

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

Republican voters of Bradford are to meet at the office of O. Gambell, Jr., Friday, May 30th, 1874, at 7 o'clock P. M. to elect three Delegates to the Republican Convention to be held at Burlington, Vt., on June 10th.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Remember the promenade on at Town Hall Saturday evening May 30.

Why is a plush hat like the cation of a tooth at Clark's? Because it isn't felt.

M. Clement will sell the stock of his saloon in Book-Building, this (Friday) evening by auction.

If the person who stole the dog from the Trotter House return the same, he will receive a good, sound thrashing and "Mem" is the man to pay.

As the leaders of a four horse team were unhitched near the depot, Monday morning, the mail came along and frightened some of them so they turned partially and ran, dragging a young man who was holding them by the several rods. Finding the unmanageable youth loosed old and ran. The horses, how-making the best time, knocked down, and passed over his body fortunately without doing him any injury. Moral: When running with a horse don't run the way the horse does; its danger.

A young man who wished to show his smartness stepped off a rain at the depot a few days and attempted to get on after cars were in motion. His foot slipped and he came within six inches of being crushed by the cars. The depot master gave a lift and the brakeman grasped him by the collar and he was lifted into the car in no gentle way. He deserved to be helped in by the brakeman's for if he had been killed the master or conductor or brakeman would have had to bear the blame. Better leave jumping off on to cars when in motion to old men who understand the operandi.

MR. PICKLES. Mr. A. J. Russ is town proposes to go into the business on a big scale the spring season. He has put up a big for the purpose, and is buying all the cider vinegar in this town. He advertises for 1000 bushels of cucumbers and 100 bushels of ripe and green tomatoes. Do not see why this will not to a large business in time.

C. H. C. WILLIAMS, well known throughout New England, has leased the "Sawyer House" Franklin, N. H., for the season 74. This is a new, commodious hotel, with new furniture, and is situated on a beautiful sheet of water, and from personal ledge we can say that no other place can be found to stay a few days or weeks than that beautiful sheet of water. Prof. Williams' experience in life has fitted him for the duty of "host", and we predict the "Sawyer House" will become a popular resort for pleasure seekers.

What every one says must be that they say that the place to the best Millinery Goods the best, is at Mrs. C. S. Stevens'.

Go to C. H. Curtis' and get Tomato Plants.

Advertisement in another column will be seen that Nathan's Metropolitan Pavilion Show will be in this village on Thursday June 4, afternoon and evening. We are assured that this is a first-class company in every way, and not one of the cheap penny affairs so much in vogue these days. The performers are known as artists in their profession, and actors of rare talent. Proprietors are careful to exhibit everything of a vulgar or immature nature. Mons. Lois Belair give a free outside exhibition of wonderful feats on a rope extending from the ground to the top of the pole, a half hour before performance commences.

Go to Curtis if you want a good cool Soda. Also, a supply of Lemons, Oranges, Apples, &c.

NATHAN DAVIS of the Lake, on Fairlee Lake, is now making extensive preparations for the opening of his new house on Fourth of July next. There will be a collation in the grove, advised by Gen. Stephen Thomas, S. G. Heaton, and others. A Brass Band will be in attendance.

Ladies don't forget to call at Curtis for your millinery, they are giving new goods every day. A pair of those two-button kids one dollar per pair, and a line of Parasols.

HANOVER. Mr. William Pardee, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, died after a short illness at his residence, on the 25th inst. He was buried with masonic honors.

There is to be a course of free lectures during the coming week in College Church, given by James T. Fields, Esq., of Boston. The dates and subjects are as follows:

Monday evening, "Charles Lamb and his friends." Wednesday evening, "Literary and Artistic Society in London, twenty-five years ago." Friday evening, "Fiction and its eminent authors."

The students and citizens had the pleasure, last Friday evening, of listening to a lecture from Sen. Patterson on his "trip through the British Isles."

The "University Crew" are daily practicing on the river in preparation for the coming regatta at Saratoga, which is to be held next July.

This crew contains only one of the "giants" who pulled at Springfield, Mass., last year. They are in good condition, and are the best specimens of physical strength that the College can furnish.

