GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY
FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

THE Great and only remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption, is the Hungarian Balsam of Life, discovered by the celebrated Dr Bveham of London, England, and introduced into the United States under the immediate superintendence of the inventor.

The extraordinary success of this medicine, in the cure of Pulmonary diseases, warrants the American Agent in soliciting for treatment the WORST POSSIBLE CASES that can be found in the community—cases that seek relief in vain from any of the common remedies of the day, and have been given up by the most distinguished Physicians, as confirmed and incurable. The Hugarian Balsam has cured and will cure the most desperate of cases. It is no quack nostrum, but a standard English medicine of known and established efficacy.

Every family in the United States should be supplied with Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life, not only to counteract the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but to be used as a preventive medicine in all cases of colds, coughs, spitting of Blood, Pain in the side and chest, Irritation and soreness of the Lungs, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Hectic Fever, Night Sweats, Emaciation and General Debility, Asthma, Influenza, Hooping cough, and Croup.

☞ Sold, in large bottles, at $1 per bottle, with full directions for the restoration of Health.

Pamphlets, containing a mass of English and American certificates, and other evidence, showing the unequalled merrits of this Great English Remedy, may be obtained of the Agents gratuitously.

DAVID P. BRADLEY, sole Agent for the United States 119 Court street, Boston.

TO ALL THE WORLD WHO USE
LEATHER IN ANY FORM.
OIL OF TANNIN, OR, LEATHER
RESTORER.
A New Chemical Discovery.

Most people know, that skins and hides are converted into leather by the use of Tannin extracted from certain barks &c.

When the force and strength of the Tannin is worn out, leather becomes dead, hard, dry, brittle, cracked, covered with a crust, &c. THIS, ALL KNOW. To restore then is life, softness, moistness, strength, smoothness, and remove all crust, dy, or blister—restore the tannin. This substance the leather never can receive the second time; but the whole virtues of it are in this article the OIL OF TANNIN—which penetrates the stiffest and hardest leather, if it has been twenty years in use; and if it tears easily with the fingers, it imparts at once a strength that is utterly incredible until seen. It becomes like new leather, in all respects, with a delightful softness and polish, and makes all leather completely and perfectly impervious to water—particularly boots, shoes, carriage-tops, harness, hose, trunks, and in fact all things made of leather, giving a splendid polish, even higher than new leather has, and at least doubling its wear and durability, in whatever manner the leather is used.—THESE ARE FACTS.

Those who will may wear old shoes, groan with corns, ride with old carriage-tops—have old harness, and throw them away half used—look filthy themselves, and all about them—expend double what is necessary for articles of leather, to their hearts' content, for what we care, if their prejudices are so strong, that they will not try a new discovery. We have no favors to ask of them, they are the greatest sufferers, and we beg for nobody's custom or patronage Now, gentlemen, please yourselves.

☞ None genuine unless with the fac simile signature of COMSTOCK & CO.

Temperance House.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened a Temperance House (and he will keep no other,) on the South side of the Park in Woodstock, where P. G. ALDEN, has lately kept a public House. He solicits the patronage of those who wish success to the temperance cause, and he will endeavor to merit that patronage to the extent of his abilities. The buildings are sufficiently capacious to accommodate travellers and their teams to almost any extent. The subscriber indulges a hope, that it will not be said, as in some cases, that temperance people cannot afford to call upon him by reason of the deficient accommodation, nor that he cannot furnish sufficient accommodations because there is no custom to support it.

THE AGE.

THE AUTTMN WIND.

Hark! 'tis the first autumnal blast,
Reminding us that summer's past,
With all its bright display:
When earth seemed carpeted with flowers,
And music charmed the fleeting hours
Throughout the live-long day.

It comes along the tranquil deep,
Rousing the billows from their sleep,
And in its dirge-like flow,
And wildly fitful, hollow moan,
That makes the trembling forest groan,
There is a tale of woe.

It speaks of winter's stormy power—
Of many a dark and dismal hour
To pilgrims on the main;
Of corses floating on the deep,
Of sorrowing friends, for those that weep,
They ne'er shall see again.

Nature's wild harp! in every clime
Thy music, since the first sad time,
Has struck the Pensive ear;
Now, sighing with a gentle tone;
Now, sweeping in a tempest on,
Through all its chords of fear.

How often with unearthly sound,
Like to a spirits wailing round,
Thou comst at midnight hour
To fill the soul—when all is peace—
With thoughts of life's uncertain lease,
And God's almighty power.

THE JACKSON STATUTE.

The admirers of the departed sage of the Hermitage are moving in some parts of the country for the purpose of having erected at the seat of the Federal Government a suitable monument to his memory. An Equestrian Statute of collossal proportions and executed in bronze seems to be favored at Washington and elsewhere. A meeting has recently been holden at the Capital of the nation for the purpose of adopting a plan to secure the completion of the work. The officers of the meeting were—Gen. John P. Van Ness, President—Amos Kendall and John Boyle Esqrs., Vice Presidents—James Hoban and John W. Maury, Esqrs., Secretaries; and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the American people be called upon to unite in erecting at the seat of the Federal Government a suitable monument to the memory of the Hero, Patriot and Sage, whose loss the nation still deplores, to go down to our most distant posterity, as a record of the great man's glory, of his country's gratitude and grief.

