

MORRISVILLE.

Mrs. Geo. Bugbee was in St. Johnsbury over Sunday, visiting relatives. Miss Gertrude Whitney returned from Johnson Friday, ill with tonsillitis, but is better now and will soon be able to resume her studies at the Normal school.

Miss Mary E. Moody has so far recovered from her recent illness in Boston as to be able to go on to New York to complete her selection of spring goods. She will probably be at home the last of the week.

Miss Blanche Barrows entertained twelve of her young friends at a chess-party at her sister's, Mrs. E. A. Hart's, Tuesday evening. The prizes were awarded as follows:—Bloom Palmer, first prize; George O. M. Stead, booby prize. A dainty repast was served. Those participating in the pleasures of the evening report a very pleasant time.

Special Communications of Mount Vernon Lodge for work on the Master Mason degree come on Wednesday and Friday evenings of this week and Tuesday evening of next week—April 4, 6 and 10. Wednesday, April 11, is the Annual Communication, at which time occurs the election of officers. The Finance Committee of the lodge will meet with the Secretary, at his office, Monday night, April 9.

There are compensating features even in being ill. The "old man" recognizes it when he noticed the willingness the office force rallied to keep up the Morrisville local news, and the able manner in which was carried out. To the list of duty inquirers, a no less kindly sentiment is extended, and all the more highly respected, because unlooked for. In health nearly all are "able to see their own row."

Dr. Rubke has received his static and X-Ray machine and has progressed far enough in the setting of it up as to be able to use it to a certain extent in his practice. Last evening he invited a few of his friends to witness some of his static and X-ray workings, the latter, enabling one to view the honey structure of the hand with startling distinctness. The machine is as handsome as its workings are wonderful.

Austin-Bartlett Wedding.

Miss Maud L. Austin, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett was married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, on Wednesday afternoon, March 28, to Mr. Clinton A. Bartlett of Plainfield, Vt.

The wedding was a very pleasant occasion, and was participated in by several of the immediate relatives and friends of both the bride and groom. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Dr. I. P. Booth, and as usual, in his inimitable and pleasant, yet impressive way.

Mr. Gordon Austin, brother of the bride, acted as best man, with Miss Flora H. Bennett, an aunt of the bride, as bride's maid. Miss Blanche, a young sister of the bride, did the honors of the flower girl, while Miss Mabel Kensington of Barre, a cousin, presided at the organ.

The proverbial wedding cake, ice cream a la mode and the usual good things that grace such occasions, were to be had in abundance. The happy pair were the recipients of many useful articles that will find a ready place in their future home in Plainfield. Mrs. Bartlett will continue in Plainfield the business of a milliner, in which, as Miss Maud Austin, she won so many favorable comments, and met with such success.

The couple were driven to Wolcott, where they took the train for a brief honeymoon trip, but will soon be at home to their many friends, in Plainfield. A long and prosperous married life is the hearty wish of the many friends for these popular young people.

CADY'S FALLS.

George Stewart is on the sick list. Mrs. Chas. Sherman is visiting at Morton Cheney's.

Miss Alice Miner has taken the spring term of school. Mr. Graham was in Hardwick on business last week.

Mrs. Chas. Miner visited friends in Cambridge last week. Austin Wilkins is working for Wm. Bassett through sugaring.

Miss Edith Van Vleet of Lacolle, Que., is a guest at C. B. Terrill's.

Sidney Newcomb who has been lumbering in Jeffersonville is at home. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wilkins visited Ed Gile and wife last Thursday.

Harold Tilton who has been having the scarlet fever is getting along finely. Joseph Sherman and wife of East Johnson visited friends here the first of the week.

Gertrude Warren has finished work for Mrs. Cheney and gone to visit her brother, Hiram Warren.

Ordinary household accidents have no terrors when there's a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the medicine chest. Burns, bruises, cuts, bruises sprains. Instant relief.

MORRISTOWN.

Business is brisk. Roy Macomber has been on the sick list. O. B. Macomber is breaking a pair of colts for E. Douglas.