Four of the crew are New Hampshire boys, who are accustomed to outdoor life and hard work. Mr. Eaton, the bow oar, is the best base ball player in College having only one rival in the person of Gates, the stroke, who pulled with the old "giants" last year.

We give below the statistics of the "six" as they are given by a member of the crew:

- W. G. Eaton, Jr., Lowell, Mass., bow; age 21, weight 164, height 5 1/2 ft.
W. F. Westgate, Haverhill, N. H.; age 22, weight 176, height 5 1/2 ft.
B. F. Robinson, Manchester, N. H.; age 22, weight 169, height 6 ft.
C. W. Eager, Manchester, N. H.; age 19, weight 170, height 6 ft.
F. W. Mitchell, Manchester, N. H.; age 21, weight 180, height 6 ft.
C. O. Gates, Somerville, Conn.; stroke; age 21, weight 185, height 6 ft.

By request we re-publish the programme of exercises for Memorial Day.

The column will be formed on Main Street, in front of the Post Office, at eleven o'clock A. M., under the direction of Col. Roswell Farham, Commander of Washington Post.

ORDER OF MARCH. Bradford Brass Band—16 pieces, R. E. Whitcomb, Leader. Officers and Members of Washington Post G. A. R., and other members of the Order.

The Orator of the day, Clergymen and invited guests. Soldiers and Sailors, not members of the G. A. R. The Bradford Guards. Waterville Fire Engine Company. The Public Schools. Citizens.

The line of march will be from the village to the cemetery and back. EXERCISES AT THE CEMETERY. 1—Dirge by the Band.

2—The ceremonies prescribed by the Ritual of the Order, during which, at the time indicated by the Commander, the audience are requested to unite in singing America.

3—Decorations of the Graves of Soldiers by the Members of the Post, the Band playing a dirge. 4—Oration by Maj. JOSIAH GIBBET, of Newbury, Vt.

5—Closing Song. Tune: Old Hundred. While Freedom lives, their fame shall live in glory on her blazing scroll. And Love her sacrifice shall give. While coming years their circles run, Diest are the Martyred dead who lie in holy graves for Freedom won. Whose storied deeds shall never die. While coming years their circles run, Our Father, all the praise be thine! Thy grace and goodness we adore! Bless our dear land with love divine, And shed thy peace from shore to shore. 6—Benediction.

The column will return to the village in the same order in which it marched to the Cemetery.

All old Soldiers and Sailors are especially invited to join the column with their old comrades, and all such are requested to report to the Commander at the time the column is formed.

Citizens are respectfully invited to join the column and continue with it till the return to the village.

The ladies are invited to contribute flowers arranged in wreaths and crosses, and leave them at H. G. Day's store.

Those who ride to the Cemetery are respectfully requested not to drive past the column when on the march. The Column will halt once or twice, when those who wish can drive past.

INTERESTING TO HORSEMEN. Below we give a list of stock horses kept in this vicinity, all of which have proved excellent colts:

The Old Morgan Horse "Vermont" and a son, will make the season at the stable of the owner, J. H. Peters, Esq., in this village. "British Lion," owned by O. Y. Diekey, West Corinth, will stand on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the proprietor's stable; on Tuesday at Washington Flats; and on Saturday at East Corinth.

"Young St. Lawrence" will stand at the Ed. Underhill Stable in Piermont every week day but Mondays. J. S. Chapman's "Pilot Boy" may be found Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, at the proprietor's stable in Corinth; and on Wednesdays and Thursdays at the stable of George Church in Vershire.

Moulton Bros., three well known trotting Stallions, "Hambletonian Monarch," "Don Giovanni" and "Portland," will make the season of 1874 at the Green Mountain Stock Farm, West Randolph.

WEST TOPSHAM. E. M. Collins has gone on the road for Field & Co. of Montpelier, wholesale dealers in corn, flour, and groceries. Mr. Collins is a courteous, affable gentleman with whom it is a pleasure to deal.

John Bailey, Jr., assignee of the late firm of Tabor & Collins, made a dividend last week of 27 per cent.