Resolved, That a collossal equestrian Statue in imperishable bronze, is deemed the most suitable for the purpose; to transmit to future centuries the features and form on which the annals of the Republic will teach each succeeding generation to look with an ever renewed love and reverence, and an ever renewing ambition to emulate his noble deeds and his noble virtues.

Resolved, That for the purpose of raising, by voluntary subscription, the requisite sum, a Central Committee of thirteen be appointed, which shall proceed forthwith to organize the necessary measures for the collection of such subscription; by whom a monthly publication of the same shall be made, and the money securely invested; and

Resolved, That, as General Jackson's own most trusted and beloved friend, and the selected inheritor of his papers, and guardian of his fame, Francis P. Blair, be appointed Treasurer.

Resolved, That the following citizens constitute said Committee of thirteen, with power to supply vacancies in their own number, and, after the completion of the subscription, to direct and superintend the execution of the proposed work:

Cave Johnson, Francis P. Blair, Thomas Ritchie, Amos Kendall, J. P. Van Ness, John C. Rives, Wm. A. Harris, Jesse E. Dow, Benj. B. French, John W. Mury, Charles K. Gardner, James Hoban, Charles B. Sengstack.

The Democratic Review contains a statement of the revenue and expenditures of the U. S. for the year ending June 30, 1845. The revenue was from customs, $27,427,325; from lands, $2,-053,380; miscellaneous, $134,535. Total, $29,615, 340. The expenses were, civil, $5,737,072; army, 9,534,e02; navy, $6,-227,639; interest, 1, 054, 888; debt, $7,-537,913. Total, $29,991,609. Both the revenues and the expenses were about $5,000,000 short of the estimates. A part of the expenses were thrown over inty the year 1846, and will come into a diminished revenue to the absorption of the surplus.

The Season.—Under the genial weather and occasional rains of the last four weeks, the grass is reviving and we have now fine grazing in nearly all parts of the State. Perhaps the butter making that fell off in the summer, on account of the excessive drought, may be made up by a fine butter raising autumn.

☞ Woman is often the occasion of much trouble and mischief to man. For her he toils and slaves—for her he fights—for her he gets drunk—for her he blows his brains out, and for her he makes a confounded fool of himself, in a variety of ways. Notwithstanding, woman is a blessing. Her influence over our rough hewn sex, is as mild as the moon upon the tides, and twice as powerful. The moral fragrance that surrounds her is as sweet as the odors that arise from a field of white clover, and her beauty makes her one of the most interesting living ornaments that wears either legs or wings; I don't care whether you mention a bird of Paradise, a butterfly or a straddle-bug.—Dow, Jr.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR

All of which goes to prove,
That grammar a farce is;
For where is the plural
Of rum and molasses?—N. Y. Gaz

The plural—Gazette,—
Of rum, don't us trouble;
Take one glass too much
And you're sure to see double.

Why is a boat like a girl? Because it is often attached to a buoy, (boy.)

Genius is in one respect like gold—numbers of persons are constantly writing about both, who have neither.

1776!!

The official vote of the entire State of Tennessee represents Brown's majority over Foster (whig) for governor to be the magic majority of 1776!

Husbandry.—A man with eleven daughters was lately complaining to a friend that he found it hard to live.

"You must husband your time," said the other, 'and then you'll do well enough.'

'I could do much better,' was the reply, 'if I could husband my daughters.'

PROSPECTUS

For Revising and Publishing Weekly paper entitled

THE NEW YORKER.

The New Yorker, a Weekly Journal of Literature and General Intelligence, was established by the present Editor of the New York Tribune in March, 1734, and discontinued, or rather merged, on the establishment of the Weekly Tribune, in September, 1841, after having been published just seven years and a half. Having now ample and able Literary assistance and having recently extended and perfected our Mechanical arrangements, we propose to revise and reissue it on and after the 1st of October, 1845, on a sheet slightly differing in size or character from the Old New Yorker, but a much lower price.

The plan of this paper will combine—

1. Original Poetry—Reviews, Poems, ect.
2. Select Literature—Tales, Sketches, extracts from new Books, etc.
3. Miscellany—Letters from Europe and different parts of our own country, statistics, anecdotes, &c.
4. Hints on Domestic economy.—Agriculture, Inventions, Receips, &c.
5. General Intelligence—Foreign and Domestic, including Political events, Proceedings of Congress, &c. &c.

This last department will be carefully prepared, and will be as ample and varied as that of any other Weekly paper whatever. The extensive correspondence and other facilities for obtaining information which we have been years engaged in concentrating on the Daily and Weekly Tribune, will enable us to present early and authentic accounts of all transpiring events through this our cheaper Weekly, from which Political essays and all matter of a partizan character will be carefuly excluded. In fine, The New
