifteen persons are found to join it.

Rev. Frances A. Kimball is to assist in Lenten services in Lyndonville and Glover this week. Rev. Ethel K. Jones of Barre will preach at the Universalist church here on Friday evening of this week.

Miss Ellen Folsom is on her way from Massachusetts to our place for a stay with relatives before returning to her missionary work in India.

Landlord G. D. Harrington thinks this week will end his stay here, unless he succeeds in buying the Monument house.

Ophir S. Martin is getting through the winter in good condition of health and his case may prove another like Clinton Cram's, who has had such good health in late years after profuse hemorrhages from the lungs.

It is said that the large old Joel Bass Jr., house, that J. M. Hutchinson, has just bought, will be converted into an Italian boarding house.

Mr. Bertolini, one of our wealthiest Italian citizens, is about to engage in the granite business for himself here.

He will have as a partner an Italian friend in Barre who will come here. We hope they will achieve the success Mr. Bertolini is worthy of.

Moses Parsons, now in his ninety-first year, fell down stairs last week but escaped with no broken bones.

Fred Bailey has bought a farm in West Berlin close by the railroad station, to which he will soon move.

Return S. Davis and son have hired Dan Minard as a farm hand for the season and the latter will occupy their Troubles that Lead to Insanity and Suicide Result from a Diseased and Disorganized Nervous System.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Great Banisher of Nervousness in all its Forms

Are you a victim of melancholia, or do you brood from day to day? Does the shriek of the steam whistle, the rattle of wheels or the clangor of bells cause you to start and shiver? If this is your condition, be assured your case is extremely critical.

The science of medicine has, thank Heaven, furnished a means for the banishment of all the troubles referred to. Paine's Celery Compound is the great restorer and builder of the weakened and shattered nervous system.

This marvellous prescription of Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D. LL. D., begins its work directly upon the nerves by bracing them up; it strengthens tissues and muscles; it causes pure life giving blood to flow freely to every part of the body, carrying health, vigor, joy and happiness into each hour of life.

Beware of remedies that have no merit or reputation to recommend them; they simply aggravate existing trouble.

Ask your druggist for Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that never disappoints.

Captain Bill Smith farm-house. Williamstown people will be interested in the fact that the communication published this week in the "Educational Column" is from the pen of their school superintendent, Lawyer W. C. White.

VERSHERE. Mrs. Parsley has returned from her visit to Newport, N. H.

Several new telephones have been put in here.

Webb Powers is working for Fred Powers.

Mrs. Ely has gone to Gardiner, Mass., to visit her sister.

Miss Darling has returned from Copperfield and opened her house here.

Silas Titus is in very poor health.

Mrs. Lucy Brown has moved from West Fairlee to her farm here.

Frank and Fred Ackerman were called to Templeton, Mass., last week by the death of their father, Samuel Ackerman, formerly of this place.

H. B. Nichols, Middlesex, Chas. O. Ward, Middlesex, J. H. Daniels, Middlesex, J. L. Spaulding, Warren, B. C. Sterling, Warren.

WATERBURY CENTER. Sugaring is progressing finely and our sugar makers are expecting a good season.

Rev. F. R. Gale expects to preach in the Baptist church the first Sunday of next month, April 6, the weather permitting. We trust there will be a good attendance.

Arthur A. Newcomb and Ervin Wakefield of Lisbon, N. H., Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Newcomb of Montpelier and Ernest S. Newcomb of White River Junction spent last Sunday at their old home with their parents. They sampled the sugar in the different camps near here.

Quite a number of our people attended the dance at Mrs. Isham's hall in Stowe last Friday night. The dance was given by the Woman's Relief Corps of Stowe and was a decided success. The electric railroad ran a car back here after the entertainment which was a great accommodation to the party from this place.

A Card. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

SOUTH WOODBURY.

A. M. Benjamin and wife were surprised Monday night, March 16, by nearly sixty of their neighbors and friends who called to remind them they had been married twenty-five years. Besides the relatives and friends from the place there was a four horse team from the center of the town. The evening was passed with instrumental music, song and jokes until cake and coffee were served.

Remarks were made by Rev. C. H. Coolidge to Mr. Benjamin and wife and adopted daughter. All wish they might meet them in the celebration of their golden wedding, and departing left as a token of their good will nearly $10 in money and other presents. Altogether it was a very enjoyable evening.

Louise, the little five years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wheel-er, was buried March 16. The funeral services were held at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Clark, grandparents of the little girl and where she had nearly all her life made it her home. Rev. C. H. Coolidge preached the sermon. Burial was at Calais.

Mrs. R. M. Pray, who had the grip some four weeks ago, seems to be improving, but very slowly.

Dwight Coolidge who was obliged to leave his school at Hartwick on account of poor health, is improving slowly.

Aunt Eliza Batchelder, who with her daughter, Mrs. Farnsworth, has made her home this winter with her son, Frank Batchelder, was buried last Friday. Funeral services were at the house, Rev. C. H. Coolidge officiating. Burial was in the east part of the town.

The Good Templars are working the degree on candidates nearly every meeting and have five candidates ready for the degree next Saturday night.

Arthur Benjamin and Webster Laird are at home for a two weeks' vacation from Goddard Seminary, where they are attending school.

A Card. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

EAST WARREN. Wallace Estey has moved his family from Lincoln and is to work for Oscar Poland.

Capt. James Eldredge was called here last week by the illness of his father.

Mrs. Abe Morgan and daughter Mildred of Lincoln are visiting at E. H. Elliott's.

Gladys Eldridge of Fayston is visiting at A. E. Eldredge's.

David Estey has gone to Middle-town, Conn., to work for a year.

The oldest inhabitants say they never saw such weather in March in Vermont. Snow is nearly gone and frost is coming out of the ground, making roads almost impassable in places. Robins were seen here last week.

FAYSTON.

Howard B. Howe sold his stock, farming utensils and household goods on Wednesday of last week.

The school directors organized by electing E. A. Fiske chairman and appointing Charles R. Maxwell superintendent of schools and S. J. Dana clerk.

Sugaring seems to have begun in good earnest. Some farmers have already made nearly as much as they did last season.

James and John McCaughin have sold their farm, the estate of the late John McCaughin, to L. M. Chaudler.

James and John McCaughin are to carry on Fred Carroll's farm on shares the ensuing year.

A few of the many friends of Mrs. A. D. Bragg made her a friendly call on Monday afternoon of last week, it being the sixty-fifth anniversary of her birth. Oysters, cake and lots of other good things were served. Many mementoes of good will were given her with hearty wishes that she may yet enjoy many happy birthdays.

Frederick P. Wallis, aged eighty years, died on Sunday, March 16. The remains were taken to Huntington, P. Q., his former home, for interment. Mr. Wallis had been a resident of this town just four years, living with his son, Sumner, on the old James Baird, Jr., farm.

Geo. H. and Vernon C. Pierce have dissolved partnership, Vernon having purchased his father's interest in the farm, stock and farming utensils.

George H. Pierce has purchased Will C. Colton's farm in Waitsfield, which he bought from Ed Dana last spring. Consideration, $1,000.