WEST NEWBURY. The Frenchman who killed the woodchuck in Mr. Carleton's yard, had better look for a woodchuck's hole to crawl into, if he cannot tell a tame woodchuck from a wild one.

A Connecticut man, whose son was ill, appealed to the physician: "Do bring him out of it right away, doctor; do break up the fever at once, even if you charge as much as if he went through a whole course of fever."

EAST CORINTH. Rowland and Rogers not having had very good luck killing foxes, have commenced killing trout. Their first visit among them this season proves them to be experts at the business. They caught 18 pounds in 4 hours, in Waits River, weighing on an average one half pound each, and Rogers says it was not much of a day for trout either.

Geo. Way has returned from the "Hub" with a large stock of new goods, and will sell as cheap as the cheapest.

One of George Prescott's best stage horses broke a leg in the stall last week.

S. Thompson's new tin shop is being rapidly constructed; he intends to have it in running order July 1st.

It has been proposed to have a guide board at the foot of Muzzy's hill for the benefit of two fellows that came out from Bradford one day last week.

A young ambitious Peachamite, anxious to secure a few trout out of Waits River, got into poish on Capt. Smith's bridge, and commenced the cruel sport of killing the beautiful trout that that River abounds in. But by some unlucky movement he lost his balance and splashed head foremost into the surging, rolling waters, but being a good swimmer, he came out a wiser and it is hoped a better fisherman.

LYME. The oldest plowing team in this town capable of doing a smart business, might have been seen in operation on the Meach Marshall farm last Tuesday.

The combined ages of the teamster, horse and plow was 165 years. Mr. Marshall, teamster, 83 years; one horse 29 years; one horse 23 years old; plow 30 years old—all in good working order.

Mr. Editor: A Lyme correspondent mentions the probable expediency of returning to the old way, because some dislike the one service system for the Sabbath. We would like to ask, what good a second sermon does those who are not present to hear it? Also, if there is a return, if those strenuous for it will always be present to hear both sermons, and at the prayer-meeting, unless they have a reason which would be deemed sufficient to excuse the pastor in the same circumstances from attendance? Will they agree to treasure up and digest both sermons, to make them a controlling stimulus to better living? Is it justifiable to burden ministers so heavily, for the simple convenience of the people, to accommodate half-day church-goers, some preferring to attend in the morning and others in the afternoon?

These queries have suggested themselves, for the fact sometimes comes out, that some most clamorous for two sermons, seem not to be over and above particular about hearing on the average one a Sabbath, nor any too earnest to practice the counsels of that. We presume, however, this may not be true of any of the good people of Lyme.

NEWBURY. The closing entertainment by the singing school, under the direction of Prof. Whitney last Saturday eve was a success.

The Hotel and Springs are receiving applications for summer boarders. Prospects are they will soon be well filled.

WAITS RIVER. Daniel Miller has sold his farm to John Sawyer of East Corinth, for $2000. Mr. Miller moves to East Orange.

The school in Thayer's district commenced Monday of this week, under the instruction of Miss Ada Noyes. We congratulate our committee upon being so fortunate as to secure the services of this reliable teacher.

VERSHIRE. The ladies who are friends and acquaintances of Lauriston Church and wife, recently burned out, have collected a liberal donation of clothing and necessary articles, to help the sick wife along.

The Brook road school district have located their new school house on the site of the barn which belonged to the store that was burned a year ago, the barn having been removed and converted into a new store. The town's people have subscribed generously for a free hall, to be built with the school house as an upper story.

Geo. Fletcher has moved his Tailor's shop from West Fairlee to rooms over Smith Ely's store.

WEST RANDOLPH. The exercises of Decoration Day at the Center Village will take place at 10 A. M., and at the West Village at 2 P. M. Col. Mead will make some remarks at the Center, and Gen. S. Thomas, of Montpelier, will deliver an oration at the West Village in the afternoon. The services of the Band have been secured for the day.

EAST RANDOLPH. The Orange County Good Templar's Union held its quarterly session at East Randolph, Vt., May 27, 1874.

