WAR NEWS.

Chefoo, Nov. 8.—Advices from Port Arthur state that the Japanese yesterday made a desperate attempt to capture the Russian entrenchments about Latshan (probably Liaotshan.) After the bombardment the infantry charged repeatedly but were mowed down by the heavy Russian fire. Finally the Japanese abandoned the attempt after having sustained heavy losses. Reinforcements are constantly arriving at Dally and are hurried to the fighting line.

Shanghai, Nov. 8.—A report has reached the British naval circles here that the Japanese warship has struck a mine at Port Arthur and sunk.

Rome, Nov. 7.—Tokio correspondents write that Port Arthur is regarded as taken in the Japanese capital. The Russians still hold four forts in the town itself is open to the Japanese on the northeast. The troops will not enter the town at present because it is still under fire from Liaot mountain forts. All the besiegers' efforts will now be directed toward Golden Hill fortress.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Both General Kuropatkin's army and that of Field Marshall Oyama have completed the fortifications along the Shauke river. At some points the fortifications are only a few hundred paces apart. The weather is dry and very cold.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—M. Clado, one of the three officers who landed from Baltic fleet at Vigo and who proceeded to St. Petersburg, is not a naval officer but major in the army. He was simply Admiral Rodjestevenky's guest and intended to land at Vigo when the fleet left the Baltic. The fact the Admiral Rodjestevenky left him behind as a responsible officer who would give details of the Dogger bank affair was nothing less than mockery to England. The czar, it is learned, has loaded M. Clado with honors of the Russian society and is hilarious over the farce of sending him to the capital as a representative of the fleet.

Birmingham, Nov. 7.—The Post learns that uneasiness remains in the ministerial circles owing to the possibility of the Baltic fleet getting into further trouble. There is also the prospect that the Russian Black Sea fleet will endeavor to pass Dardanelles and add to the dangers of the situation. The international situation continues to be one of the great delicacy.

V. O. Merwin of Stroudsburg, Penn., has been in this city and Williamstown making arrangements for the cutting and shipping of Christmas trees. For the past thirty years Mr. Merwin has been shipping the trees from Maine and Vermont to New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo and other large cities of the East. He considers the Vermont trees the best as they are more bushy than the Maine variety. Mr. Merwin has been at work in Williamstown cutting the trees. He left for Belows Falls this morning where he expects to secure some trees as well as in Londonderry. He ships the trees from November 21 to December 5.

The bell has been in use in the Baptist church in Lowell for several years. The Lowell church has disbanded and Rev. W. A. Davison of Barre is to have purchased the property with a view of turning it over eventually to the State Baptist Convention. It is through Mr. Davison a former pastor of the church here that this church has the first option on the bell and at terms that make its purchase possible. Its tones will "call the faithful to worship" in Montpelier within a few days.

THE CALL OF THE WOODS, I

When the desk seems a prison of ledgers
And the fingers are cramped from the pen,
I long for a jaunt on the hillside
And a stroll in the forest glen;
I long for a glimpse of the thickets,
Where the berries hang fragrant and good,
And the squirrel is busy at harvest
In the heart of the autumn wood!
Sweet visions of Nature's wild orchards
Drift in o'er blotters and books,
And we pine for a glimpse of the wildwood—
For the crimson and gold-flecked brooks.
The call of the quail in the brambles
Is good to the townsman's ear,
And I'd stand by the lithe-limbed woodman
And list to his ax ring clear.
Then away with the desk and the dollars!
Away with the counting of spoils!
I'll bid, for a day, to the wildwood
And swing in the grapevine coils.
And out where the Frost King's sketching
I'll bask in the glories of fall—
Oh, all weary brothers in cities,
Come heed to the woodland's call!

MRS. MAYBRICK WRITES.

