of a shortage of work several of the road employees were laid off at the end of last month, among them being Peterson, who on Nov. 1 drew $10.80, the balance due him. He says Peterson was an excellent workman.

Peterson told Duane Hall, an employe of the road department, that he was going to Peterboro, N. H., to work in a cotton mill. Several weeks before that he engaged Mr. Hall to go with him by automobile to Boston, saying he had two children there whom he wished to bring to Brattleboro, but the trip never was made.

Mrs. Danham says Mrs. Peterson often speaks of a daughter nine years old and that reference to her always brought tears to the mother's eyes.

Mr. Peterson is described as being 40 years old or more, medium height, thin, quick and active. Mrs. Peterson appears to be older than her husband, is short and stout, has grey hair and her mouth droops slightly at the corners.

HARDING MAY FREE DEBS. Thought President Will Offer Him Pardon—No Amnesty to Political Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—White House visitors who have broached the matter to the President have come away under the strong impression that Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president in 1920, now serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for wartime utterances in opposition to the selective service act, will receive an offer of freedom by presidential pardon.

While he was a candidate for president, Mr. Harding refused to join Parley P. Christensen, the Farmer-Labor candidate, in an appeal to President Wilson for the release of Debs. At the time he declared that he could form no opinion of the Debs case without going into the official records.

Now that he has become president, however, Mr. Harding is said to be convinced that circumstances require a broader view of the matter. As a presidential candidate he took the position that it would not be fitting for him to appeal to the leader of the opposition party to reverse a court sentence. As president he is in a position to release the leader of a minority party who was his campaign opponent.

It is said to regard this as of equal importance with the necessity of considering the Debs case upon the basis of the court records and the attorney general's report.

TELLS FARMERS TO WATCH. National Union President Advises Convention to Engage in Politics.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 16.—Farmer organizations should engage in politics, both state and national, and keep a vigilant watch on government operations at Washington, Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' union, told a convention of that body yesterday.

"We cannot ignore the fact," he said, "that it was through one of the agencies of government, which, of course, is political, that the awful debacle of the past year or more, when $7,000,000,000 was lost to the farmers, was precipitated. If the farmers had taken the same interest in legislation as did the railways, the chamber of commerce, the national manufacturers' association, the packers and other aggregations of capital, the federal reserve board would not have dared to disregard agriculture as it did last year."

FAR EASTERN PROBLEMS.

The naval experts committee of the five powers held its first meeting and compared impressions on details of the American reduction plan accepted yesterday in spirit and principle by all the powers.

France took the first step yesterday toward bringing the question of land armaments, of armics, before the Washington conference.

In concerning France in the essential principles of the American proposals regarding naval establishments, Premier Briand touched upon the army problem as far more vital to France.

There was no intimation in the remarks of M. Briand that he had a definite plan for reduction of armaments to suggest. He did say, however, that he was satisfied that the conferees would be convinced "that France, after the necessities of safety and life have been adequately secured, harbors no thought whatever of disturbing the peace of the world."

M. Briand's statements were construed generally as showing his purpose to explain fully why France regards it necessary to retain the great force in her armies. As the nation with the largest army, the premier pointed out, it was appropriate for her to take that question up, but neither at the conference, nor in any other quarter, is there suggestion that any such sweeping proposal for reduction of armics is to be expected as the naval plan put forward by the United States.

So far as the United States is concerned, the army question is largely academic. The American army, now far below its authorized strength of 150,000 men, is cut to the bone. Further reduction would be opposed by both civil and military chiefs of the war department.

No American plan of army reduction will be presented and it may be that there will be only nominal discussion of the subject.
