GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

THE Great and only remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption, is the Hungarian Balsam of Life, discovered by the celebrated Dr Buchan of London, England, and introduced into the United States under the immediate superintendence of the inventor.

The extraordinary success of this medicine, in the cure of Pulmonary diseases, warrants the American Agent in soliciting for treatment the WORST POSSIBLE CASES that can be found in the community—cases that seek relief in vain from any of the common remedies of the day, and have been given up by the most distinguished Physicians, as confirmed and incurable. The Hugarian Balsam has cured and will cure the most desperate of cases. It is no quack nostrum, but a standard English medicine of known and established efficacy.

Every family in the United States should be supplied with Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life, not only to counteract the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but to be used as a preventive medicine in all cases of colds, coughs, spitting of Blood, Pain in the side and chest, Irritation and soreness of the Lungs, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Hectic Fever, Night Sweats, Emaciation and General Debility, Asthma, Influenza, Hooping cough, and Croup.

☞ Sold, in large bottles, at $1 per bottle, with full directions for the restoration of Health.

Pamphlets, containing a mass of English and American certificates, and other evidence, showing the unequalled merrits of this Great English Remedy, may be obtained of the Agents gratuitously.

DAVID F. BRADLEY, sole Agent for the United States 119 Court street, Boston.

Agent—Woodstock, S. J. ALLEN; Montpelier, Clark & Collins; Burlington, Peck & Spear; Bellows Falls, N. Harris; Ruand, Daniels and Bell; Brattleboro', Dutton & Clarke; Keen, N. H. John Bixby. 236-1y

DALLEY'S.

THE original and only genuine MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR—the wonder and blessing of the age—a hundred fold cheaper and superior to all other compounds. Fame from a million tongues, says, "next to the Bible let it be prized—it'll cost $100 a box we will keep it constantly in house, we hold it indispensible as bread." All pains, even those of the worst burns are instantly stopped by it, and of bruised, swolen, broken, strained, poisoned, cut, jamed, or otherwise wounded parts, are cured without scar. It unites broken limbs rapidly, cures the worst piles, sore eyes, constipation, inflamation and painfulness of the bowels, indeed all internal and external soreness, bronchitis and spinal injuries, in truth whether man or beast be suffering, like miracle it cures.
The renovating and balmy influence of this wonder working Sanative is fast extending itself into every corner of this intelligent continent. Look into the splendid mansion and the fair daughters within its precincts will say "we owe much to its magic touch." Turn your footsteps towards the more humble Cottage and the tender mothers will bless its soothing aid and the prudent husbandman will confess he has never lost a cow's udder, a gelded lamb, calf, pig, or colt, had a galled shoulder bone or lost his labor by cuts, strains or bruises, since he has used it. For further information see pamphlets in the hands of agents to be distributed gratis; and they will explain the forgeries upon it and guide you in the way to secure the genuine Extractor, to benefit the poor a 25 cent box is offered. Be careful to notice that H. Dalley be written on each box in reverse colored ink with a pen. This is the only test by which you can be sure to get the genuine Extractor.

FARM FOR SALE.

A PLEASANTLY located and well watered Farm containing 525 acres on Quechee River, in Hartford Vt., five miles below the Village of Woodstock, is now offered for sale, the whole, or divided into small farms to suit purchasers, with pleasant building spots and convenient woodlands. This is one of the best farms in the country, having theron, three good dwelling houses, one a large delightfully situated two story house with convenient outhouses, and water from a never failing spring conveyed in lead pipes to the house and barns,—the meadows upon the river are large and of an excellent quality, an orchard with some choice fruit, a brick yard and clay of superior quality, from which the country around are supplied with first rate brick,—an extensive growth of valuable timber, and one of the best sugar lots in the State Water power can be had to almost any extent with a trifling expense, either from the brook running through the Farm, or from the river. A first rate farm of 300 acres could be taken from the centre, and leave the remainder for another valuable farm, or it might be divided into very small sections, each well accommodated with wood and water, and pleasantly situated on a good road where the stage frequently passes. It will be sold very cheap the first opportunity and possession given immediately.
TERMS—Part of the money in advance or within one year, and the remainder in annual interest an unlimited time.

