Tagiev is known to Americans through his reception in his Baku palace two and a half years ago of the General James H. Harbord mission. He was and is known throughout Russia and the Middle East as an example of a poor man who became immensely wealthy, first as a house builder and then, 60 years ago, through the purchase of a piece of oil land that yielded abundantly.

This was in the days when oil was gathered close to the surface and taken from wells in buckets. When the Azerbaijan republic was sovietized by Moscow, his palace was converted into a children's orphanage and its treasures of art and tapestry scattered. While trying to take some of his silver plate and paintings to the country in ox carts apparently laden with straw, a red, sentinal at the outskirts of the city discovered and seized the escaping wealth. Tagiev was beloved by the workmen of Baku and was not harmed in person.

He is now living in the village of Khada Khani, near here. year term and a cemetery commissioner, whose term will expire in 1924.

NORTHFIELD FARMS, MASS. Mrs. Ozo D. Adams.

The community was saddened Thursday morning, March 9, to hear of the death of Ozo D. Adams, wife of Ozo D. Adams. She had been ill only a few days with pneumonia, which developed from a cold of many weeks.

She was an estimable woman and beloved by all who knew her. She had suffered many years from rheumatism, being in a nearly helpless condition, but through it all had held her courage and ambition and made many friends by her congenial and pleasant ways, and had a kind word for everyone.

She was a member of the Ladies' Benevolent society, also correspondent for several papers.

She was a daughter of the late Henry H. and Maria (Cahoon) Parlier, who was born in Northfield Aug. 10, 1838. She married Ozo D. Adams of Brookline, Vt., April 30, 1880. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Florence H., who has given her constant care; two brothers, Arthur H. Parker of Worcester, Mass., Charles A. Parker of Northfield, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. Charles F. Payne of West Barrington, R. I.

The funeral was held at the home Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. F. W. Pattison of East Northfield officiating. Selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Power. There were many beautiful flowers, showing the high esteem in which she was held. The burial took place in West Northfield cemetery.

Relatives and friends from West Barrington, R. I., Worcester, Holden, Greenfield, Orange, Montague, Mass., and West Brattleboro, Vt., attended.

Some of the stories were dramatized by the children, affording them a good deal of amusement. The mothers served plentiful refreshments were served by the hostess.

New Organ of Balance. Dr. G. Vitall, the Italian naturalist, has discovered that birds and bats have a small sense organ or vesicle situated on the middle wall of the tympanic (drum) cavity of their ears. When this is removed they seem to have no sense of balance. Vitall concludes that this organ, which reacts to variations of pressure within the middle-ear, thus enables the bird to determine the density of the air through which it is moving, and regulates its muscular movements accordingly.

"I Was All Wheezed Up and Coughed Most of the Night"

"Cerizane has worked wonders for me, and for a number of friends to whom I have recommended it. Mr. Josiah J. Cobb says this. He has lived for forty-eight years in Pavtucket, R. I., and is chief day watchman for a large manufacturing plant.

"I was all wheezed up and coughed most of the night. Thought my throat would split open, the cough, dryness and pain were so terrible. Every time the weather changed I caught cold, and each cold seemed to be added to all the others that I had before it. I tried a dozen different medicines. None of them were any real help. The cough syrup I took upset my stomach and put me all out of sorts. Then I got Cerizane, and I never knew anything so quick as that medicine did. It loosened the cough right up, took the heat and soreness out of my throat, stopped the chest pains and made me perfectly fit in less than a week."

Cerizane is one of the famous line of Winsol preparations. It contains no chloroform, opium or any other harmful drug. New England doctors have used it for nearly a hundred years. Any reliable druggist will supply Cerizane.

No Success Without Honor. The man without a code of honor is like a ship without a port, and is just as certain sooner or later to go to pieces on the rocks.

STOMACH GAS CAUSED BAD FAINTING SPELLS

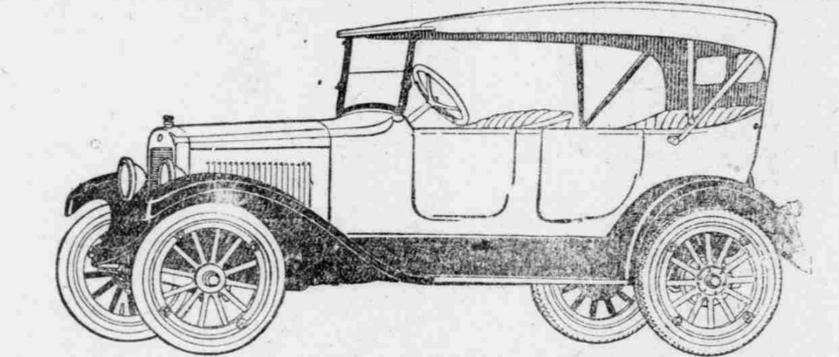

"I was bothered a lot with indigestion, dyspepsia, and a bloated feeling brought on by excess gas. Fainting spells would attack me suddenly, and I was in dire distress. I tried Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules and quickly had decided relief. —Walter Farman, Richfield Springs, N. Y. Gas in the stomach brings on dizziness and fainting spells. In acute or chronic indigestion it often stops the heart action. Jaques' Little Wonder Capsules break up the dangerous gas and give prompt relief."