Roy Leach met with an accident while at work in Wolcott and is now at home walking on crutches.

That is nice syrup that R. J. Caswell makes on the Mrs. Gregg farm, and which we had the pleasure of testing.

Miss M. Moore, who has been in St. Johnsbury for six months, is stopping for the present at her father's, E. Douglas's.

A CARD.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a fifty cent bottle of Greene's warranted Syrup of Tar, if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also warrant a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or no pay.

HON. WALDO BRIGHAM DEAD.

A Noted Lamoille County Lawyer and one of the Originators of the Lamoille Valley Railroad.

Waldo Brigham, who has been in feeble health a long time, died at his residence in Hyde Park Monday noon. Although in poor health and frequently confined to the house for days he was able to be about more or less all winter and up to within about three weeks was able to be out.

He realized when the last attack came upon him that his end was near and so expressed himself. He died peacefully. The funeral will take place from his late residence Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the interment will be in the village cemetery.

Waldo Brigham was born in Bakersfield June 10, 1829, the son of Asa Brigham, and is the last of the family. He was a farm bred boy and received his early education at Bakersfield and fitted for college under the tutelage of Jacob Spaulding. He graduated from the University of Vermont in the classical course in 1854. He chose the legal profession and read law at Hyde Park until he was admitted to the Lamoille County Bar at the May term, 1857. Then he went to East Berkshire and practiced law five years in Hon. Homer E. Royce's office while the latter was a member of Congress.

In 1861 he located in Hyde Park and for a time was in the office of John A. Child. In 1862, he formed a partnership with George L. Waterman, under the firm name of Brigham & Waterman, a partnership which was kept up for 22 years and was one of the strongest law firms in this part of the state. In 1884 owing to the failure of Mr. Waterman's health the firm dissolved and on May 1, the same year Mr. Brigham and his son-in-law H. M. McFarland formed a firm, which continued three years. Since that time, 1887, Mr. Brigham has been out of active practice, owing to the condition of his health.

A fellow lawyer who has known him for years, says: "He enjoyed the reputation not only of being a good lawyer, but of being an honorable practitioner, and he always has encouraged young lawyers in their legal business and aspirations."

During the construction of the P. & O. Railroad Mr. Brigham took an active interest in the same and spent several years in securing legislation for the building of the same. He was President of the Lamoille Valley road, from Danville to Swanton, ten years and for several years a director in the Burlington & Lamoille railroad.

In politics Mr. Brigham was a staunch Democrat. He was the nominee of the Democratic party for Lieutenant-Governor of Vermont, and also one of the delegates to the national convention which in 1868 nominated Governor Seymour for the Presidency. He was put forward by his party for county senator and state's attorney, was the nominee for Congress in the 3d district and again in the 1st district, and was in 1872 the nominee of his party in the General Assembly for the office of United States Senator. In 1867-8 he represented Hyde Park in the General Assembly and during that time labored faithfully in securing the necessary legislation for the construction of our railroad.

In educational matters he always manifested a great interest. For 25 years he was President of the Lamoille Central Academy. While in the Legislature, and always, he was an earnest advocate of the appropriation of public money by the state in aid of the normal schools, and was indeed a warm friend of education. He was elected by the Legislature a trustee of the University of Vermont, and held that position six years. Two of his daughters graduated from that institution.

Nov. 4, 1858, Mr. Brigham married Lucia Ellen, eldest daughter of the late Judge Noyes of this place and after a short residence in East Berkshire they took up their abode here, residing for 38 years in the home where he died. Three children were born to them. The eldest daughter, Julia, married H. M. McFarland of Hyde Park. Mary married James, eldest son of President M. H. Buckingham. Blanche is now a teacher in the Lamoille Central Academy.

Mr. Brigham always manifested great interest in town affairs, identifying himself with whatever pertained to the best welfare of his town and townspeople. He was loyal to his town and a good citizen.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance. Her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Moxley induced on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a 60-cent bottle and used it according to directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since. A. B.
