

in which they had been greatly added by advertising. The editor of the Burlington Sentinel says that he has been recently informed by Mr. Simmons, that he employed weekly over 150 males and 250 female operatives, and that within the 48 hours previous, he had paid out $3,000 in Cash, for work. The advertisement of this gentleman will be seen in our paper of this week.

GOVERNOR YOUNG.

The fact cannot be disguised that the war part of Gov. Young's message, is producing a serious sensation among the whig party in Albany. It finds no response in the mind of a single whig, and is utterly disgusting to the party. But the losses are jollying over it with great gusto from one end of the Union to the other. How very comfortable to have John Young in a public document fling into the face of the whig party, that palpable untruth, fourteen times repeated by the President in his message to Congress, that Mexico commenced the war. It is too much a la mode John Tyler, and exhibits either treachery to the party who have sustained him, or a veridical in the political history of the country, utterly contemptible in the Governor of a state. Can it be possible that John Young is aspiring to a companionship with the Presidential Ticket with Gen. Taylor. In these queer times truth is sometimes more marvelous than fiction. Such is the avidity for power that the merest shadow of a possibility of being a President, seems to turn the brains of almost every man who can entertain the most slender hope of such an elevation. John Young either for his madness or folly, has immortalized himself.

THREE RICHMONDS IN THE FIELD.

The reflection must strike every one who looks at the subject, that the game now playing for the Presidency by the three northern hucksters for southern votes, Messrs. Dallas, Buchanan and Cass, is a perilous one for them. Each is endeavoring to out-trump the other in glowing sentiments upon slavery which in a northern man, the South must regard with extreme contempt. The darkest sentiments of hucksterism seem to be stirred up in their bosoms to secure the success of their mercenary ambition. All seem to be as anxious to invest themselves in the splendid liveries of their southern taskmasters as if the north would still remain the pariahized thing she ever has been in the presidential canvass. Of this process Mr. Cass has made himself the most egregiously ridiculous. Having once declared himself for the Whist Proviso, he encounters the lash even of his own party for his vacillating course. But how can these doughfaces expect that those to whom they are doing the most abject homage, will trust them in the Presidency. Treating to their own constituencies, they will place no confidence in their abject submission. Verily these aspirants are playing moonshine. At the present crisis as they did in '44 it is a South will go for no northern man with southern principles. They will have something more reliable than a northern dough-face. At the end of the race we shall find those men dashed out of their political existence by those to whom they so meanly surrendered themselves.

MIDDLEBURY SAVINGS BANK.

In our paper of this week will be seen the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Middlebury Savings Bank. This truly interesting institution was never more useful to our citizens or more flourishing than at the present time. This will be seen by an inspection of the following account of deposits, which for the last year exhibits a wonderful increase. This we witness with great gratification, not only as an indication of the increasing thrift of the depositors, but of the improving condition of our village.

MIDDLEBURY SAVINGS BANK.

It is just to the conductors of this institution to say that its prosperity is in no small degree attributable to the wise and judicious manner with which they have maintained it, creating perfect confidence in the depositors in the safety of their funds, and the promptness with which every demand for re-payment will be met.

Mr. Hale and Mr. Cass.—In the debate in Senate upon the "Ten Regiment Bill," when introduced by Mr. Cass, to which we alluded last week, Mr. C. in pressing the Senate to vote upon the bill, among other arguments read the extract from the President's message to show that Mr. Polk did not intend to disturb the nationality of Mexico. Mr. Hale arose and said—

It was difficult to understand truly the meaning of the President. According to the grammatical construction of the phraseology, by the rules of Lindley Murray, he meant, that he could have had no idea of destroying the nationality of the Mexican republic, but it left a loop-hole by which he can have a chance of advancing such a proposition hereafter. It was peculiarly wrong, but we are to look to the result of causes. We are responsible for our own acts. For his part, he would proclaim here and every where, that this war was wrong from the beginning, and rendered the age in which we live justly chargeable to the accusation of barbarism, and he should not vote for a dollar to prosecute it further. He said that until the President should lay before this body an estimate of the cost to bring home our army by the shortest and best road, he should vote not one dollar of supplies. He would vote what was necessary to bring our troops home, but not a man or a dollar to prosecute war further. We must look at this subject as it is, and for one, would not be deterred from speaking his sentiments on this war, by any threats of "moral treason," come from what quarter they may. He related the story of Dr. Sangrado, in Gil Blas, who prescribed bleeding and hot water to his patients, by which they all died. When asked to change his treatment, he replied that he would gladly do so, but "that he had written a book." The Doctor was committed, and the President was committed. He has written a book, and because he has thereby committed a blunder, we are to follow on and continue in the blunder. It would do no such thing. He said a gentleman from Michigan (Cass) had said that every man, woman and child in the country knew why the war policy was continued. Now, said he, I am neither man, woman, or a child, according to him, for I declare that I do not fully understand the policy of the administration in continuing the war. The Senator said it was for "indemnity and protection."

REUMATISM CURED.—JOHN BURNS.

liver at 362 N. SECOND ST., Philadelphia, had been several years afflicted with Rheumatic Pains in various parts of the body. During this time he tried various remedies, and used outward applications without number, and in all cases with no essential benefit. Was finally induced to make trial of WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, a single 25 cent box of which not only gave relief, but after using them a short time drove every particle of pain from the body.

WISTAR'S BALSAM AT HOME.

Dear Sir—I have been induced at the suggestion of many of my friends, to make known to the public through you, the great benefit I have derived from the use of the medicine called in the hope that others suffering from lung complaints may find the same relief by its use that I have done.

The latter part of last summer, and in the fall, I suffered greatly from a severe cough, pain in the side, difficulty of breathing, loss of appetite, and other symptoms which indicated a rapid decline. At this time, in hopes I might find a temporary relief for my cough, I bought a bottle of the Balsam, which not only gave me the relief that my failing strength required, but seemed to give me new life and energy.

After taking several bottles of the medicine, my appetite returned, and with it my strength; my cold entirely left me, and also the night sweats, which previous to this had been very profuse. In five weeks' time I gained eight pounds of flesh, and have been able ever since to make my accustomed exercise, a walk of from three to four miles a day, and attend to my regular business. I should be most happy to have you refer any one, who may wish further particulars, to me, at my place of business, No. 205 Washington street.

Very truly yours,

WM. H. HOLBROOK.

Here he found relief after which he soon yielded to the claims of the Saviour, by submitting to the ordinance of baptism, and uniting with the Baptist church. He was united in marriage with Lois Beech of Middlebury, Vt., in 1823, with whom he removed to this State in 1835, and settled in Grass Lake.

During his short sojourn on earth, he served the church in the capacity of deacon in Grass Lake, also in Middlebury, Vt., having returned to his native State, and again in Leon, in this State. This office he filled with the satisfaction of the churches.—Michigan Herald.