CHELSEA. The June term commences Tuesday, June 2. Hon. Asabel Peck is presiding judge, assisted by Hon. A. E. Kinney, and Wm. H. Nichols. L. G. Hinckley is Clerk, and J. Q. A. Bass, Sheriff. The Court docket numbers 257 cases, while 45 cases appear upon the Chancery docket. This Court is held in a busy season of the year, and the farmers who chance to be drawn as jurymen will not particularly desire a long term of office.

ORFORD. Your "Clericus" correspondent makes some singular questions in regard to the Tabernacle, as exemplified by beautiful drawings at our last monthly Sunday School concert. In regard to the first question our leader said "they stole the gold," I objected to "stole" for they only received pay in a certain sense, Ex. 3: 22.

2d question—It is hard to tell how many skins it took to cover the Tabernacle, neither does it matter, suffice it to say, the Lord was at the head of affairs. "They took unto them such things as they required," Ex. 12: 36 (in kind or quantity) before they left Egypt.

3d question—I should answer the first part of the question, "The people brought much more than enough for the service of the work until they were restrained from bringing" Ex. 36: 5, and the last part of the question, by saying, "Them hath he filled with wisdom of heart to work all manner of work, of the engraving and of the cunning workman and of the embroiderer, in blue, purple and scarlet, and in fine linen and of the weaver, even of them that do any work, or of those that devise cunning work," Ex. 35: 35.

4th question—The whole Tabernacle was only 45x15 and the Holy of Holys was only a small part of that, not very large. But the "Occasion" for the structure "being so large," was "Look that thou make them after the pattern which was shown them in the Mount," Ex. 25: 40.

5th question—Thou must give us also sacrifices and burnt offerings * * * for therefore must we take to serve the Lord our God," Ex. 10: 25 and 26.

Your correspondent must have a very limited idea of the passage of the children of Israel through the wilderness, over 600,000 of them, and also a limited idea of its being God's work, and God at the head of affairs, gall-mighty, all-powerful.

We cannot but feel that our Sabbath School has a far more clear and concise view of the Tabernacle, its construction, its glory and its use, after the explanation by different members of the school as the drawings were exhibited.

LAYMAN.

The April prophecies of the summer weather, upon and after the first day of May, have not been found to fall out in fact; cold and storm, cloud and heaviness were ascribed to the eclipse, that over and all was to be as fair as blissful morn or dewy eve. Queries: What has become of all the prophets and what have eclipses to do with the summer? Alas! Alas!

Along the banks of the Connecticut are strips of intervals; how beautiful they look just now! The enraptured poet must have had some such in view, when he sang, "Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood, Stand dressed in living green."

Upon these meadows, the farmers are now at work, plowing and sowing, putting in their crops of all kinds; one is preparing for fifteen acres of corn.

Further down the river, land similar to this is used to some extent in the raising of tobacco. Queries. Is it right to appropriate "fields of living green," type of heaven, to the cultivation of a foul and filthy weed, and are they who cultivate it worse than they who buy, sell or use it?

To help in deciding these interrogatories, here is the Tobaccoist's Creed. "Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man. Nothing is unclean of itself; but to him that esteemeth anything unclean it is unclean." "Every creature of God is good and nothing to be refused." "Unto the pure all things are pure." "He which is filthy, let him be filthy still." 2d Peter, 1: 20; Rev. 22: 18-19

To learn where the gold for the Jewish tabernacle was dug, look at Ex. 35: 22. Query: Does this look as though women in that day were fond of nice jewelry? She seems to have had a plenty, yet parted with it willingly. CLERICUS.

ORFORDVILLE. On the morning of the 22d, in going to the village, Mr. Bradford Sargent met with an unfortunate accident. He had a span of colts and had just crossed the Clover Mill Bridge, near the mill yard of B. F. Trussell, Esq., and in passing a peddler's cart one of the colts took fright and pushed the other one out of the road, by which means M. S. was thrown out among bushes and stones, seriously bruising his face and occasioning general lameness. The wonder is that the injury was not greater. Two boys with him escaped unhurt.