Cheeseman's Arabian Balsam

FOR THE CURE of all kinds of wounds, sprains, burns, coughs, sore lungs, the most desperate piles, and rheumatism of all kinds. It will prevent the toothache, restore tor, old and perished limbs, stiff joints, numbness, &c., and can be depended upon to relieve soreness in all cases.
This valuable medicine has been very extensively used for the last ten years, while its increasing demand, the universal satisfaction it has given, and the testimony of a large multitude of individuals of the first standing in the community, who have tested and infallibly proved its efficacy, show that it needs only to be used to prove its invaluable excellence; indeed all who have ever tried the balsam, prize it so highly that they will not be induced under any consideration to do without it. The Balsam has attracted the attention of men of science and Physicians and Surgeons of the greatest scientific acquirements, give it their unqualified approbation while many of them in different sections of the United States now use it in their practice, and have authorized the publication of their certificates.
Also CHEESEMAN'S ARABIAN PILLS, a valuable medicine for all billious complaints, &c.
☞ Purchasers should inquire for the true article by using the whole name—Cheeseman's Arabian Balsam—and see that it has my name written in my own handt writing across the printed directions on the wrapper o every bottle. E. CHEESEMAN.

Temperance House.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened a Temperance House (and he will keep no other,) on the South side of the Park in Woodstock, where P. G. ALDEN, has lately kept a public House. He solicits the patronage of those who wish success to the temperance cause, and he will endeavor to merit that patronage to the extent of his abilities. The buildings are sufficiently capacious to accommodate travellers and their teams to almost any extent. The subscriber indulges a hope, that it will not be said, as in some cases, that temperance people cannot afford to call upon him by reason of the deficient accommodation, nor that he cannot furnish sufficient accommodations because there is no custom to support it.

"THE RASCALITY OF PROSCRIPTION."

We quote the heading to the leading article in yesterday's National Intelligencer, for the purpose of making it the text for a few comments on the subject which is thus introduced. Indeed, when a paper which prides itself in maintaining a perfect propriety of deportment in the worst of troubles, is provoked into the use of so coarse an expression as the one which graces the head of our article, its readers and the public will infer the existence of some extraordinary cause of the excitement it displays. Joseph Surface never swore in public, the Mr Templeton of Bulwer only used a profane expletive when the highwayman's pistol was at his head; and great indeed were the annoyances to which "our army in Flanders" were subjected before they swore at all, much more before they "swore (so) terribly."

The editors of the Intelligencer, it seems, then, are in trouble. Capable whigs, in their opinion, have been removed from office by this administration, to make way for men whom they politely call "Locofocos." It is useless sfor us to attempt to console them by any reference to the speech of Mr Clay on this subject, to which allusion has so frequently been made. They would tell us, perhaps, that what would have been right in Mr Clay, is extremely wrong in Mr Polk; and in proof that "circumstances alter cases," they might refer us to the fable of the lawyer's bull that gored the farmer's ox.

But the "proscription" of which the Intelligencer speaks, has been by no means as general as that paper would induce its readers to believe. It has been by no means as extensive as the proscription by the whigs in 1841, nor the tithe of what it would have been, if we may credit their own orators, had they again succeeded to power in 1845. The "proscription," so much talked of, cannot have been very bloody, which has left in office, thus far, in this city so large a proportion of whigs.

We have an illustration before us to the point, in the removals of postmasters for the four months ending the 30th June, 1845, as contrasted with the removals made in the same period ending on the 30th June, 1841. We select the two in which the present and former Postmaster Generals reside for this comparison, as being perfectly fair and sufficiently extensive for the purpose.