New York, Nov. 8.—In a sunlit room overlooking green lawns and daintily furnished in a manner tended to soothe mind and body, a woman of past thirty years was absorbed on Sunday afternoon in the most terrible chapter in the life of Mrs. Florence Maybrick. It had to do with the cell in an English prison in which Mrs. Maybrick could not shut out the sounds of workmen building a gallows on which she was to hang.
The writer was Mrs. Florence Maybrick herself. She is preparing in the home of Dr. Helen Demore a history of the famous "Maybrick case," by which she intends to prove to the world that no stigma attaches to her name.
But dearer to her than this universal vindication is the hope that, if won, it will bring back to her two children, a beautiful girl, now eighteen, and a youth of twenty-four. They still believe their mother guilty, and she has not seen them since she was thrust into prison, more than fifteen years ago.
Washington, Nov. 8.—The Naval Observatory will again send out time signals on the night of Dec. 31, and will send them around the world. Four different dispatches will be sent, one at midnight and others at 1, 2 and 3 o'clock.
Last year the signals traversed about 300,000 miles of wire and were heard in Alaska, Panama, Valparaiso, Buenos Ayres, Honolulu, Guam and Manila. This year it is the intention to transmit the signals literally around the world, which will be possible by the co-operation of the telegraph and cable companies. Lieut. Commander E. E. Hayden, United States Navy, in charge of the time service for the government, has proposed that advantage be taken of important meetings in Washington, such as that of the International Railway Congress in 1905, to offer to send out to the world, as far as the telegraph and cable will carry them, a special series of time signals, in celebration of the meeting, and to invite to the observatory such members as care to be present to see them go out. It is also recommended that an effort be made to collect and publish as complete data as possible regarding the kind of time in actual use in various countries in the world.

SIGNALS ROUND THE WORLD.

SHOT HER RIVAL.

Evanson, Wyo., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Leon Demars, shot in a duel by her neighbor, Mrs. Nancy Richards, is dead. Several times the women had come to blows, and each had warned the other the next encounter would be with guns. Mrs. Demars went to Mrs. Richards' ranch, near Fort Bridger and upon being ordered away displayed a big revolver. Mrs. Richards had been carrying a weapon in expectation of meeting Mrs. Demars. Mrs. Richards says Mrs. Demars fired first, but there were no other witnesses. At the second shot Mrs. Demars fell with a bullet in her breast, but kept on firing, emptying the revolver. Mrs. Richards also fired six shots. Both are wives of ranchers. They are thirty years old. Mrs. Richards was arrested.

GALE UNDIMINISHED.

London, Nov. 9.—The severe gale which set in on Monday night continues along the coast of Great Britain today with undiminished fury.

CARS DERAILED.

Bethel, Nov. 9.—On Tuesday afternoon as the White Elver Valley Railroad train was on its way to Rochester, about three miles west of here, two empty freight cars became derailed. No one was injured. The passengers were ordered by and the balance of the train proceeded. The track was cleared so that a special train will be run from here to Rochester tomorrow.

PRESIDENTS DON'T COUNT

"I don't recall seeing you at college, I guess you must have been before my time."
"Possibly, possibly. Who was at the head of the faculty when you were there?"
"Um—let me see. I don't just recall his name, but I was there the year Bruce played half back and kicked goal twice from the field in the last half."
"O sure! Of course! That was the year our center rush carried most of the opposing team on his back for a gain of 30 yards. Yes, indeed, I wonder who was the president then. I don't seem to remember minor details of college life myself."—New York Press.

Woman Who Died in Hospital at Denver Had Fifteen Pairs of Twins.
"One of the most remarkable patients at the county hospital to my mind," said Dr. Charles Swindell of the county hospital at Denver recently, "has just died. She was Mrs. Mary Gillespie, a woman of eighty-six years. During her life time she was the mother of thirty children, and what was stranger of all, they consisted of fifteen pairs of twins.
"Mrs. Gillespie came to the hospital in 1901. She had emigrated to the United States in 1840 from England, where she was born. In 1896 she came to Colorado for her health, as she was suffering from tuberculosis, not seriously but enough to bring her to his State from Massachusetts, where she had made her home since coming from England.
"I imagine that her life had not been a happy one, though during her stay here she steadily refused to tell anything of her past history save the part I have related.
"When she came to us at the age of eighty-two practically all signs of tuberculosis had disappeared, and the woman was suffering, from nothing save old age and generally decrepit condition. In this condition she might have lived on had she not, about three days before her death, fallen and broke her thigh bone. Her system was too feeble to stand the shock.
"Of her children we have only succeeded in locating one, who upon hearing of her mother's death wrote us and offered to pay funeral expenses. This is the first sign any of her children have evinced in their mother's welfare."