For the four months ending June 30, '41, the number of Postmaeters removed in New York amounted to	307
Removals in Tennessee in the same period	11
Total	318
For the four months ending June 30, 1844, the number of Postmasters removed in New York amounted to	41
In Tennessee, same period	3
Total	44

More than even by three to one in favor of the whigs. And we venture to say that this proportion would hold good throughout all the other departments of the government. Constant readers, as we were of the Intelligencer, we have no recollection of having seen in the columns of that paper, in 1841, a word on the subject of the "rascallity of proscription." On the contrary, if our memory serves us, it justified removals then. But perhaps the "fiery trial" to which it was subjected last November, has taught it the inexpediency and impropriety of such a course. The disinterestedness of such a decision now, is perfectly obvious. It strikes us, that we have before heard of people who have advocated the doctrine of an equal distribution of all the goods of this world. It is said however, (and perhaps with some degree of truth) that people of this class rarely have anything of their own to add to the common stock.

Let us not be understood as offering the conduct of Mr Francis Granger, or the previous course of the whigs, as an excuse for anything which this administration has done. When we seek for examples, we shall probably look farther and for higher models. The removals which have been made, have been imperiously called for by a decided and irresistable public sentiment. Other removals will, no doubt, be necessary, and will not be prevented by the senseless clamor of the whigs. Justification of a measure is uncalled for, when overwhelming popular approval sanction it. An administration placed in power by the voluntary suffrages of a free people, and industriously engaged in carrying out the will of that majority, securely rests its confidence in the honesty and intelligence of the masses, and, in the present instance, is in no danger of being diverted from its purpose by the interested revilings of its bitter opponents. Our object in these hasty remarks has been simply to show how baseless is the charge of "rascally proscription," prefered by the Intelligencer; and to expose the disingenuousness which is at the bottom of the accusation.

"UNCONQURED VERMONT."

Under this head, the N. Y. Tribune, introduces the proceedings of the Whig State Convention of this "noblest of the States," (Richmond Whig, last fall.) We cull a few resolutions on "the Texas iniquity," for the benefit of Southern Whig friends:

"Resolved, That the joint resolutions passed by the Congress of the United States at its last session, providing for the annexation of Texas to the Union, are a palpable violation of the Federal Constitution, and are not binding upon the country, and should meet the continued and united opposition of the whig party throughout the Union."

These Vermonters will be much mistaken if they count upon the aid or sympathy of Southern Whigs in their resistance to the solemn action of the Government, and violation of the Natioualal faith. With us, the whigs are, now, for Texas, almost to a man—and the factious voice of Vermont will find no echo in our Southern limits.

"Resolved, That the history of the late contest has proved that it is to the Whig party alone, that the country can look for any effective opposition to the consummation of the annexation of Texas, and to the farther encroachments of the slaveocracy, which are alike endangering the liberties and prosperity of the free citizens of the Republic, and weakening the cords hitherto so strongly binding the people to the Constitution and Union; and it has also proved that the Liberty Party (a gross misnomer) is guided by selfish and reckless politicians—is efficient only for evil—and is at once the tool and jest of the slave party."

This official exposition of a thorough Whig State completely sustains the position in the late canvass, that the policy of the Whigs was entirely at war with the success of annexation—and that to the Democrats is due all the credit for the achievement of the great measure. It also shows, that it is from the Whigs alone that we are to expect resistance to its consummation; though, now, it is evident that all opposition will be of no avail. The southern whigs will see the antislavery grounds upon which their northern allies proceed against Texas, and will know how to explain their future action. The last clause of the above resolution is particularly cheering—as it proves that the Whigs foiled in their courtship of the Liberty party, have turned it over to the "slave party," as their "tool and jest." If this be so, we can soon manage them so as to destroy all their power of doing mischief. Repudiated by the Whigs and laughed at by the democrats, the liberty party are in a fair way to be swollowed up.

But mark the concluding resolution:

"Resolved, That the whigs of Vermont will ever hold in grateful rememberance the patriotic services of Henry Clay; that their confidence in his talents and virtues is unshaken by the assault of his enemies, and should he again be presented by the whig party for that office, which he is so well fitted to adorn, the "Star that never sets,' shall shed around him its brightest
